LITERARY NOTES.

Mr. Macgahan's new book, "Under the Northern Lights," is out in London. It is a record of the cruise of the Pandora to Peel's Strait in search of Sir John Franklin's papers, and has a map and illustrations.

Mr. Eugene Schuyler's work on "Turkistan"—notes of his journey in the Russian Provinces of Central Asia and the Khanates of Bokhara and Kokand—is again announced as "very nearly ready" in London. It will be published here by Scribner, Armstrong & Co. There will be many illustrations and three maps.

Mr. Alexander Starbuck of Waltham, The Literary World states, is writing a history of the whale-fishery, a once important interest in which Nantucket alone employed a hundred vessels. The same writer has in preparation a "History of Nantucket," which is likely to supply a palpable want. Only one history of that island, whose records are rich in interest, has been written.

Mr. W. I. Blackmore of London, who owns the remarkable collection of Indian objects from which Col. Dodge's forthcoming work on "The Plains" will be illustrated, will furnish also two chapters, a description of the various tribes of Indians which inhabit the Plains, and an exposition of the interesting sign-language and pictography of the Indians, spoken of by Mr. Hale in his current story in Scribner's Monthly.

A handbook of the prints and drawings in the British Museum, prepared by Mr. Louis Fagan, the assistant keeper of the department, is now in the press and will be published in the course of the next few months. The volume, which will also contain careful descriptions of remarkable possessions, such as the Bellini sketch book, or the book of drawings by Dürer, cannot fail to be serviceable to all who are interested in the forms of art included under the title of prints and drawings.

M. Klaczko's book on "The Two Chancellors," Gortschakoff and Bismarck, of which American readers have heard much through the foreign correspondents of THE TRIBUNE, will be republished in this country by Hurd & Houghton. The book, it will be remembered, is not a biography of either of its two heroes, but an attempt to show that the European political history of 15 years is the result of a conspiracy between the German and Russian Chancellors. The attention it has excited abroad certainly entitles it to republication here.

A LADY GOING ABROAD for the purpose of educating her children would TAKE CHARGE of two or three others, giving them a mother's care equally with her own. She proposes locating in a town in Germany distinguished for its educational advantages and delightful situation, and in a school she knows to be thoroughly excellent. This will be found an unusual opportunity for parents or guardians desiring to educate their children in Europe yet hesitate to have them entirely exposed to foreign influences.
