Valuable Foundery Property
AND
REAL ESTATE, BY AUCTION.
Will be sold on the premises in Worcester, Mass., on WEDNESDAY, July 21, 1869, at 11 o'clock a. m., the FOUNDERY and LAND adjoining, belonging to the Earle Stove Company.
The Foundery is situated on the corner of Gold and South Bridge-sts., near the railroad junctions, and on the line of and adjoining the Providence and Worcester, and Boston and Albany Railroads. The Main Building is 65 by 100 feet, 4 stories high, is nearly new, and was built in the most thorough and substantial manner, with brick walls and slated roof—is heavily timbered, and is supplied throughout with gas and city water. The Foundery is 60 by 200 feet, one story high, and is also of brick with slated roof, and joins the main building. It is well lighted and ventilated.
The machinery which will be sold with the said property consists in part of a 20-horse power Putnam Steam Engine, in perfect order; a new 50-horse power tubular Boiler, with a new Sturtevant Blower; a six-ton Mackenzie Cupola, and all the Shafting and other appurtenants of a first-class foundery, in perfect and complete running order.
The street facilities for receiving and discharging freight are not equaled by any establishment of the kind in New-England, having a railway to the doors of the Foundery, which gives connection with all the railroads leading in and out of Worcester, and makes it admirably adapted to be used as a foundery, machine shop, planing mill, or factory of any kind.
The land adjoining the buildings consists of a lot 84 by 100 feet, with a frontage of 84 feet on the railroad; and also a lot on Gold-st., about 180 by 300 feet, which could be used either in connection with the Foundery or separately for a factory, shop, or house lots.
For further particulars apply to ISAAC N. ROSS or CHARLES WOOD, Worcester, Mass.
By order of the Directors,
ISAAC N. ROSS, President.
