THE COURTS.

FOSTER'S TRIAL—ADMISSION OF SPECTATORS.

The trial of William Foster for the murder of Avery D. Putnam is set down for to-day in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge Cardozo. It is possible that it may be postponed, as ex-Judge Stuart, Foster's counsel, is suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia, and no associate counsel has yet been retained. Under the direction of Judge Cardozo preparations have been made by Jacob F. Valentine, the chief officer of the Court, to prevent uncomfortable crowding in the court-room. The first day no persons but Judges, counsel, jurymen, and reporters will be admitted under any circumstances, and the reporters will have to be well provided with credentials to obtain admission. The second day only enough spectators to fill the seats will be admitted.

THE McCAHILL WILL CASE.

Surrogate Hutchings listened, yesterday, to additional testimony in the Bryan McCahill will case. Dr. Mark Blumenthal said he had often been called by order of the Court to examine cases of insanity and intemperance. In his opinion, the continued and excessive use of ardent spirits incapacitated a man for exercising the sound and normal functions of his brain. Softening of the brain was indicated by loss of power in the limbs, incoherency of mind, loss of appetite, and general apathy. There was also another form in which the brain was excessively excited and irritable, and the person imagined he saw sights and visions which did not exist. Drops would sometimes make a man walk with a shuffling gait. Experience taught that the excitement produced by delirium tremens required a great deal of opium to reduce it. Intoxicating liquors affected persons differently. Some kept themselves soaked all the time, and yet were apparently in good business condition. Dr. Stephen Rogers said he had known persons who had been for some time in a demented condition to recover their mental powers just before death, so as to be able to recognize their friends. John Willoby, the barkeeper at Carroll's, said he had often seen the deceased under the influence of liquor, and that Brady frequently assisted him home when in that condition; when sober, he appeared rational, and was anxious to hear the news. This closed the case for the contestants. The proponents will be heard to-day.

A QUESTION OF BANK RESPONSIBILITY.

Emil Justh and others sue the National Bank of the Commonwealth to recover payment of $40,000. In December, 1869, the plaintiffs, who are bankers, drew two checks, one for $30,000 and the other for $10,000, on the National Bank of the Commonwealth, to the order of William A. Gray & Co., receiving security therefor in what purported to be United States 5-20 bonds, State Bounty Loan bonds, and New-York State Stock bonds. Subsequently it was ascertained that some of the bonds were stolen, some altered from a small to a large denomination, and others forged. The complaint sets up a knowledge of the worthless character of the security on the part of the defendants, and shows that Gray, being largely indebted to the bank, which held these securities from Gray & Co., got them back to raise money on them, and that the money thus raised was used to cancel Gray & Co.'s indebtedness to the bank. The plaintiffs say that they offered to return the security, and demanded a repayment of the $40,000, with interest, which was refused, and they accordingly sue to compel such payment. The defense is a general denial. Judge Monell non-suited the plaintiffs on the ground that the bank was no party to the transaction.

THE OLD COLONY CRUELTY CASE AGAIN.

In the United States Circuit Court, yesterday, in the suit for damages of Raymond Rau agt. Capt. Grindle of the ship Old Colony, begun by a capias, a motion for discharge of the defendant from arrest was made on the following grounds:

First: The affidavit upon which the capias was based does not show jurisdiction in the Court granting it, because it does not appear therefrom that the parties to the suit are subjects or citizens of different states or nations. Seconds: The defendant was arrested in Brooklyn without regular process. Third: The bail ($10,000) is oppressive.

In another suit of the same nature between the same parties, in which the defendant was held to bail in $10,000, a motion was also made to discharge him from arrest on the same grounds, "and the further one that the cause of action in this suit is merely splitting up the one general cause of action." In both cases additional affidavits were presented showing that the citizenship of the respective parties is in different nations. It was claimed on the part of the defense that proofs of citizenship subsequent to the arrest on the capias did not confer jurisdiction on the Court. Judge Benedict reserved his decision.

DECISION AGAINST A GOVERNMENT CONTRACTOR.

In the case of the United States agt. Wm. Porter, tried, yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, the Government claimed that Porter contracted to furnish the Navy-Yard at Brooklyn with 5,000 yards of Barnsley sheeting at 74 89-100 cents per yard; that he failed to fulfill his contract, and that the Government was, therefore, obliged to purchase 5,000 yards of sheeting at 92 cents per yard, expending $853 50 more than it would have expended had Porter fulfilled his contract. The action in the case was brought to recover this amount. It was claimed by the defense that Porter, before he received official notice of the acceptance of his contract, discovered that he had made a mistake, and had agreed to furnish the sheeting far below the market price; that he, therefore, gave notice to the Government of the withdrawal of his contract, and that such notice was a legal withdrawal of it. The jury found a verdict for the Government for the amount claimed, upon the ground that Porter did not withdraw his contract before he received official notice of its acceptance.

CIVIL NOTES.

In the suit of John Graham agt. Abica A. Belcher, argued on appeal before the Supreme Court General Term, the judgment of the lower Court has been affirmed.

In the collision case of the New-Jersey Lighter Company, the owner of the lighter Una agt. Edward M. Jansen, the master of the bark Elizabeth, tried yesterday in the United States District Court, Judge Blatchford reserved his decision....In the breach of charter case of Petrell agt. Baltjier, an interlocutory decree was taken with reference to a Commissioner to ascertain damages....The collision case of Taylor agt. the schooner Hasbrouck then came on for trial, and will probably be finished to-day.

Anderson, a dry goods merchant at Broadway and Worthen-st., charged with perjury in testifying that Timothy Sullivan, another dry goods merchant, removed a quantity of goods from his store for the benefit of one of his creditors to the prejudice of others, was heterodox discharged, yesterday, by Commissioner Osborn.

In the Court of General Sessions, before Judge Barrett, yesterday, Michael Harvin, charged with the murder of Patrick Walsh, was found guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and sentenced to four years' imprisonment at hard labor....Jean Baptiste Janetzel, a strolling Italian minstrel, was charged with stabbing another minstrel with a knife, but it proved to be a case of mistaken identity, and the prisoner was discharged.

At the Tombs Police Court Justice Dowling committed Edward Driscoll and John Clark, yesterday, for breaking into Christian Santter's beer saloon, No. 24 Elizabeth-st., and stealing a gun, a pistol and other articles—total value $40. The stolen property was found in Bayard-st., by Officer Barry of the Sixth Precinct, with the stolen property in their possession....Henry Hennessey, who beat John Harrington a few nights ago on the head with a beer glass, in a Chrystie-st. saloon, causing serious wounds, was released on $500 bail, yesterday. Harrington has been in the Park Hospital since the assault.
