Wells says in his weekly circular: "Aside from the export movement there has been very little doing this week. Prices are unsettled, and all quotations must, for the present, be considered nominal. Nearly 2,000 bales have come into market this week, and as a very large proportion of the arrivals are of second and low quality, for which there is no demand, stocks are accumulating. Brewers, noticing the stagnation in the trade, are getting along on as few Hops as possible, expecting lower prices will rule; so far as it relates to choice Hops, however, dealers and holders show no disposition to yield in the price, believing the demand from abroad will continue, and that they will find market there for all the good Hops that can be spared from the country. The Hop trade of this country is hardly of sufficient importance to feel the effects that many other branches do of the present political uncertainties here or of the threatened war in Europe; we therefore look for a continued steady demand both for export and consumption. Receipts for the week, 1,935 bales; total since Sept. 1, 1876, 28,253 bales; total for same period in 1875, 25,883 bales; export clearances for the week, 1,202 bales; total since Sept. 1, 1876, 12,345 bales; total for same period in 1875, 11,392 bales."

C., Nov. 14: "Our market has been very irregular, Fair and Good grades showing a decline, while Prime and Choice were greatly in request, and from their scarcity ruled firmer. The receipts at the opening of the season gave us the assurance that the quality would be equal to that of former years, but the milled results of the past month incline us now to believe that the quality has been very seriously injured from the consequences of the strike at harvest time, and the bulk of the arrivals show a large percentage of over-ripe Rice, which is probably an inferior article. The demand has been fair, and holders are not disposed to sell except at current rates, believing that the same causes which have proved to have injured the quality will result in a falling off also in the quantity. Quotations: Broken, 3⅝@4c.; Fair, 4⅝@4⅞c.; Good, 5@5⅛c.; Prime, 5⅜@5⅞c.; Choice, nominal."

The speculation demands have died out under the present position of prices, which are very strong and considered high. The holders of fleeces are not disposed to force business, and some have withdrawn lots for higher prices. The demand for moderate trade has been done at firm sales. Texas is held with confidence and above buyers' views, consequently only a moderate business was done. California Wools are firm, with the demands confined to the Fall clip. LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 17.—BEEVES—Arrivals to-day, 85 cars at Sixtieth-st. and 39 at Jersey City, a portion of the latter late in, but all likely to sell. Total for the day, 2,072 head, and 16,509 for the week, against 7,260 last week. The market was just about a duplicate of yesterday, substituting numerous lots of thin little States and Virginia steers for the Texans and Colorados of yesterday. Several cars of State cattle were sent direct from the farm to butchers, and were not on sale at all. There has been no more favorable opportunity for marketing this kind of stock, and farmers have improved it. Sending thrifty little two-year-olds of 750 lb seems like a waste of raw material. Trade was lively, and all the early arrivals were soon closed out. There were very few prime cattle. Most sales were between 8¾@10c. European shipments for the week, 1,125 head of fat cattle. It will be a question whether cattle sent abroad at present high prices will not lose money, but as those parties who have fitted up various refrigerator compartments in the steamers at great expense either have to take them out, fill them, or pay freight for the empty space, they incline to take the chances. From the reports of one of the parties interested who has just returned from Europe after a thorough investigation, it would seem as though the markets there can be gleaned more easily than here. From the fact that London with its immense population consumes scarcely as much beef as the City of New-York does, the English people are not great meat eaters. In fact he found very few families or hotels with meat more than once per day. Reports from the London live stock markets show fewer live cattle per week than are found in our own markets, but the proceeds of dressed beef brought in nightly from Scotland and other near points, about make up the average of this city.

The particular sales here to-day were 29 little two-year-old State, at 3½c. and 50c. each; 19 small State, 7½c., 55 lb; 39 at 7¾c., 55 lb; 19 at 7¾c., 55 lb; 17 at 8c., 55 lb; 19 native, and 19 Texan, 9½c., 55 lb; 73 native, 8½c., one-half 56 lb; 121 at 8¾c., 56 lb; 194 at 9c., 208 at 9¼c., 208 at 9½c.; 221 at 10c., about half 57 lb; 60 at 10½c., 57 lb; 67 at 10½c., and 13 at 10¾c. HOGS—Arrivals to-day, 35 cars at Fortieth-st., and 19 at Jersey City. Total since Saturday, including 8 cars late in yesterday, 31,242, against 19,587 same time last week. This large increase carried dressed back ¼c., leaving them as they were on Wednesday, at 6¾c. for extreme heavy, 7¼@7½c. for medium, and 7¾c. for pigs. G. W. Reid sold 1,200 live Ohio, 220 lb, at $5 88½@$5 90 per cwt.

The Chicago Live Stock Reporter of the 14th had the following: In the supply of hogs during the past week we find, notwithstanding the receipt of a large number of green and unmatured hogs, that the gross average weight of the entire supply shows an increase over that of the previous week of 11½ lb, and over that of the corresponding week of last year of 11 lb. We therefore have no reason to suppose that the supply of hogs in the West is decreasing, but on the other hand that fair and persevering effort is being used by farmers to make good all deficiencies, and furnish an adequate supply for the season. It is most important to them that the wants of the present and also of the future should be met as well and as possible, but to market green and unmatured hogs at this time, a course being so largely pursued, is not for the interests of the market or of Western farmers. We do not remember to have seen half as many unmatured hogs on this market in November since the close of the war as we did yesterday, and we feel satisfied that if this course is continued the future range of prices in this market will cut hogs be as far apart as they have ever been. It is certainly far better to give as more restricted supplies as to numbers, and to let it consist of good, well-matured hogs than to be forestalling the future by marketing hogs now that properly belong to it.

The following are the returns of hogs received, shipped, and packed in Chicago since the first of October last to date, and compared with the corresponding period of last season:
