The foreign goods trade is dull. Jobbers are anxious to reduce stocks of dress goods, and buy from importers sparingly.

REMARKS ABOUT BEEF CATTLE

The total number this week, 6,041 head, compares with 6,106 head last week, and with 5,235 head, average per week last year, and with 4,994 for the corresponding week one year ago. The number sold yesterday and to-day at the One-hundredth-st. market, 2,990 head, compares with 2,900 head last week, and with 3,659 head, the average per week last year, and with 3,178 head at market one year ago.

THE MARKET AT HUDSON CITY.

HUDSON CITY, Nov. 23.—The arrivals of beef cattle so far are 2,790 head at this place, with several car loads at Communipaw. There is not quite that depressed feeling of last week, and yet we can scarcely report any improvement. The weather has been and still continues favorable, with hard rain this morning, and the markets are full of dead meat and poultry. This state of things is not calculated to put butchers in a buying humor; still, under the impression that the tide has reached its hight, and that the receipts will now gradually fall off, the wholesale butchers took most of the cattle at 12@14c. ⅌ lb. Drovers still complain of losing the freight, and some of them say they will have to "draw upon home" for money to get back with. A few of the best cattle—only good, not extra—brought 15c., and some of the thin droves were sold at less than 12c. The Alexander cattle, 700 in number, 626½ cwt., averaged 12c., while some bulls, cows and heifers were sold at 10@11c. The receipts are nearly 1,000 less than last week, and if the falling off at the other markets is correspondingly great, prices must soon advance again.

THE MARKET AT ONE HUNDREDTH-ST.

There are 2,913 head of bullocks in market to-day, of a rather better average quality than last Monday, and scarcely any difference in prices, except there are none poor enough to run as low as last week. The range is 11@17c. ⅌ lb., and only a few very extra good quality at the top price. Real first-class Western cattle sell at 15@16c. ⅌ lb. One very large lot of medium Illinois steers sold at Bergen at an average of 12c. We think the price here to-day rather better than that, but is not much. If any, better than last Monday, and in the afternoon the trade in that kind of stock was extremely dull, and looked as though all on hand might not be sold without a considerable reduction. The weather was magnificent, and that helped trade, being dry and sunny, yet cold enough to cost pouds with ice. The reason trade dragged was undoubtedly owing to the large supply of the week—a week, too, that is given to poultry eating. Wholesale buyers have such an opportunity to obtain stock at Hudson City and other places that they are not as anxious to lay in a large supply. It is also intended to open this market in future on Thursday and Friday, to sell a few cattle to those who rather come here than go to Jersey. The great sale day, however, will still remain on Monday. It is expected by the proprietors of this market that the new hotel, now almost completed, will add something to the attractions of the place, particularly for butchers to drive out here, as they do at Brighton, near Boston. The accommodations are laid out upon the same grand scale—an immense house and great sheds and stables for horses. On this account, a Thursday market here will be more convenient for up-town butchers than upon the other side of the Hudson.

MILCH COWS—The fresh cow trade continues dull, and now is a bad time to send or bring them in from the country. It costs a great deal to keep a cow in the city at the present time, and the market is so slow it is not likely a cow will sell as soon as brought in. The expense of keeping is so great that those holding them soon become anxious and often sell to dealers who work more for their own interests than for outsiders, whom they regard as interlopers. Cows are worth as much in the country as they are bringing here—indeed we hear of sales to the milkmen of Long Island and Westchester County at higher prices than could be realized in this market. A few good cows still sell at $90@$100, and occasionally more, but the majority go off at $70@$80 with some as low as $50. Only 57 have been received for the week.

VEAL CALVES—There is a gradual falling off in numbers, as usual at this season of the year, and of those sent in many are large and coarse Grass Calves, some of them kept past the usual age for selling, with the idea of wintering over; but come to put them up to feed, with the high price of hay and everything else a calf needs, especially Indian meal, the owners are alarmed at the cost of keeping and hurry them off to market. Such Calves bring $12@$18 each, the latter price for large, fat Calves. Prime Veals go off readily at 12@13c. per lb, live weight—a few of the pick at 13½c. The majority run from 11c. to 12c., with some at 9@10c., but these are small and poor.

THE SHEEP MARKET.

Receipts this week, 28,109.

QUOTATIONS.—The following reports of sales of sheep and lambs, by several of the sheep-brokers, who sell on commission, will give the average of prices per head this week. They are quoted ⅌ lb, live weight, for Sheep, 5½@6½c., Lambs, 6½@8½c.

The sheep market has been fully supplied this week, indeed on Wednesday and Thursday it was so full that prices gave way. To-day, with 2,800 head at Browning's, prices have rallied, and stock goes off quicker at 5¾@6½c. ⅌ lb, live weight; lambs 7@8c. There was a lot of long-wool Kentucky sheep in market, which averaged 110 lb, and sold at 7½c. ⅌ lb. The fine weather helps the sheep market, as owners of meat are easy about sales. A lot of extra Ohio sheep, average 97 lb, sold at 6½c. ⅌ lb. Drovers are in decidedly better spirits to-day. We again urge farmers to feed their stock for Spring, rather than send them here and get only 5@5½c. ⅌ lb for them. Though feed is high, fat sheep will be still higher in the Spring, if they are not immediately after the holidays.

THE SWINE MARKET.

Receipts at Fortieth-st., by railroads, to wit: Hudson River Railroad, 1,686; Erie Railroad, 4,865; New-Jersey Central Railroad, 1,137. Total, 7,688.

Owing to the very light receipts during the week, (the arrivals at Fortieth-st., being only about half the number of the previous week), the price of Hogs has advanced fully 2c. ⅌ lb, but there is nothing to sustain these extreme rates but the scarcity. There is no doubt that as soon as Hogs arrive more freely, prices will have to go lower, as buyers show very little disposition, even with the few Hogs on the market, to purchase at these figures, the principal portion being taken for the retail trade. There were seven cars on the market this morning, and they were all disposed of at 9¾ to 9¾c. for ordinary to good Western, and 9¾ to 9¾c. for light Pigs.
