LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 29.—BEEVES—Arrivals to-day, 39 cars at Communipaw and 6 at Weehawken. Other trains are kept back by the late snow storm, and those which did arrive came in so late in the day that most of them go over for to-morrow's market. Cattle are wanted, and had the stock been in early they might have exceeded the prices of Monday. Dressed beef was dull.

A SCENE.—The excitement among the sheep dealers and wholesale butchers was at fevermeat, though the day was the coldest of the season. A long sensational article in a city paper about diseased mutton was killing the trade, and the butchers were highly indignant, one man declaring that it had taken $500 out of his pocket. The real facts are that at this season of the year the Western farmer feeds more corn and less hay, and this is leading to the blood, showing itself in a restless condition of the animal, and sometimes amounting to mange. It is a skin disease, and the rubbing and biting sometimes robs the animal of part of its fleece. Possibly there is more of it this year than usual, owing to the high price of hay at the West. And yet we have very little of it here—that is, comparatively. When dressed, unless the disease has run some time, no difference can be detected in the meat, and, being a cutaneous affection, butchers assert that the mutton is not unwholesome. At least we have not heard a single instance of injury from eating mutton. We call the sheep sent to this market now as healthy as at any former year. Were stock is really affected with this disease it is sold much below the prices of good sheep. An examination of the books of the largest seller at Communipaw, Mr. J. N. Pidcock, showed that out of 23,324 sheep sold in January only two car loads were low-priced stock. They were small, but healthy fine wool Ohio sheep of 65@75 lb, sold at 4¼@4½c.; the rest ranged from 5¼ to 7½c., mostly at 7@7½c. Messrs. Lane & Co.'s books showed a range of 5¼@7½c. in January, and both protest against the imposition of selling diseased sheep at Communipaw, as they have a right to do.

One practice should be stopped at all the market-places, and that is sending ewes heavy with lamb here for mutton. It is not done to a large extent, as ewes in that condition are generally the ones wanted upon the farm; but sometimes they are mixed in with others, and find their way here. Dealers and butchers are united against the practice, and "lamby ewes" should be tabooed as are the "piggy sows."

Arrivals of sheep to-day, including those due in the afternoon, 9 cars at Fortieth-st. and 9 at Communipaw. They were mostly in too late for sale, but some of yesterday's stock was sold by Hume & Elliott, all Ohio—30 of 77 lb, at 6c.; 249 of 78½ to 81½lb, at 6@6¼c.; 155 coarse, 83½ lb, at 4½c.; 122 of 83 lb, at 5c.; 379 of 88 lb, at 7½c.; and 184 of 88 lb, at 7½c.

J. N. Pidcock sold 671 Ohio, 95 lb, at 7½c.

Judd & Buckingham sold 1 car Illinois, 79 lb, at 6c., and a car, 89 lb, at 6½c.

Lane, Hanver & Co., at Fortieth-st., 94 rough Illinois, 84 lb, at 5½c.

HOGS—Arrivals, all late, 22 cars at Fortieth-st., and 17 at Communipaw after 3,245 yesterday. The market is nearly unchanged. Sales alive, by Reid, at Fortieth-st., a car, 303 lb Ohio, at $5 30; a car, 215 lb, 5½c.; a car, 183 lb, at 5 7-16c., and 281 of 173 lb, at 5½c.
