LITERARY NOTES.

Dr. Friedrich Delitzsch is preparing a work on the Geography of the Assyrian Inscriptions.

Miss Alcott promises to find a new volume in "Aunt Jo's Scrap-Bag." It will be about "My Girls."

Joseph Hatton's new novel, "The Queen of Bohemia," will be published in October. It contains a dedication to William Black.

Mr. Tuckerman's "Greeks of To-Day" has been published in Athens in Modern Greek. A Greek newspaper speaks of it as "the only true picture of Greek character ever presented by a foreigner."

One of Mrs. Oliphant's most striking one volume stories—showing, says The Academy, her faculty for combining analysis of morbid conditions with striking incident and careful character-study—will shortly appear in serial form.

The family of Hackländer—"the German Dickens"—have arranged with Herr Baccioco, the Viennese novelist, to edit the literary remains of the deceased author. A manuscript "Romance of My Life" is known to be among his unpublished papers.

New Publications.

"THE CRITIC whom I have already quoted—one whom long residence in a foreign country has made a more dispassionate judge of American literature than most of us can be—declared it as his judgment that HETTY'S STRANGE HISTORY is the most remarkable of recent American fictions. Such is my own opinion, so far as I am competent to judge. * * * The field of great fiction must always be, after all, in profound emotions and strange histories.—[T. W. Higginson in The Woman's Journal.

The fourth 1,000 of HETTY'S STRANGE HISTORY, the new novel by the author of MERCY PHILBRICK'S CHOICE is now ready. The other volumes of the "No Name Series," AFTERGLOW, MERCY PHILBRICK'S CHOICE, DEIR DRE, IS THAT ALL? KISMET, THE GREAT MATCH and A MODERN MEPHISTOPHELES, are being read by all lovers of choice fiction.

Price $1 00 each.

THE ACADEMY of the SACRED HEART, FOR YOUNG LADIES, NO. 49 WEST 17th-st., NEW-YORK, Will open on the first Monday of September.

THE SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES and LITTLE GIRLS, 167 MADISON-AVE., formerly the CHARLIER INSTITUTE, has just been among the first to reopen, and to recommence its course, under the skilful direction of Mlle. LEUZ, for a long time the first assistant of Mr. Elie Charlier, and whose activity, zeal and earnestness are well known to the patrons of the school.
Mlle. Leuz aims to continue the high reputation of the establishment which she has taken, and has therefore secured for the present scholastic year, the services of a group of Professors whose names alone are a sufficient guarantee of their capacity and rare aptitude. The direction of the English branches, for example, is confided to Miss PEGRAM, for many years Principal of a school of high repute in Richmond, Va., and throughout the South, and who has been connected in New-York with some of the first schools of the city.
Miss Pegram will be assisted in her department by Miss WARREN, Miss BATES and Miss HYDE, already well known to the families represented in the school.
With regard to the French, the ordinary language of the school, it has been placed under the direction of Prof. R. d'AYMARD, formerly Inspector of Public Instruction in France and Officer of the Academy of Paris, who brings to his work a successful experience of twenty-five years.
M. d'Aymard is assisted by Prof. FERRILET, favorably known for several years in some of the best schools in New-York, and member of the New-York French Athenæum; also, by Mlle. J. D'AYMARD, diplomée of the Academy of Paris, and pupil of Mme. Pape-Carpentier, the First Inspectresse of the schools of France.
The German language is taught by Miss WERBEYAHL, a German lady of high attainments and experience.
Independently of the daily routine of studies, there will be SPECIAL CLASSES, under the Professors already named, for the benefit of young ladies who wish such aids to culture; and also courses of lectures, of which the programmes will be published later.
With such elements, we do not doubt the success of this newly-organized school—a success that all who know the Principal will ardently desire.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION.
THE HOWARD METHOD—SINGING AND SPEAKING.
Mr. HOWARD has discovered a method for training the voice entirely distinct from any now or heretofore in use. He has found it possible, by easy bodily movements, to gain individual and separate control of many of the muscles which govern the vocal parts, and this independently of the act of singing. Such control once acquired, the voice-box, or larynx, may be so governed that, when the vocal effort is added, the results of music may be bodily held in check, and the natural or functional process be allowed to assert itself.
By this course, average voices rapidly gain three-fold power, a facile execution and a beautiful, natural quality, while voices apparently worn and worthless, with weak or hollow tones, a broken scale and a painful delivery, may be speedily restored to professional service.
Later, expression and execution are acquired, not by arbitrary assistance and exhortation, but by analytic and progressive exercises.
"Though I have studied many years, and spent many dollars for instruction under the best masters, yet Mr. Howard has, by a few respiratory and lingual vocal efforts, done more for my voice in six weeks than other masters in as many years."
Lessons successfully given by mail, as is amply proved by many powerful testimonials.
Address by mail or call in person for pamphlet, circular or interview at Music Room, 39 Union-sq. (over Brentano's), between 2 and 3 p. m.
