Local Events.

The trial justices have been quite busy for several days past. Miss Jennie Fuller, of Abbeville, is visiting Miss Carrie Dunn. Both sexes were well represented from Winstboro at the State ball. We hear rumors that another circus will visit Winstboro before Christmas. The jail is being filled up rapidly and the prospects are good for a heavy criminal docket in February. Foxes seem plentiful, one was caught at the Court House on Saturday morning. The down train has been late nearly every afternoon for the past two weeks. We suppose a change of schedule. The press of the State is down on the gambling machines on the grounds of the State fair. It is well that it should be. A Confederate dollar bill was presented to the bank on Thursday by a party who wanted it changed. He soon realized his mistake. Mr. A. B. Douglass, of the Boro, is flying visit on Wednesday. Mr. Douglass was formerly a citizen of this county, but for several years has been merchandizing at Reidsville, S. C.

Don't forget to come in and settle with the printer when you come to town. We are in need of funds and feel sure that our subscribers appreciate our position. The "patent outside" industry of THE NEWS AND HERALD is one of the enterprises of the State. We hope to be in better shape and give our readers an idea of our progress before another year. What has become of our railroad to Shelton? We have heard nothing of it lately. Don't let it die out, for we are in hopes that we can get another road through the county in some direction. A little girl has been arrested for setting fire to the house of Phelia Stynes on Tuesday morning, and will have a preliminary to-day. The evidence we are informed is pretty strong against her. Mrs. L. D. Champlin, after spending some months with her mother near Camden, has returned to Winstboro. Her many friends will welcome her back and wish her a long and happy stay. Mr. Boggs informs us that Atkinson's Comby Company, which has been playing in most of the Southern cities, will present Peck's Bad Boy, in his Opera House on the 27th inst. The public may expect something good from this company. Mr. Garrison has brought to our office some fine turnips which are the third crop upon the same land this year. He first planted them, then corn and after these had been gathered he planted his turnips which are exceptionally fine.

The Atlantic Coast Line from Columbia to Charleston has probably done more to advance the comforts of railroad travel than any other road in the South. It is always a pleasure to pass over their line, as the officials are so polite and attentive to the wants of all passengers. The Rockton pack has placed at our disposal a lot of fox skins and furs for distribution to the Winstboro Kennel Club. This for the preservation of the wind of the High Sheriff of the county, who, we understand, has to do the catching before the dogs. We have received a copy of the address delivered before the survivors of the Twelfth Regiment, S. C. V., in 1884 by Edward McCready, Jr. The reunion was held in Wallaha on the 21st of August, 1884, and was largely attended by members of the Regiment from this county, who doubtless heard the address. We are informed by the authorities of the Winstboro National Bank, that the deposits at present are not more than half what they were at this time last year. They attribute this shortness to the fact that a large amount of cotton is being held by men in the county. We are glad to think this is the explanation, as our prospects are gloomy if it is not the case. We call special attention in this issue to the advertisement of Center & Clarke, a first-class dry goods establishment. In their store will be found a first-class stock of general dry goods usually found in a first-class dry goods store. Give them a call and be convinced that they give bargains in every department of their stock. The public will be glad to learn that the Rev. A. Coke Smith will deliver a lecture in the Methodist church at this place, on Thursday night the 19th inst., on "What to Do, and How to do It." There will be an admission fee of twenty-five cents. We need not speak of Mr. Smith as a lecturer; our people know him, and feel sure that they will hear something good.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!—Now is the time to get bargains in Ladies' Dress Cashmires, Flannels, Worsteds, etc. Velvets to match. D. A. HENDRIX. Next door to National Bank.

THE LEGISLATURE.—It is only a little more than ten days until the Legislature will meet, and we think it is almost time that our correspondents were suggesting laws which would benefit their section. The press of the State has been quiet, and very few laws have been recommended. Let us hear from you.

GERMAN CARP.—We were shown on Wednesday a fine specimen of German carp from the pond of Mr. G. B. McCants. A number of them were put in his pond about two years ago, and in letting it off on Wednesday he found a fine lot of fish. The one shown us measured twenty-two inches in length. Mr. McCants has devoted considerable attention to fish culture, and has been quite successful.

MARRIAGE.—Married at the residence of the bride's father, on the 10th inst., Mr. J. W. Harrison, of Reidsville, S. C., and Miss Lillian V. Smith. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. P. Marion in his usual happy style, and the newly wedded pair commenced their new life with the best wishes of their intimate relatives and a host of friends. We wish them a long, happy and useful life.

SHOES! SHOES!—Don't buy your shoes and boots until you come and look through our stock. Our prices will convince you that we are actually selling cheaper than the cheapest.

D. A. HENDRIX. Next door to National Bank.

ADVERTISING.—The following lines show unwise economy: "Oh no," said Slow, "I don't believe in advertising; My trade, you know, Won't bear it—that there's no disguising."

Down grade his trade Kept going steadily and daily, And caused to fade The prospects that had bloomed so gaily.

TRAMPS.—Our town has had a flood of tramps all fall, and it is a mystery how few depredations have been committed. We notice that an attempt was made one day last week to forcibly enter the residence of Dr. A. H. Davega, in Chester, and that it was only through main force from the inmates that the attempt was not successful. We need some protection from the insults and depredations of this class of men, and the man who will suggest a suitable and effectual remedy, will be entitled to a chromo from his fellow-citizens.

A SAD DEATH.—We are pained to announce the death of Little Aiken Eggleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. DuBoise Eggleston, which took place on Monday night last. The little fellow was sick for about six weeks, and was a great sufferer. He was about four years old, and was an unusually bright and interesting boy. His death is a sore affliction to his parents and family, and these have the deep sympathy of their numerous friends. The funeral services were held in the Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon, and the interment was in the family plot in the cemetery.

WINSTBORO AT THE FAIR.—Our town generally sends down to Columbia a large representation during fair week, but this year it has been exceptionally large, and our streets on Thursday looked almost deserted. Up to Friday morning three hundred and eighty-seven tickets had been sold, which makes a good representation from Winstboro. The crowd in Columbia was an exceptionally quiet one, but the pickpockets were out in full force and several of the Boro boys suffered from their presence on the grounds. It seems almost impossible to keep this class of men from the crowd on such occasions, and for boldness some of their robberies could not be equaled.

A SHOOTING SCRAPE.—A shooting affray took place near Cornwall's Turnout about a week ago between Wain Dorr and Henry Ruff, in which the latter was painfully injured. The former was arrested and placed in the guard-house at Blackstock. After being in some time, he concluded that he could burn his way out; so he set fire to the building in hopes that he could make his escape in the confusion which would follow the discovery of the fire. He found his plan a rather dangerous experiment, as he narrowly escaped being seriously burnt. He was transferred to the Chester jail on Saturday last, thoroughly convinced that it would be better to stand his trial than to attempt to burn his way out again.

THE FIRE.—About eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning the fire bell tapped, and soon the whole force was out and ready for the fire. It was soon discovered that it was in the house of Phelia Stynes, a colored woman living on Dr. McMaster's place, but was soon extinguished before any of the companies got to the cistern. It was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, as a piece of fire and some kindling was found on the sill under the corner of the house. We were struck at the time at the promptness which all of our companies displayed when the bell was sounded, and with what good humor they took it when they found that it was a small affair, and did not necessitate the calling out of the fire department.

PROF. WILLARD AND MISS DAVENPORT.—The entertainment given at Boag's Opera House on Tuesday night, by Miss Davenport, assisted by Prof. Willard, attracted a good audience. Shortly after eight o'clock the performance began and for two hours the crowd was highly entertained. The tricks of Prof. Willard were carried out as successfully as we have ever seen by any one. The trick of allowing two persons from the audience to examine a box, lock and key, and then getting inside and telling them to tie it securely with ropes and that he would succeed in getting out was successfully performed. The box was examined after he had gotten out, and found to be in the same condition which it was in when tied by the gentlemen from the audience. The performance of Miss Davenport was as mysterious as those of Prof. Willard, and we have found no one who could explain satisfactorily how the bell was rung, and how she succeeded in throwing a number of articles out of the enclosure while her hands, neck and feet were securely tied. The performance was quite as good as the average performance of this kind, and would be highly entertaining to those who have never witnessed such an exhibition.

FAIRFIELD EXHIBITORS AT THE FAIR.—As usual our county was well represented in the different departments at the recent State Fair, and the exhibitors have every reason to be proud of the showing which was made, and the number of premiums carried away. The following is a list of the premiums taken by Fairfield exhibitors: Best Ayrshire bull 2 to 3 years, Gen. John Bratton. Best Ayrshire cow 3 years, Gen. John Bratton. ITEMS FROM CEDAR CREEK.

Since our last, there has not been nothing of importance in our locality save a few weddings. On last Wednesday evening, at the residence of the bride's mother, near Byethwood, by the Rev. J. M. Hood, Mr. H. A. Brown to Miss Emma Wootan; all of Fairfield. Thursday evening, by the Rev. J. K. McCain, Mr. H. M. Lever to Miss Mattie Ballentine; all of Fairfield. The building of Pine Grove Church was given to Mr. Robt. Dunlap, who is progressing with the work. The house has been raised and the work is going on rapidly, and the time is not far distant when the people of Pine Grove will have as good and as comfortable a church as is in the county. The children and friends of Mr. Daniel Leitner celebrated his sixtieth birthday. A good many people were present.

