SATURDAY, Sept. 6—P. M.

The week just drawn to close has been by far the most eventful and important of the Summer, particularly as to the closing days. The salient points have been the weakness of stock speculation, the new phase developed in gold, the dislocation and subsequent recovery of foreign exchange, the lowering of Government bonds, and the hardening tendency of money. Besides these the Geneva settlement has been finally consummated, so far, at least, as the movement of coin and bonds is concerned, the sum total of $8,191,419 54 having been paid in coin, and the remaining $7,808,580 46 in Five-Twenties, called, payable to-day. The foreign situation has been assuring all the week, except that in London money has become a little tighter, while France has settled her entire indemnity to Germany by the payment yesterday of the last installment of 250,000,000 francs. The chief center of attraction as furnishing the key to the future of legitimate business as well as speculation, has been the gold market, which was subjected to various influences in the rise in price from 115¼ to 116¼, and the subsequent decline to 112¾. Of course many theories are advanced to account for the sharp downward turn, but the reticence of the leading spirit in the enterprise admits of no positive method of ascertaining the cause of the unusual break. The immediate future of the market will doubtless solve the mystery. The cash gold has been as a rule heavy to carry, but in some cases a bonus has been exacted for use. We annex the range of the premium:

	Highest.	Lowest.		Highest.	Lowest.
Monday	116	115½	Thursday	115⅞	115⅝
Tuesday	116⅛	115¾	Friday	115½	114½
Wednesday	116⅛	115⅞	Saturday	114½	112⅞

Foreign exchange during the week has been fearfully demoralized, and under the heavy pressure of borrowed bills, sterling has sold down so low as for a time to give rise to some talk about importations of gold this way. So long as there was any danger of trouble in the cash gold deliveries, sterling was completely out of joint, but with easier terms for lending, and the sharp break in the price, rates rebounded, and all classes of bills became quick of sale at a reaction of pretty nearly one per cent as the two extremes of the week.

The movement in gold found its echo in money, rates on call loan having been forced up as high as 1-16 of one per cent bonus, at which many borrowers met their engagements even on pledge of stock collateral. The later stringency has checked dealings in commercial paper, and rates are nominal because buyers prefer to use their capital on call.

There has been another active business in cotton, and a further advance in the price, chiefly for reason set forth in our review of last Monday. The market closed on the basis of 19¼ cents for Low Middlings. The receipts at all the ports reached 8,856 bales, against 8,237 bales last week, 10,541 bales the previous week, and 10,581 bales for the week ending Aug. 9. The total receipts for the expired portion of the cotton year, Sept. 1, are 8,856 bales, against 13,554 bales the same time previous year, a decrease of 4,698 bales. The exports for the week were 4,962 bales, against 2,055 a year ago—an increase of 2,907 bales. The total stocks on hands are 75,017 bales, against 54,401 bales a year ago—an increase of 20,616 bales. The total stocks in the interior towns are 10,003 bales, against 4,764 bales same time last year, an increase of 5,239 bales. The total quantity of cotton in sight amounts to 2,027,559 bales, against 2,124,165 bales last year at the same time—a decrease of 96,645 bales. The weekly exports from the port of New-York amount to 3,603 bales, against 9,739 bales last week, a decrease of 6,136 bales.

Government bonds have followed the course of gold during the week, and prices have declined all over the list. Railroad bonds were firm and in demand. The Southern State bonds were nominal.

Affairs on the Stock Exchange on Monday were of a favorable character, and in the early part of that day a considerable advance was established. The unsteady course of money, however, caused great irregularity in the later dealings, and the uncertainty culminated on Friday in a serious break in some shares, the decline being shown in the tables below. It is a fact well worthy of attention that the favorites known to be backed by prominent parties did not move with the downward tendency of other stocks. The most prominent of this class of stocks were Lake Shore, New-York Central, Western Union, and Harlem, while on the opposite side Hannibal and St. Joseph, St. Paul, North-West, and Wabash were conspicuous for weakness and depression. The last-named moved up early in the week from 68½ to 70¼, owing to the efforts of parties controlling the greater portion of the stock, to create a belief that a contest was going on for the control of the next election. The effort failed, however, and a marked decline ensued. The infinitesimal dividend on Erie had no effect upon that stock, which has moved wholly in accord with the London market.

On Saturday the types made us say in this column that "the Stock, Money, and Gold markets were in a decidedly favorable condition from the opening to the close of business on Friday," when we wrote that they were feverish. The excitement and demoralization of to-day are the natural sequents of that condition. The transactions were on a scale of great magnitude—weakness and lower prices being the order of the day. The bank statement of course had a marked effect on the general speculation, but more or less hammering was doubtless done by those whose interests lie in the direction of lower prices, and who availed of the opportunity to make their power felt. In many cases the figures touched were the lowest for a long time past, the St. Paul shares, North-West, Wabash, Pacific Mail, Rock Island, and Western Union declining from 1 to 2½ per cent. Shortly before the close a desperate effort was made to produce a reaction, but with indifferent success. Investment shares were lower, in sympathy with the general market, express, and miscellaneous shares, showing no especial movement. What, with the close condition of money in the London market; the state of our city banks; the large outflow of currency, as indicated by the weekly statement; the reported existence of a powerful and daring bear clique in general stocks; the want of faith in the Treasury bookkeeping and the horse-jockey system of managing much of the corporate property in this country, it will be no wonder if the coming week should be as full of excitement as the liveliest stock speculator could desire. The opening, highest, lowest, and closing prices of stocks were:

The gold sales were at a further decline to-day, and, opening at 114½, receded, after occasional reactions, to 112¾, recovering late in the day to 113½, and closing at 113 to 113¼. A further reason may be found for the decline, in addition to the causes already mentioned, in the fact that the Treasury this morning commenced the redemption of the 5-20 bonds of 1862, called on the 6th day of June, the interest on which ceased to-day. We have heretofore explained the connection between this and the matter of the Geneva award. On gold loans the rates were 4, 5, 3, and 2 per cent for carrying to flat. This day was a holiday in London, and the Bourse was closed, but money is reported active in the outside market, with discounts of three months' bills at 3½ ⅌ cent. The Assistant Treasurer to-day paid out $683,000 in redemption of called bonds, and $37,000 in coin interest. The day's business at the Gold Exchange Bank involved clearings to an unusually large extent, representing the transactions of yesterday, which amounted to $200,278,000, the gold balances being $2,551,676, and the currency balances $3,396,111. The following were the quotations:

10:00...114⅛	11:30...113¾	1:00...113½	2:30...113

11:00...113¾	12:30...113⅞	2:00...113¾

The day's business at the U. S. Sub-Treasury covered:

Gold receipts	$1,483,176 87	Currency paym'ts	$1,150,165 71
Gold payments	150,371 30	Currency balance	$1,310,448 34
Gold balance	54,517,417 95	Customs	285,000 00

The drawers of foreign exchange again advanced rates on an eighth to the following quotations:

Money was less stringent to-day than yesterday, and the ruling rate to the stock brokers was 7 per cent in currency, and to the leading bond houses 6@7. A good deal of business was, however, done at 7, gold, and some cases were reported at a thirty-second, but at the close, when the day's demand had been supplied, rates were back again to 6 and 7. Business in commercial paper has of course been checked by these high rates. The unfavorable character of the bank statement was not entirely unexpected. The loss of over six millions legal tenders reflects the outward flow of money usual at this season of the year. The banks now hold but $414,850 in surplus over legal reserve, having lost $5,491,650 during the week. The coin movement of the week covered the Treasury disbursements of $1,500,000 on the regular weekly sale, $1,028,000 in redeemed Five-twenties, and $500,000 in coin interest on the public debt, the payment into the Treasury for Customs amounting to $2,850,000. The export of specie will be found elsewhere. The following table shows the condition of the banks at the dates undermentioned, the percentage of reserve to liabilities being for the National banks, 25.67, for the State banks, 21.20, and for both combined 25.17:

	Aug. 30.	Sept. 6.	Differences.

Government bonds were lower, in sympathy with gold, closing on the basis of 117@117¼ for 1867s. Fisk & Hatch report as follows:
