DON'T FORGET THE YOUNG FOLKS!

REMARKABLE AND BEAUTIFUL TOY FOR CHILDREN.

THE MAGIC WHEEL.

Nos. 1 and 2 now ready. Price (no. 1) $1 50.

From the Commercial Advertiser, Oct. 30: "It is one of the most amusing things of the kind ever invented. By looking through perforations in the disc of the Magic Wheel, while it is revolving, very simple pictures on circular pieces of pasteboard are seen, by the aid of a mirror, to assume the shape of dwarfs and moving creatures, and to perform the most wonderful antics. The novelty is, that the illusion is produced with equal power upon people, white children, without knowing into the ways and wherefores, are delighted with the performances of the Magic Wheel."

THE BOOK OF NONSENSE.

By Edward Lear. A new edition is now ready. One volume. Price, $1 50.

HOLIDAY BOOKS,

Published by

ALEXANDER STRAHAN & Co.,

No. 139 GRAND-ST.

In large 4to, price $6 cloth extra, gilt edges. MILLAIS'S ILLUSTRATIONS. A collection of Drawings on Wood. By John Everett Millais, R. A.

"Of all the among Christmas Books deserves to be named Mr. Millais's 'Collected Illustrations.' Mr. Millais has qualities as an artist worthy of his authors can stand a comparison. What these qualities are may be inferred from the fact that here are fifty best illustrations collected together, return to from the text to which they belonged. They show works of art that would be letterpress—so eminently they speak for themselves, and have an interest by themselves. They are, in many, extraordinary power, and some of them are in their way quite perfect."—[London Times.

In small 4to, with 70 illustrations, extra cloth, gilt edges, price $3 50.

EASTWARD. By Norman Macleod, D. D.

"This is the most enjoyable book on the Holy Land we have ever read."—[Nonconformist.

"We have derived much pleasure from the perusal of a narrative which is at times as serious as a minister can make anything, and occasionally as amusing as a genuine humorist can really be. Were we to search the country, we doubt whether such a genial traveling companion as Dr. Macleod could be found, and many will delight to travel 'Eastward' with him."—[The Scotsman.

"The general reader will probably learn more from Dr. Macleod's mere of describing than he will from any more pretentious explanation and conclusions of the scientific prose."—[Press.

"Dr. Macleod's account of his travels is both entertaining and instructive."—[The Ob.

STUDIES FROM STORIES. By Jean Ingelow. With Illustrations by J. E. Millais and others. Very fine cloth, gilt. Price $7 75.

"Miss Jean Ingelow has into a style of the honor of a new edition of her delightful book 'Studies from Stories,' with a number of designs by J. E. Millais and other prominent English artists. Two of the Millais drawings, one illustrating the story of 'The Cumberers,' a young woman sitting in a pensive study on a staircase, and the other illustrating 'The Stolen Treasure' a beautiful girl carrying a young child piggyback, are in the best vein of this powerful but eccentric artist. Miss Ingelow's volume, which is the best prose work that she has published, is published in this country by Mr. Alexander Strahan."—[The Round Table.

THE POSTMAN'S BAG. A Story Book for Boys and Girls. By the Rev. John De Liefde. With 16 Full-Page Illustrations. Extra cloth, gilt edges. Price $1 50.

"John De Liefde is a man whom to know is to admire and love. This little volume is like the writer—simple, earnest and Christian. We know several little children who are never weary of these little stories, and we are sure they can learn from them nothing but what is good."—[London Review.

In Crown 8vo., Turkish Morocco, gilt edges. Price $5.

THE JOURNAL OF EUGENE DRGUERIN. Edited by G. S. Trebutien.

"We know of nothing in modern literature more cheering in its simplicity and tender grace than this record of daily life."—[The Princeton Review.

Uniform in size and price—

THE LETTERS OF EUGENE DRGUERIN.

Matthew Arnold, referring to the French editing says: "1865 has produced one good book—that is Eugene De Guerin's Letters."

In crown 8vo., extra gilt, with 64 illustrations. Price $2.

THE MAGIC MIRROR. A Round of Tales for Old and Young. By William Gilbert.

"We call it unique, for we know of nothing exactly like it in English literature. Hawthorne might have written it."—[The Round Table.

In square 8vo., gilt top. Price $2.

THE PARABLES OF OUR LORD—By THOMAS GUTHRIE, D. D. With Illustrations by J. E. Millais. In Post 8vo., cloth, price $3.

SERMONS AND EXPOSITIONS—By the late JOHN ROBERTSON, D. D., Glasgow Cathedral.

"Dr. Robertson had not a superior among the Scotch clergy; for manly grace of mind, for pith and point in treating his subject, he had hardly an equal. Let it be added that a more truly Christian, liberal-minded and honest man never walked this earth."—[Fraser's Magazine.

READY THIS MORNING!

The sixth edition of the much talked of DEAD LETTER.

which has commanded more notice and created more remark than any work of fiction produced in America since Mrs. Stowe's "Dred." Of over three hundred notices by the leading papers, we may quote:

"It is one of those stories that literally absorbs all the powers and passions of the reader. Differently from the "Anatomy of Melancholy," which Dr. Johnson said took him out of bed an hour before he wanted to rise, this will not allow the reader to sleep till he has finished it."—[Brattleboro (Vt.) Record.

"It is conceded, we believe, to be one of the most powerful and beautifully written romances yet produced in America."—[Westchester (Pa.) Record.

"It is one to take rank with Wilkie Collins-ish, and its plot very ingenious and puzzling."—[Lyons (N. Y.) Republican.

"An extraordinary production by an extraordinary mind."—[Mahoning City (Pa.) Gazette.

"Has attracted much attention on account of its exciting plot."—[Belfast (Me.) Age.

"We have no hesitation in pronouncing it a powerful story."—[Norfolk (Va.) Post.

"A story of a very high order."—[Fredericksburg (Va.) Herald.

"A very fascinating story."—[Schenectady (N. Y.) Republican.

"One of the most interesting novels we have ever read."—[Wilkesbarre (Pa.) Record.

"A truly fascinating story."—[Clinton (Mass.) Courant.

"A story of great interest and power."—[Barnstable (Mass.) Patriot.

"The author certainly has achieved a remarkable success, and arrested the attention of DISCRIMINATING READERS to a rare degree. All in quest of what IS original should read the 'VERY STRANGE STORY.'"

Illus., 300 pages, with 6 full page illustrations, from designs by Geo. G. White, printed on plate paper. Price $1 50.