ITEMS FROM HORSE.

The cotton crop is shorter than half, and the farmers are alive in sowing, all along the road from Jennings's store to Winstboro. Dr. J. C. LaBorde's oldest daughter was buried at Cedar Creek church. She was thirteen years old—the pleasant little girl—full of love for everybody she knew. The funeral services were preached by the Rev. J. K. McCain. The tobacco which Mr. J. P. Feely planted is pronounced by an agent of the Durham Company to be of the finest quality. He would give twenty-five cents per pound for the sample shown, and has engaged Mr. Feely to plant next year all he can well work. Mr. Feely planted this year only fifty hills as an experiment. The crops are nearly gathered. Most of us will have empty pockets by Christmas. There are several of the neighbors who have their own lardner—not to be filled from abroad. The hogs look fine. Some of them net 250 pounds each. JUNIOR.

ITEMS FROM MORRIS CREEK.

Messrs. Editors: The short cotton crop made in our section of the county has been nearly all picked out, and our people are beginning to see far enough through the year's work to ascertain whether they will come out behind or otherwise. Sometimes it so happens that the crop and the man are both failures. But coming out behind does not necessarily imply that the man is a failure; for he may have done his duty so far as industry is concerned. But what a wonderful thing cotton has become since the war! The master of some and the servant of others. Some make it as a sort of auxiliary, as our fathers did before the war. Others depend upon it to pay for everything they consume; with the latter it is not only King, but often a cruel tyrant. But still it will buy, prospectively, mules, meat, bread and almost everything else; and that, too, without knowing how much we shall make, or what we shall get for it. But when some international congress fixes a uniform price we shall be able to make it with far less uncertainty. Another remarkable peculiarity about the cotton crop is that the yield so seldom goes over our first estimate. While in nice cases out of ten it falls below. Hence we often hear of one-half, one-third and one-fourth of a crop. Now I think I could have a pretty clear conception of these simple fractions if I could just know what a full crop is, but unfortunately for me I have never been able to find out. Would it not be well to allow for contingencies, or to base estimates upon past experience? The only certainty about it is the expense of trying to make it, and the harder we try the more we increase the expense, whether we increase the quantity produced or not. Some days ago Mr. Robert Crawford had his hand severely and very painfully injured by being caught in the machinery of his mill. Mr. Laban Chappell has taken charge of the Morris Creek school. Many of our schools opened on the 2nd inst. As usual at this season of the year much is said in regard to our public schools, and I have heard very different opinions expressed in regard to some things connected with them. But of this I shall speak next week. MORRIS CREEK.

ITEMS FROM BLAIR'S.

The weather continues changeable. Wild geese are numerous on Broad River. Foot peddlers are rather on the increase. "It is school these days and it is cool these nights." Broad River is much swollen by the recent heavy rains. Most of the farmers are through sowing in small grain. The weather very much indicated a cyclone a few days ago. Cotton picking in some of the fields has become exhausted. "When the Roses Come Again" is a favorite song of one our star-gazing sentimentalist. The exercises of all the public schools in this school district have been resumed. The culture of tobacco is contemplated by some of the farmers in this section next season. The establishment of a Baptist Sunday School at the Broad River school-house is talked of. So mote it be. Mr. S. Carter expects to leave Fairfield for the "Lone Star State" some time next month, on a visit to his relatives. The crops generally are better in this section and especially on Broad River than they have been for quite a number of years. Mr. Wm. M. Blair, one of our esteemed citizens, who has been dangerously ill, is, we are glad to say, improving rapidly. Mr. G. B. Counts, our esteemed friend, who has for several days past been quite unwell, is improving slowly, and soon we hope to see him again actively engaged in the marts of business. Mr. Eddie Blair, our enterprising young friend chases to play "Physician" as his part in the great drama of life, as he is daily reading medical works, a knowledge of which he is rapidly acquiring. Some of the farmers of this section planted largely in peanuts this year, the vines of which alone paid them handsomely, as they afford a most excellent forage for cattle, to say nothing of the peanuts. A bull once attempted to but a locomotive off the track. The history of that experiment is referred to the young man who would oppose a reading club for the edification of the young in his immediate vicinity. Mr. J. B. Frazier, our mutual friend and enterprising farmer, anticipates moving to some other section of the county next year to enlarge his farming interest. Don't go, James, as there may be danger of some of the girls being made melancholy. D. E. J.
