The trade in foreign goods continues quiet. A few choice goods in dress fabrics sell at about late prices, but medium and low qualities are generally depressed, and sell at a concession. Plaids, velvets, ribbons and millinery goods generally sell at low prices. The importations for last week were $1,851,623, against $2,015,405 for the same period of last year.

REMARKS ABOUT BEEF CATTLE.

The total number this week, 7,196 head, compares with 5,820 head last week, and with 5,255 head, average per week last year, and with 6,004 for the corresponding week one year ago.

The number sold yesterday and to-day at the principal market, 3,200 head, compares with 2,723 head last week, and with 3,059 head, the average per week last year, and with 4,386 head at market one year ago.

THE MARKET AT HUDSON CITY.

HUDSON CITY, Nov. 9.—We find 3,136 cattle on the yard books received so far this week, with 300 head on the road and expected to-morrow. The majority of those so far received have been sold, but trade is extremely dull to-day, and prices are now $4 to $5 per head lower than this day week. Sales were quite brisk Wednesday at about the old rates, but have been running down ever since. The dead-meat markets fairly groan beneath their heavy stock, and the warm weather threatening rain, is unfavorable for free transactions. The poultry and fish markets too are overstocked, which injures the meat trade. Cheap pork also has the influence, and taking them altogether it was caused the hardest week so far in the cattle trade. Dealers see nothing encouraging ahead, so do not feel like holding on to the stock, but hitherto will only take it at considerably reduced figures. They are getting good killing steers at 11@15c., and the very best on sale, fat Kentucky and State cattle, are not bringing over 16c., except in a few rare cases. Most sales are made at 13@15c., and owners are losing heavily; all the way from $5 to $15 per head on droves bought at the West. Most of the stock received at these yards comes over the Erie road, and drovers generally have little cause to complain of their treatment or accommodations. They wish, however, to protest against being crowded into "Cabooses" No. 20,340, one of "the old cattle cars, which besides being unfit to ride in, is really unsafe, the swaying top threatening to fall on upon the occupants, only a portion of whom could find sitting room upon the rickety seats. After standing all night in a car the jolting of which threatened to pack the drovers through the roof, they are poorly prepared for business the next day. If course the Company only needs attention drawn to such wrongs to right them.

THE MARKET AT ONE-HUNDREDTH-ST.

We are greeted with a magnificent opinion to-day, in our walks and talks among the drovers who own the 1,038 head of bullocks in the National Cattle Yards, that owners never sold stock of all kinds at greater losses. We are well assured that cattle are selling at less than they cost in Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana or Ohio. Several different drovers are selling at these rates. A lot of cattle bought in Albany last Spring and paid for in 7.30 bonds at par, ground in Dutchess County, have sold at $10 a head less than first cost. A lot of well fed Connecticut cattle, bought of the Hon. Aaron Seeley, Danbury, Conn., a few weeks since, lost over $10 each. We hear of one pair of Connecticut oxen, sold at $50 below cost. No fair sales have been made to-day at over 16c. ℔ lb. net, and owners of some of the best stock in market have offered to put it on the scales at that price, 60 lb ℔ cwt. We know from personal observation that good fair quality Illinois and other Western steers have sold at 16c. ℔ lb, and the average of the market is below that, notwithstanding the quality is generally good, and but few really inferior sorts to bring down the average. Some have sold as high as 9c., and a good many from that to 12c., of good fair quality for packing-beef. The weather to-day is warm as Summer—the wholesale butchers reluctant to take hold except at more than ¾ cent below the same grade last week. Hence the market has been dull and dry, with many cattle for sale in the afternoon, and little probability of all being sold to-day. A few drovers, who appreciated the condition of things early in the day, ordered their brokers to "sell out at any rate." It now appears that they were the wisest and luckiest, for the business of the day closes, as might be expected, with over 7,000 head of cattle on sale this week, and with the price of all kinds of meats down to a lower point in the wholesale and retail markets than we have seen at any time before in 1866. "The cattle market is broken down—it cannot recover again." These words were heard upon every hand. It is a great pity it had not broken down last Spring. It would have been better for all parties if it had. There was no reason why prices should have been kept up as they have through the Summer, unless it is reasonable that speculators and sharpers should have a chance to get out and leave farmers to suffer the losses sure to fall upon somebody, when the crash came.

