LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

FRIDAY, April 1.—The run of live stock is light this week, numbering, including the arrivals Sunday and up to to-night, 5,987 Cattle, 13,617 Sheep, and 8,849 Hogs. The Cattle trade is somewhat lively, all of the 40 cars at Communipaw selling off early, with a brisk competition, and prices rather stronger than on Monday, but the quality was from inferior to medium, with a few single good, but not prime, Cattle. The range was from 14 to 16½c., as follows:

Beach & Bray, for themselves, 110 Illinois steers, fairish, 7¼ cwt., at 14@15½c. Mr. Beach was gladly welcomed back, after an absence of several months on account of an injury caused by being thrown from a wagon.

The above make 1,287 cattle on the market to-day, including a few sales yesterday.

Sheep move slowly at the extreme rates to which they have been shoved. There were 16 cars, or 3,189 head, arrived to-day—8 cars at Communipaw, 5 cars at Weehawken, and 3 cars at Forty-eighth-st. Prices are without change, varying from 6c. for some very poor 65 lb sheep, up to 8½c. for those weighing 93½ lb. The first sheep of the season, by boat from Albany, arrived at Forty-eighth-st. to-day, and were sold by J. FAMILY MARKETS.

OR LIVING EXPENSES IN NEW-YORK.

FRIDAY, April 1, 1870.

This being "All Fools' Day," many customers were sent from stand to stand in expectation of finding green peas, asparagus, or something the market did not contain, and sundry families received a basket of stones in place of meat or vegetables. In the absence of other trade, the "boys" were disposed to deal in jokes. The scarcity of mutton continues to be felt, and in its place the common people take to "small veal" as the cheapest substitute. Common veal is plenty and cheap. So much of the "kitten" variety has been taken by the police that there is less danger of buying veal of a few days old, but there is plenty left that will be very tender when cooked. Judgment is needed in making purchases. Eggs are tending downward again, some dealers offering 10 for 25c. New butter of poor quality is selling at 30@40c. ⅌ lb. It will largely take the place of old in about a fortnight. Another carload of California salmon has arrived, and more is on the way, showing that a regular fish trade has sprung up between New-York and San Francisco. Wild pigeons are higher, in consequence of lighter arrivals. Wild ducks have scarcely any fixed value, many of them being in poor condition. Sugars are still lower, dark selling at 10c., and white at 16c. for 7 lb. Shad are also declining, most of them coming from Norfolk, with some arrivals from the Delaware River. Spinach is scarce and high again. We quote:
