WINDSOR HOTEL LITIGATION.

THE SUIT OF JOHN T. DALY'S WIDOW.

Arabella T. Daly, the widow of John T. Daly, the founder of the Windsor Hotel Company, with her daughter Mrs. Chesebrough and her son Thomas M. Daly, brought a suit against William H. Daly, John Sibby and the Windsor Hotel Company, to set aside an election of trustees of the company last May. Mrs. Daly's charge was that while she was still overwhelmed with the shock of her husband's death, William H. Daly persuaded her to consent to an election, the result of which was the appointment of herself, Thomas M. Daly, William H. Daly and John Sibby as trustees of the Company, and in the subsequent election of officers Mr. Sibby and William H. Daly secured to themselves the control of the Company, although they represented only a small fraction of the shares of the Company, and were opposed by seven-eighths in interest of the real holders of the stock.

William H. Daly and the Company have put in their answers by the same attorney, Luke A. Lockwood. Mr. Daly denies any undue pressure on Mrs. Daly. He says that the election took place on the day fixed by the by-laws of the Corporation, and Mrs. Daly understood what was being done; that he never offered the inducements set out in the complaint; that Mrs. Daly and Thomas M. Daly (the latter being Vice-President) have always been consulted in important matters. He says he was trustee of 3,550 shares pledged to secure certain mortgages and had voted several times on 2,050 of these shares during John T. Daly's life. At the election the stock was divided as follows:

	Shares.
Mrs. Arabella T. Daly	1,549
Emma D. Chesebrough	70
Thomas M. Daly	1
Thomas M. Daly, Trustee	3,550
The estate of John T. Daly	2,229
John Sibby	750
W. H. Daly	1
Myrtilla H. Daly, wife of Thomas M. Daly	350
Total	8,500

William H. Daly says that he is an executor of John T. Daly, and denies that he is not pecuniarily responsible; that his claim for $7,814 87 has been made recently, and that Mr. Sibby's shares were held by him merely in pledge. He alleges that Mr. Sibby and he are faithfully performing their duties to the Company and the other stockholders. The answer of the Company is similar so far as the facts stated by Wm. H. Daly are concerned.

PLEDGES WITH A PAWNBROKER.

John C. Anderson, a jeweler, according to his own statement, has been for some years in the habit of pledging portions of his stock to Julius Metzler, a pawnbroker. The amounts advanced were always over $25, but at first the plaintiff submitted to an exaction of 24 per cent interest. After a time, he says he told Metzler he would pay no more than ten per cent interest, and got back most of his property on that basis, although not without a quarrel; and later pledged property worth about $2,500 with Metzler without taking any pawn-ticket or other acknowledgment. He now brings suit against Metzler to recover his goods, claiming that the pledge was usurious, and asks that Metzler be restrained from selling any pledged goods. Metzler, in his answer, denies that the goods not already returned to the plaintiff were pledged, and claims that they were sold by the plaintiff to him. An injunction was granted and the case came yesterday before Judge Freedman in Superior Court, Special Term, on a motion to continue the injunction. After the reading of the papers Judge Freedman intimated that the plaintiff had shown no ground for an injunction, as he would have his remedy in a suit for damages; but reserved his decision.

A PLAINTIFF'S FUNDS EXHAUSTED.

In the divorce suit of Rosina Van Opstal against John Van Opstal, an application was made yesterday to Judge Westbrook for alimony and counsel fee. The case has already gone so far that the referee has heard the evidence for the wife and the evidence in opposition for the husband, and now all that is left to present to the referee is the reply by witnesses to the husband's testimony. The wife has received nothing as yet. George F. Langbein, her counsel, stated that she had so far conducted the case, paying actual disbursements from such funds as she could command, her lawyers receiving nothing. Her funds were now entirely exhausted.

Judge Westbrook at first was strongly inclined, as the case had gone so far without any allowance to the wife, to refuse any aid to her until the referee made his report, but finally gave an order that $25 be paid by the husband by Monday for expenses of the suit. He refused any allowance to counsel or for alimony.

GAFF, FLEISCHMANN & CO.'S ACQUITTAL.

The result of the trial of Gaff, Fleischmann & Co., of Ellisville, charged with keeping a swill milk establishment, was not unexpected by those who heard the testimony on both sides. The acquittal of the defendants was anticipated from the moment when six of the seven counts of the indictment were dropped, leaving only the one which charged that swill was fed to the animals. This, though the premises were shown to be filthy, the room allotted to the cows inadequate, the ventilation imperfect, the food improper, and the animals unhealthy, the charge against the defendants could not be sustained in the face of the positive testimony on their part that they were in no wise responsible for the manner in which the animals were kept and fed. It is understood that the condition of the stables has been considerably improved since this prosecution was begun.

CONTINENTAL LIFE JUDGMENTS.

Two motions in the matter of the Continental Life Insurance Company were on the calendar of Supreme Court Chambers before Judge Westbrook yesterday. One was on the part of Bertin Cohen, who has a judgment affirmed by the Court of Appeals for nearly $12,000, against the Company; the other was by Mrs. Regina Hirsch, who obtained a judgment by default for a smaller amount, which is however yet in dispute. The motion in each case was to compel the Receiver to pay the judgment. Counsel for the Receiver asked a delay as Mr. O'Neill had not had possession of the assets and books of the Company more than 48 hours. After a short discussion Judge Westbrook set down the motion to be heard peremptorily before him on July 27th. Sigismund Kaufman appeared for the motion; S. W. Holcomb for the Receiver.

JOHN GRENVILLE KANE'S WILL.

The will of John Grenville Kane, which was offered for probate in the Surrogate's office yesterday gives bequests to the following charitable and benevolent institutions: St. Luke's Hospital, $2,500; New-York Eye and Ear Infirmary, $3,500; New-York Dispensary, $1,000; Children's Aid Society, $500; Home for Aged Indigent Women, $1,000; Shepherd's Fold of the Protestant Episcopal Church, $5,000; Working Women's Protective Union, $1,000. The legacies to individuals are: $10,000 to each of the following relatives: Eden S. Robbe, Harriet Douglas Vandam, Edith Kane; $5,000 each to his nephews, Grenville Kane, Henry Brevoort Kane, and William Carson Kane, and the same sum to his niece, Meta Kane. The residue of the estate is left to the executor in trust, to be divided in equal portions among the nephews and niece last named, to whom the furniture, works of art, etc., in the family residence, are also bequeathed. The estate is estimated at $1,000,000.

CIVIL NOTES.

The Public Administrator has given notice that he will oppose the appointment of Mary Ellen Randall as administratrix on the estate of the late Dr. Israel Randolph. The grounds of opposition will be presented to the Surrogate on Monday.

In the suit of Nancy Gainsforth against Robert Gainsforth, previously reported in THE TRIBUNE, Judge Westbrook has granted the wife $5 a week alimony and $50 counsel-fee, on condition that she consent to a reference and proceed at once to trial.

Joseph Schloss was convicted on Thursday in the General Sessions for selling obscene watch-charms, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment. He has obtained a habeas corpus from Judge Westbrook returnable in Supreme Court, Chambers, on Monday, for the purpose of having himself admitted to bail, pending his appeal from his conviction.

George G. Titus, a lawyer, applied yesterday to Judge Van Brunt in Common Pleas, Special Term, for his release from Ludlow Street Jail, where he has been confined for some time past, under an execution in a civil suit. The creditors opposed his application, and Judge Van Brunt remanded him. F. Y. Salmon appeared for the prisoner, Royal S. Brown, for the creditors.

In the often-reported case of Rensselaer B. Winchell against Eliza Winchell, Judge Freedman, in Superior Court, Special Term, has denied the defendant's request for a counsel-fee. He denies the plaintiff's motion for the custody of his child, provided the defendant gives him uninterrupted meetings with his child of two hours, twice a week. Otherwise his motion is granted.

Henry Boland has obtained a writ of habeas corpus returnable on Monday, to gain possession of his three-year-old child, now in the care of its aunt, Mrs. Isabella Borchers. The child's mother died a few days after its birth. The little girl was placed in her aunt's charge. Soon after the father re-married and the child was returned to him, but was again placed in the aunt's charge. Mrs. Borchers says in her return that the father is a drunkard, and the second wife a prostitute, and declines to give up the child.

William F. Aldrich, the Receiver of the Mutual Benefit Savings Bank, got leave to buy in property at West Orange, in New-Jersey, mortgaged to the bank on a foreclosure of the mortgage, at a price not to exceed the mortgage, expenses of foreclosure and taxes. Under this he bought in the property, about 79 acres, for $10,500. He has now obtained leave to sell a part of it, about 12 acres, for $6,000. Judge Westbrook in Supreme Court Chambers approved this sale yesterday.

David Graham, formerly drum-major of the Seventh Regiment, died several months ago, leaving two wills and two wives. From one of the wives he had separated many years before his death, and by both wills the bulk of his property, a small estate, went to his second wife, Delia Murphy Graham. A contest was begun by the first wife, Caroline. The last will was withdrawn and the contest went on over the first one. The case was decided by Surrogate Calvin yesterday, by the admission of the will, leaving the property to Delia Murphy Graham.

In the divorce suit of Richard S. Conklin against Martha J. Conklin, the referee found in favor of the wife, and as no allowance of alimony or counsel-fee had been made to the wife during the trial, her counsel applied on the basis of the referee's report to Judge Freedman for alimony, counsel fee and an extra allowance under the Code. Though the referee certifies that the case was "both difficult and extraordinary," Judge Freedman thinks that there is no amount of money involved in a suit on which he can grant an "allowance under the Code," but he grants $8 weekly alimony to the wife from the date of the service of the summons, and $300 fee to her counsel.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

At Essex Market Police Court yesterday, before Justice Murray, Patrick Moore, Henry Campbell and James Shields, were charged with disorderly conduct, with four other men, whose names are unknown, in the liquor store at No. 248 Spring-st., on Thursday night; also with stealing $20. They were each held to answer in default of $500 bail.

Mary Jane Boyle, Catharine Boyle, and Margaret Boyle, age respectively 7, 4, and 2½ years, daughters of Mary Boyle, of West 27th-st., were found in a lumber yard, at the foot of W. 22d-st., yesterday, Officer Cotlandt, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. They were half starved, as the father is a druskard, and the mother is an invalid and cannot work. The children were sent to the Catholic Protectory.

At the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, Owen Gallagher, of No. 344 Thirty-sixth-st., was held for examination upon a charge of attempting to commit an indecent assault upon Ellen Metlil, of No. 311 East Fortieth-st. John Keating was held for striking John Hogan upon the jaw. Clara Newton was charged by her aunt with keeping late hours and bad company, but was sent home upon promise to reform. Henry Wick became angry when he lost at three-card-monte and assaulted Henry Pfeifer. He was discharged on furnishing $300 bail.

Officer William Mann, of the Thirty-third Precinct, leaving a saloon in Morrisania, on Thursday night, met Roundsman Brush, who demanded an explanation. Mann replied that a disturbance had occurred, and that he had been asked to quell it. The Roundsman made inquiry, and ascertained that the patrolman's story was false. He branched the subject up to Mann, who in return beat him on the head with his club until the Roundsman became unconscious. Roundsman Watson arrested Mann, and yesterday Justice Wheeler held him for trial.

At the Tombs Police Court yesterday the examination was concluded in the case of the men arrested by Roundsman Jones, of the Western Steamboat Squad, under suspicious circumstances, at 2 a. m. Thursday, on the North River, near Pier No. 29. The names of those arrested were John E. Finley, Michael Cassidy, Michael Shannon, John Sheehan, Michael Tennick, Michael Cavanagh, and Henry Cornelius. The special charge was the larceny of 34 pigs of lead of the value of $140, from J. H. Starin's barges, near Pier No. 19. John E. Finley is the man who shot O'Baldwin, the prize-fighter, and he was detained in default of $1,500 bail. The others were discharged. The boat, in which these men were captured, was riddled with bullet-holes.

DECISIONS—JULY 13.

Supreme Court—Chambers—By Judge Westbrook.—Dry Goods Bank vs. Burnett, Jr.—Motion denied with $10 costs. Devlin vs. Bivens.—Costs and $100 extra allowance granted. Stevens vs. Costa.—Motion granted. Judge Donohue will settle order on Saturday, July 14, 1877. Shire vs. Shire.—Decree of divorce granted to plaintiff. French vs. Reisman.—Society for the Reformation of Juv.—Del. Cornamy; Brooks vs. Wheeler; Ex-Re Hoffman; Gallisforth vs. Gainsforth.—An allowance of $50 is made for costs to prosecute; a weekly allowance of $5 to plaintiff, the cause to be immediately tried by a referee to be appointed by the Court. If the plaintiff does not consent to a referee in ten days, no weekly allowance is to be paid. Roberson vs. Getty; in the matter of Bartlett; Post vs. Post.—Orders granted. Kehl vs. Kehl.—Decree of divorce granted to plaintiff.

Special Term—By Judge Van Brunt.—Heelas vs. Slevin et al.—Findings and decree settled and signed.

By Judge Van Vorst.—Siewert vs. Hamel et al.—Decree signed.

Superior Court—Special Term—By Judge Freedman.—Conklin vs. Conklin.—The report of the referee must be confirmed, and it being in favor of the wife in the merits, it is just and proper to give her the costs of the action. But I do not see how an allowance can be granted as analytical costs, there being nothing to base a percentage upon. Such an allowance is regulated by the code and consists of a percentage upon the amount of recovery or claims on subject matter involved. This element is pecuniary. Value is subject matter. In an action by husband against his wife for divorce, on the ground of adultery. The certificate of the learned referee to the effect that the case was a difficult and extraordinary one, within the meaning and limited sense in which the 3309 section of the Code, must therefore be disregarded. As to the motion for alimony and counsel fee which is now made for the first time. I am of the opinion that, upon the case as presented, alimony should be allowed at the rate of six dollars per week from the time of the service of the summons and complaint together with a counsel fee of $300. Reisseiser B. Winchell vs. Eliza Winchell. Defendant's motion for counsel fee is denied. Plaintiff's motion for the exclusive custody of the child, Bella Winchell, is also denied, provided defendant will stipulate to permit plaintiff to see the child at some suitable place twice a week, and to have free communication with her at least two hours in each evening. If defendant shall so stipulate the motion must be granted. The plaintiff is also entitled to an order enjoining defendant from removing, or causing to be removed, the said child beyond the limits of the city and county of N. Y.; Rast vs. Hassell et al.—Motion denied, with $10 costs. Dietz vs. Farrich.—Order granting extra allowance of plaintiff of $1,000. The Germania Bank of the City of N. Y. vs. Frisch.—All of William's claims allowed except the 1,125. Schile vs Brokhausen.—Order denying motion. Bernades et al vs. Hayward No. 1; same, same.—Bonds approved on justification.

Common Pleas—Special Term—By Judge Van Brunt.—Dunn vs. Kendall.—Complaint dismissed. Waring vs. McCosh; Frank vs. Wheeler; in the matter of the Security Bank, etc.; In the matter of Talbot; Bremer vs. Tessler. Motions granted. Jackson vs. McCahill—The cause of action and ground of arrest being identical, the defendant does not make on a sufficiently clear case to justify the discharge of the order of arrest.—Motion denied with $10 costs, to abide the event.

ADDING INSULT TO INJURY.

Frederick Clarke, of No. 142 West Twenty-sixth-st., a lawyer's clerk, yesterday charged Henry S. Halker, a merchant, of Sixth-ave., near Forty-second-st., with threatening to assault him on July 4. The evidence showed that Clarke had met Mr. Halker's wife and three daughters in Central Park on that day and had attempted to open a conversation with them, and followed them down to their very door. Justice Wandell, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, told Mr. Halker that if he had been in his place he would have used a whip on Clarke. He then honorable discharged Mr. Halker, and admonished a rebuke to Clarke for his audacity in following the ladies and then in making the complaint.

Just before the lecturer stepped on the platform, last week, at a scientific exposition, a committeeman approached him and whispered that no package had arrived, and perhaps something else might be substituted for the proposed experiments. "It is all right," smilingly replied the lecturer, "I have the nitro-glycerine and all the other things with me in my pocket." The committeeman immediately took a back seat among the audience furthest from the platform.

EPPS'S COCOA.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast-tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
