NO. 8. REYNOLDS, EDITOR.
G. L. A. DOTGLASS, JR., PRINTERS.

An Albany election prognosticator puts up the figures for New York thus: Cleveland's vote will be 375,000, Blaine's 525,000, Butler's 80,000, St. John's 35,000.

The Birmingham, Ala., Age says the best brown sugar is selling in the wholesale markets at five cents per pound, and fine granulated sugar can be purchased at six cents per pound.

The Republican papers say that the Ohio Democrats have plenty of money and will use it to some purpose on election day. This may be a clever way of discounting Republican defeat.

What troubles the New York Sun now is trying to explain its opposition to Governor Cleveland in the face of its numerous vigorous endorsements of him before he was nominated for the Presidency.

The Louisville exposition promises to prove a financial success, despite the prophecies to the contrary which have been indulged in. The admissions last week reached 100,000, and there is prospect of an increased attendance as the weather becomes more reasonable or sight-seeing. The exhibition is fully equal to that of last year.

The Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, has written a letter to the Democratic National Committee announcing his readiness to engage in campaign work actively, and placing himself at the service of the committee. He is announced to speak at a ratification meeting in Brooklyn, New York, on Wednesday evening.

The Greenback Anti-Monopolist clubs are said to labor under a disadvantage as to their candidate. They can't put his picture on their banners. A New York artist says if he paints a correct likeness nobody will have it, and if he touches it up with pencil and brush, so as to make the face presentable, nobody can recognize it.

EVERY BOW and then we hear of sanguine parties in different cities in the South who talk glibly of starting new papers. It is easier to talk about than to accomplish. Ordinarily it takes more money and occasions more vexatious losses than the majority of men care to experience. A "long felt want" in Cincinnati ran its months at a loss of $250,000.

JAMES R. OSOUD & Co., of Boston, have issued a pamphlet entitled "Protection and Free Trade To-Day," at home and abroad, in the field and workshop, by Robert P. Porter, a famous expert on the subject. This pamphlet contains many interesting facts and figures, and the protection side of the question is ingeniously stated. The price of the pamphlet is only ten cents.

An aged gentleman who has spent fifty years in scientific studies called at the patent office in Washington a few days ago, stating that he was able to demonstrate that the moon was inhabited, but as it would take about $3,000,000 to make the necessary experiments, he found difficulty in getting some one to back him. Perhaps this old gentleman could demonstrate that Mr. Blaine didn't mean what he said in the Mulligan letters.

The news of the death of Bishop Pierce, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be received with general and profound sorrow. No man in his church, perhaps, had more closely bound himself to his people. No man did better service in the cause to which he devoted his life, and no man could show greater fruits of his labors. Bishop Pierce's death is a loss as well to the whole country as to the church at large.

The Greenville News criticizes the address of our State Executive Committee on the ground of its inordinate length. The criticism is eminently just. What people want these days, in the shape of political manifestoes, is something short, sharp and decisive. A perusal of the address shows it to be a paper highly creditable to the political knowledge and rhetorical skill of the author, but we fear that most people, these trying September days, will scarcely read it through.

The Augusta Chronicle says it is doubted that the disease from which Alabama negroes are suffering is hydrophobia tainted by the bite of a mad dog. The virus of poisonous snakes can be swallowed by a human being with impunity; and the same is supposed to be true of hydrophobic venom. It is conjectured that the suffering negroes are largely the victims of imaginary fear, which simulates often the genuine phenomena of disease.

Nor satisfied with ascertaining that Private Henry was shot and eaten by Greely's men, an officer of the United States Army has examined his record to try to damn him more effectually. According to this authority, Henry was a forger and otherwise a plausible rascal. The question is why such a man was forced upon Greely; and it may occur to most people that the officer who dug up the poor devil's character to disgrace him more effectually is himself a moral goblin and constructive cannibal.

CARL SCHURZ has written a letter to Senator Hoar which almost flays the Massachusetts Pecksniff. Mr. Hoar had attempted to defend Blaine's corruption and, incidentally, to refute Schurz's charges, specifications and proofs. Schurz comes back at him with a vengeance. Donn Platt used to say that Hoar was a respectable man, who tried to give credit to places of shady reputation by standing on the door steps, but partaking of none of their infamy. He is posing for Blaine just as he poses for the Republican party.

THE Georgia Railroad Commission has made its annual report to the Governor and advocates the change of the law so as to allow an appeal from its rulings on rates some legal tribunal. The Commission very fairly discusses the matter and by this concession meets both the complaints of the railroads and a growing public sentiment on the subject. Change of this sort will remove a deepening opposition to the Commission. The Commission properly urged, however, that such appeals should be promptly decided.

SENATOR HENRY B. ANTHONY, of Rhode Island, whose sudden death was announced last week was the senior United States Senator, and if he had lived to the end of the present term he would have been thirty years in the Senate, equaling the time of Thos. H. Benton. In all that time it is said he never was absent from his post during the sessions of the Senate but once, and that was for a couple of days during the recent session, when he was called away on important business. Since his death Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, ranks in the order of seniority, having served seventeen years.

A WASHINGTON local gossip furnishes a theory in explanation of the hiding away of Col. Robert Ingersoll in New Mexico from the campaign. He says that Ingersoll, for his family, tried to get into diplomatic and other society, to which Mrs. Blaine held a key, when Mr. Blaine was Secretary of State, and then, though Blaine's aid was asked in the matter, the road was not opened. Under these circumstances, the gossip says, Ingersoll does not feel that he should run his sheep off in working for Blaine, and especially as the President, two or three of his Cabinet, Senators Edmunds, Sherman and others, who are supposed to be well up in the party, do not find it necessary to do so.

ALL over the country the announcement of ex-Governor Pound, of Wisconsin, that he would help elect Cleveland and Hendricks is received as the most important and significant of recent Republican protests against the Blaine-Logan combination. Ex-Governor Pound publicly gives his reasons for this action, and they are the keynotes of the campaign which strike terror to the common enemy. He does not desert the Republican party, but in working against Blaine and for Cleveland he represents thousands of his political faith, who "call a halt in the rule that has given the country a bewildering political and business licentiousness, and demand a sternly honest and faithful administration of the government to restore a healthful tone to our general political system."

THE News and Courier publishes a review of the trade and commerce of Charleston for the commercial year, showing a highly satisfactory condition of business. The receipts of cotton for the year were 428,301 bales; rice, 67,476 barrels; naval stores, 328,255 casks and barrels; phosphate rock, crude, 196,714 tons; fertilizers, 143,790 tons. The product of local manufacturers, excluding fertilizers, was $6,757,400. The total trade amounted to $64,501,190. There is a steady improvement in the condition of the city. A large number of new buildings are going up and real estate is advancing in value. There have been only two commercial failures of consequence during the year and neither of these was due to ordinary business causes. The condition and prospects of our metropolis. We trust that the coming year may prove more than ever a good one for Charleston, and that the highest hopes of her business men may all be realized. "The whole State feels an interest in the progress of Charleston."

SOME Republics criticize Governor Cleveland's letter of acceptance on the ground of its brevity. They should remember that Lincoln, said to be the best beloved man in all our land, and among the very greatest of our statesmen, wrote quite a short paper in accepting the Republican nomination for the Presidency. Here it is:

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 23, 1860.
SIR: I accept the nomination tendered me by the convention over which you presided, of which I am formally apprised in a letter of yourself and others acting as a committee of the convention for that purpose. The declaration of principles and sentiments which accompanies your letter meets my approval, and it shall be my care not to violate it or disregard it in any part. Implying the assistance of Divine Providence, and with due regard to the feelings of all who were represented in the convention, to the rights of all the States and Territories and people of the nation, to the perpetuity of the constitution and the irrevocable union, harmony and prosperity of all, I am most happy to co-operate for the practical success of the principles declared by the convention. Your obliged friend and fellow-citizen,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
Hon. George Ashmun, President of the Republican Convention.

By taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla many a poor sufferer who submits to the surgeon's knife because of malignant sores and scrofulous swellings, might be saved, sound and whole. This will purge out the corruptions which pollute the blood, and by which such complaints are originated and fed.

A violent wind and rain storm passed over Carmi, Illinois, on Saturday, blowing down Illinois, and leveling the growing corn. Several persons were injured by lightning and one woman was killed.

A LETTER FROM ARKANSAS.

MONTICELLO, Ark., August 29.—After a long silence I will again give your readers a few items from this part of the West.

Since the Democratic primary election, which was held here on the 4th instant, the political element has remained very quiet, there being no other ticket in the field until a few days ago, when the Republicans held a convention and made nominations for the various county offices; but these nominations are of but little consequence, and scarcely any attention is paid to them, as this part of the State always goes Democratic by a large majority.

The seasons here have been very unfavorable to the farming interest this year. A cold, wet spring caused planting to be greatly delayed, and for the past two months crops have suffered severely from droughts, consequently they are far below the average. But we are getting good seasons now, and wherever the crops have been properly cultivated there will be nearly if not quite a sufficiency made to supply the necessary demands of the coming year. The oat crop throughout this section was excellent this year, but what as usual was very light—it is not a paying crop here, hence but little is ever sown.

There is an abundance of fruit here this year, and the market is kept glutted so that choice peaches frequently sell as low as two bits per bushel.

This is camp-meeting season, and they are in progress now all through the country. These meetings, which are generally held in the woods under brush arbors, are largely attended and are very interesting. People sometimes go quite a distance to attend them. They put up temporary tents and remain until the meeting closes, enjoying themselves both socially and spiritually. The "Cane Breakers" held a meeting near here on last Sunday. This society is composed of all the old settlers of the country, including all those who have lived here for twenty-five years. They meet, have preaching, relate their experiences, and perform a memorial service over those of their number who have died since their last annual meeting. It is indeed interesting to listen to these old gray haired sires as they relate the changes that have taken place since they first settled here, and as they term it, "commenced here on the same when the country was yet but a wilderness."

I saw an old gentleman, sixty-four years of age, this afternoon, who attracted my attention by his pleasant looks. He wore a smile continually. I approached him and asked why he seemed to be so happy. At this interrogation, his countenance brightened more than ever; his eyes sparkled with pleasure, and his smile changed into a broad grin as he hastily made the following statement: "Last year I was living in York, South Carolina. My place was poor and washed into gullies. I had to use fertilizers and work hard to make a living. And they have the stock law out there, and I was hemmed in so I couldn't have a hog without I kept it in a pen. So one day my old lady said she was going to write to her son in Arkansas and tell him we would come out there by Christmas; and she wrote it, and I couldn't back out, though my friends told me that I would die in one year there, and tried to persuade me not to come. But I sold my old worn out place for ten dollars per acre and just came right on here to Drew county; and I haven't been sick a day since I got here, and I've bought me one hundred and fifty acres of land, and three hundred dollars, and have got the papers fixed up. There is a good box house on it, a good garden paved in and a splendid well of water in the yard. There is twenty-five acres of cleared land on it, and it is just rich enough for anything; and there is such a splendid range for hogs, and we can have all the milk and butter we want and it don't cost a cent, and I am just going to be young and lively as long as I live."

So much for Arkansas. As this old gentleman walked away I thought to myself, what a pity Ponce de Leon did not come here when he was in search of the fabled fountain of perpetual youth, and like this old gentleman made his home in the El Dorado, and thus have saved himself from going to the grave. More again.

E. J. CAMAK.
From Macon.

In August, 1881, it was discovered that my son's wife was in the last stages of consumption. She was coughing incessantly and at times would discharge quantities of blood from her lungs, could not retain anything on her stomach, and we thought it only a question of time when life would be compelled to give way to the all destroying disease. After all our remedies had failed, we got Brewer's Lung Restorer and began it in very small doses, as she was very weak. She soon began to improve; continued the remedy and was restored to life and health, and is to-day better than she has ever been before. I regard her restoration as nearly a miracle, for which she is indebted to Brewer's Lung Restorer.

R. W. BONNER, Macon, Ga.

Brewer's Lung Restorer is a purely vegetable preparation, contains no opium, morphine, bromide or any poisonous substance. Send for circular or long list of wonderful cures.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trivial with the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal ailment, which, unless relieved by timely and judicious treatment, will probably prove fatal.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1871 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 67 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied with CHERRY PECTORAL saved me." ROBERT S. BRADSHAW, Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Group—A Mother's Tribute. "While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from the disease. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our great joy it relieved his breathing. The doctor said that the PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. I can never forget it with gratitude." Sincerely yours, Mrs. CAROL GIBNEY, 159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most efficient remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried." Mrs. CAROL GIBNEY, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL." JOSEPH WALDEN, Byrdville, Miss., April 1, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that there is now in better health than I have enjoyed for several years. I believe that Lung Restorer saved her life. We have a family of six children, some of whom grow up." Mr. HERNANDEZ, postoffice is Yatesville, Upson county, Ga. He is a thoroughly reliable man in every particular.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise the four-fifths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, Fever, Irritability of the Liver, and a feeling of being neglected, some dizziness, flatulency at the heart, boils before the eyes, highly colored urine, CONSTIPATION, and dejection of spirits. For the cure of these ailments, TUTT'S PILLS are the only medicine that will cure the Liver. As a Liver medicine, TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the bowels is rapid, and they induce a healthy and vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping, nor induce any "bilious" or "bilious" action.

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA. "I feel like a new man." "I have had Dyspepsia, with Constipation, two years, and have tried ten different kinds of pills, and TUTT'S are the first that have done me any good. I feel like a new man, and my appetite is splendid. I feel like a new man." W. D. EDWARDS, Palmyra, O. Sold everywhere. Price, 25 Cents. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE. "I have had my hair changed naturally to a glossy black by a single application of this Dye. Sold by Druggists, or sent by mail. Price, 25 Cents. Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.

OUT OF THE JAWS OF DEATH.

The gentleman who outlines his case below is a man considerably advanced in life, and is noted for his sterling integrity. His postoffice is Yatesville, Upson county, Ga. The following is MR. JOHN PEARSON'S STATEMENT.

In the spring of 1882 I was attacked with a very bad cough, which continued to grow worse until I felt that I could not get about. I tried a great many kinds of medicine but continued to grow worse. I was notified that I had consumption and would probably die. Dr. Holloway finally told me to try Brewer's Lung Restorer. They sent to Ward's Store and got a bottle and I commenced taking it right away. After taking two or three doses, I began to improve, and by the time I had used up one bottle I was able to get on my feet again. I am now in excellent health. I am confident that the Lung Restorer saved my life and my neighbors are of the same opinion. It is the best Lung Restorer I ever used in my opinion. Dr. H. promised me that he would write to the manufacturers and tell them of the wonderful cure it made in my case.

Statement of Mr. Benj. F. Hearnond. Early in November, 1881, while sewing on the machine, my wife was taken with a severe hemorrhage, which was soon followed by hemorrhages from her lungs and a severe cough. Fever commenced, she could neither eat nor sleep, and in a few weeks she was reduced to a living skeleton. The attending physician told me that he thought one of her lungs was entirely gone. She could not retain the most delicate nourishment on her stomach. I then agreed with Dr. Sullivan, my family physician, to call Dr. Holloway in consultation. They made a full examination of the patient and pronounced the case hopeless. Dr. Holloway then suggested the Brewer's Lung Restorer as a last resort. I sent for a bottle and gave her a dose. I found that she could retain it on her stomach and after about the third dose, I began to notice some improvement in my condition. I continued the medicine regularly, and by the time she had taken two bottles, she was able to walk about the house. She is now in better health than she has enjoyed for several years. I believe that Lung Restorer saved her life. We have a family of six children, some of whom grow up." Mr. HERNANDEZ, postoffice is Yatesville, Upson county, Ga. He is a thoroughly reliable man in every particular.
