LITERARY NOTES.

"A Youth's Health Book," in the Half-Hour Series, will give a great deal of good advice for very little money.

A little missionary book on "The Advantages and Necessity of Popular Education in Church Music" is in press by A. D. F. Randolph & Co.

The next volumes of Harper's brown-paper novels will be "Deceivers Ever," by Mrs. H. Lovett Cameron, and "Less Black than Painted," by James Payn.

"Hathecourt," by "Ennis Graham" (Mrs. Molesworth), author of "The Cuckoo Clock," and other popular children's books, will shortly be added to the "Leisure Hour Series."

Dr. D. Hack Tuke, one of the leading authorities in England on morbid psychology, is about to print, through Macmillan & Co., a volume on "Insanity in Ancient and Modern Life."

One of the bright books for Summer reading will be from the pen of Mr. W. L. Alden, who will have the aid of the pencil of Mr. F. S. Church. G. P. Putnam's Sons will publish the volume.

Professor Goldwin Smith, who has a decided antipathy to Jewish statesmen, is preparing a reply to the article in the current number of The Nineteenth Century, in which it is maintained that Jews are good patriots.

Harper & Bros. will presently issue the handy little books of the Half-Hour Series in cloth bindings, many of them being demanded in permanent shape. Nothing, save some flexible binding, has been necessary from the outset to make thoroughly captivating little gems out of most of the books of this series.

The Literary World, apropos of the approaching centenary of Phillips Academy, Andover, prints in its May issue an elaborate article on the literary history of the academy, introduced by two sonnets from the pen of Dr. Ray Palmer, one of its alumni. A sonnet by Miss Charlotte F. Bates, "At Hawthorne's Grave," commemorates the date of his death, May 19, 1864.

Sir Joseph Hooker, President R. S., and Mr. John Ball, F. R. S., are about to publish through Messrs. Macmillan & Co. the journals kept by them during their visit to Morocco and the Great Atlas in 1871. The volume will also contain a sketch of the geology of Morocco by Mr. George Maw, F. G. S. The illustrations will be prepared by Mr. Edward Whymper from materials supplied to him by the authors.

The glories of Colorado and California find an appreciative admirer in "H. H.," whose "Bits of Travel at Home," uniform with her "Bits of Travel" abroad, already enjoyed by hosts of readers, is just ready at Roberts Brothers. The new book includes also some "bits" of New-England, where "Saxe Holm" used to live. A view of Colorado Springs, "H. H.'s" present residence, drawn by Thomas Moran, prefaces the volume.

GEMINI,
The latest of the "NO NAME SERIES," is a genuine New-England idyl; pure and sweet, and as natural as it is delightful.

"The lover of a sterling work of fiction will read 'Gemini' with a sentiment of gratitude—it is so genuine, honest, serious and unpretending in its character. There is little room for doubt that it is by one of our most popular and prolific authors, who has given us a long series of brilliant and fascinating stories, that have charmed equally the old and the young. Her books have generally more gayety and buoyant sprightliness than the present one, which keeps to the minor key throughout; but there are none among them all that will be more universally liked. * * * Its literary style has all the ease, and fluency, and vividness that mark Miss Alcott's writings."—[Chicago Tribune.

ORGANIC LAW of the SEXES.—Physiological Marriage; Natural Instinct directs the Choice; Evil Consequences of Conventional Marriages; the Sexes Positively and Negatively Electric; Proof that Life is Evolved without Union; Effect of Tobacco; Influence of Phosphoric Diet; Chemical Substitute; Structure, Varicocele; Arrest of Development and other Diseases which impair Vitality; Circumcision; it Encourages Evolution and Promotes Purity and Healthful Maturity; it Prevents Disease; Two Methods; Caution in the Selection; An Unsuspected Cause of Mental and Physical Decay; is it Consistent with the Preservation of Health to Limit the Increase of Family?

Modern Treatment of these Diseases, abridged from lectures to his private surgical class, by Edward H. Dixon, M. D., Editor of The Scalpel, No. 29 5th-ave. 40 pages. 25 cents.

The Scalpel, in six volumes, of 500 pages, neatly bound for the library, $18.

"Every line from the pen of Dr. Dixon is of great value to the whole human race."—[Horace Greeley's Review of Woman and Her Diseases.

"Dr. Dixon has made an audience for himself by the strength of his style and the boldness of his views. His great experience in his profession will always give weight to what he says. His works are always read with profit."—[Boston Traveller.

"Dr. Dixon is a man of the greatest capacity to teach. Every page is weighty with knowledge and experience."—New-York Daily Times.