The break down upon hogs is even worse than beef cattle. It is natural that they should follow. Sheep too are down so low that good mutton sold Saturday at 7½@8c. ℔ lb, and Monday at 12@15c., and this tends to bring down the price of cattle to-day. We have heard of but one drover who will come out even. He bought his cattle in Ohio at 6c. ℔ lb, and expected merely to make $1,000. It was the lowest price of any good drove this year. He finds, by close calculation, that he will have just $5 which he gets home, to pay him for all his time, trouble, risk, and use of money. The slightest accident or bad luck in any stage of the business, would have left him a loser, notwithstanding it was said that he had "robbed the man of whom he bought the cattle." His case illustrates the condition of the cattle market to-day. A drover, who, satisfied the "market was getting no better very fast," telegraphed from Pennsylvania to have his cattle sold, but through carelessness on the part of the Company the dispatch was filed instead of being sent. He now intends to hold the Company responsible for the loss sustained.

E. Loughman, for D. Vance, 32 Ohio steers, a good nice lot, 7 cwt., sold at 14½c. average.

MILCH COWS.—These are selling slower this week, though not much lower, as they cost too much in the country to admit of much reduction here without a loss, and there are not enough offering just now to induce owners to sacrifice on them. We have seldom seen so great a disproportion between the price of beef, including dry cows and milkers. A dry cow has to be in good flesh to bring 12c. ℔ lb for the beef, and as most of them will only dress 50@[illegible] cwt., it brings the majority at $30@$45 each, while nothing that can be ranked as fair, if fresh, is offered at less than $50, and if good, the price is $100@$110, though several have been sold at $125@$140 each, calves included. There is a fair demand for springers at $60@$65 each. The tendency of the market is toward lower figures.

VEAL CALVES.—The small number of Calves offered for sale above prevented prices from going down. As it is, they are weaker, with no perceptible decline, only it is more difficult to get top prices. Few Veals bring over 12c. per lb., live weight, though an extra Fat Calf is sometimes sold at 13½c. and even 14c. The majority bring 11@12c., with some poor ones sold as low as 9c.

THE SHEEP MARKET.

Receipts this week, 27,429.

QUOTATIONS.—The following reports of sales of sheep and lambs, by several of the sheep-brokers, who sell on commission, will give the average of prices per head this week. They are quoted ℔ lb, live weight, for Sheep, Sucks., Lambs, 7@8½c.

With a falling off of more than 5,000 head, compared with the previous week, sheep have been doing a little better, but trade is heavy to-day, with large numbers on the market. A few extra sheep have been sold at 7c., while 20 very fine State sheep of 115 lb. sent in by E. F. Sherman, brought 7½c. Accompanying these were 313 lambs from the same feeder, which brought 9c. per head, or 9½ ℔ lb. These were extreme prices for extra fat stock. Mr. H. Hurst of Cayuga County, this State, sent in 196 good, fine wool sheep, of about 80 lb, which brought 7c. Opposed to these were large numbers of thin sheep, which were sold, some of them for stores, at 5@6c. A fine lot of 357 Delaware Co. lambs, 65 lb each, were sold by A. Bristol, about half of them at 8c., the others at 8½c. ℔ lb. Butchers all complain of slow sales of meat, and it is very certain that Washington Market has been loaded down with carcasses, and that pretty good mutton was sold on Saturday at 7@8c., though it cost much more than that. With so largely an overstocked beef and pork market, owners of sheep have very little to encourage them.

THE SWINE MARKET AT FORTIETH-ST.

Receipts by railroads, to wit: Hudson River Railroad, 3,501; Erie Railroad, 3,201; New-Jersey Central Railroad, 5,567. Total, 12,232.

There has been a perfect panic in the Hog market the past week. Although the receipts were comparatively light, prices declined heavily every day, with no life and activity in the market, buyers generally holding back for still lower figures, and they succeeded in depressing prices at least 2c. ℔ lb during the week. There were 50 cars on the market at Fortieth-st. to-day, about two-thirds of which were disposed of at 7¾@7½c. for ordinary to good Western, 7½c. for some extra lots and 8@8½c. for light fat Pigs.

We extract the following from the Cincinnati Circular of G. W. Phillips, dated Nov. 9: "The Hog and Provision market continues to decline daily, and it is not only panicky, but somewhat demoralized. The feeling is that large losses have been made during the past two years, and operators don't seem disposed to work a third season without some show of profit, and the consequence is that prices, not only of the hog, but of all its products, have materially declined, and the tendency is still downward, but there is a stopping point, which no doubt will be reached soon, perhaps as soon as the weather becomes right for active cutting, and then, if ever, this season will be the time to begin, for when it starts in earnest, it will not stop till the close, inasmuch as all will be interested. The market to-day is in a very unsettled condition; neither buyers nor sellers know what to do. Hogs are selling at $6 50@7 gross, for the best, with fair receipts."
