DONNELLY'S FRIGHTFUL EXPERIENCE.

HIS AGONIES IN THE HOLD OF THE CITY OF CHESTER.

James Donnelly, the stowaway, who was discovered on Friday night in an almost lifeless condition, in the freight hold of the steamship City of Chester, where he had hidden himself prior to that vessel's departure from Liverpool, twelve days before her arrival at this port, and who has lived there without food, drink or fresh air until discovered, was able to tell a portion of his experience on Saturday. When discovered he could not speak audibly, and was only partially restored to consciousness when he was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Donnelly stated on Saturday that he was from Dumbarton, Scotland; that he left there on September 21, with about 40 cents in his pocket, with which he paid his fare to Greenock. He arrived at Liverpool on Sunday, and after being without food for forty-eight hours, asked one of the longshoremen to hide him on the vessel. This was refused until he had given the man a bottle of beer. In a half hour afterward Donnelly was fastened in the hold among the freight, with neither food nor drink. After suffering the most intense agonies from hunger and thirst, he scraped the dirt off the boxes; this contained a certain amount of salt, and although the taste was repulsive his hunger was so great that he swallowed it. After a lapse of six days he fainted, and knew nothing more until he found himself on deck under the doctor's charge. He often cried for help, but his cries were not heard by anyone except a dog, that would go to the hatch and bark. The barking of the dog was an annoyance to the passengers, and he was removed to the upper deck. Donnelly says he has an uncle in Olneyville, R. I., who is captain of the police, and other relatives on Long Island.

RUMORS OF A RAILROAD STRIKE.

MEETINGS OF THE EMPLOYES OF DIFFERENT ROADS —OPINIONS OF THE OFFICIALS.

An anonymous advertisement announced on Saturday that a convention of the employés of each division of the Erie, Lake Shore, Harlem, Central and Hudson River Railroads would be held at Buffalo, October 16, to adopt measures to obtain peaceably the increased wages promised. It is claimed by the employés of some of the roads that when wages were reduced in the Summer of 1877, it was promised by the officers that the former rates should be restored whenever the business of the roads should warrant it. The carrying trade of the roads, it is said, has increased largely, but the promises given the employés have been forgotten.

It was said on Saturday by persons likely to know that if the object of the convention was to prepare for a general strike on the roads named, the meeting would not be a success. The number of persons out of employment was a powerful factor against the success of labor strikes. Officers of several of the roads interested had not observed the notice, and apparently placed very little confidence in it. They believed the prospects of a general strike among their employés were very slight, and they knew of no especial causes of complaint.

A business meeting of the General Committee of the Locomotive Engineers of the Erie Road was held last week at Susquehanna, and a convention of conductors will be held within a few days. There seems to be an unusual activity among the organizations of railroad employés, but it is not generally believed that a strike is contemplated. The employés in this city know very little about the proposed Buffalo convention. It is stated that the meeting will be held by the Brakemen's Union, a secret association, said to have great numbers and strength, and to be the society which originated the strikes of 1877. It is strongest on the Western railroads, but is represented on the Erie and has considerable strength on the Lake Shore and Central Roads.

THE COAL COMBINATION WEAK.

REASONS FOR EXPECTING A RUPTURE OF THE COMPACT.

Rumors were current on Saturday of a probable break in the coal combination. It was stated that the action of the Board of Control at Long Branch in extending the time of the combination until April 1 could not be carried into effect until the Lehigh Valley Company's operatives should have given their consent. Operatives had been called to meet at Bethlehem to-morrow, but it was stated on Saturday that the call for this meeting had been revoked, the operatives being decidedly opposed to the extension of the existence of the Board of Control. It is the opinion of one of the leading coal operators that this action by the Lehigh Valley operatives will have a tendency to break up the coal combination, and that the Philadelphia and Reading Company will disregard the demands of the present combination before the date of the expiration of the compact on December 31, and begin to mine coal regardless of the limited allotments.

At the offices of the Delaware and Hudson and Philadelphia and Reading Companies in this city, the officers in charge denied the truth of the rumored rupture. At the Lehigh Valley office it was stated that if any action of the nature referred to had been taken, it had been at the home office in Philadelphia, and it was not officially known here.

PRINTERS' MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The semi-annual meeting of the New-York Typographical Society was held on Saturday evening last, at the rooms of the Printers' Library, No. 3 Chambers-st., and consisted mainly of memorial services in honor of its dead members. Wm. Cullen Bryant and Wm. Niblo, two of its distinguished honorary members, had died since the last meeting, and this was the first opportunity the printers had had to come together for reflection. Messrs. E. M. Skidmore and Charles C. Savage, trustees of the society, spoke of the friendship and kindness of their departed friends, of the interest they had always taken in the art preservative of arts, in the successful festivals of the society, and in the celebration of the birthday of Franklin.

The following resolutions, offered by Mr. Skidmore, were adopted:

Resolved, That the New-York Typographical Society desires to hold in remembrance the decease of William Cullen Bryant, a member, whose sudden death from accident on the 12th day of June, 1878, deprived our fraternity of a revered associate, the community of an honored and upright citizen, and the world of an eminent journalist and poet.

Resolved, That this resolution be entered upon the records, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family, with the loving sympathy of the members of our society.

CONTROLLER KELLY'S OFFER.

Controller Kelly has written a letter in reply to a criticism in The World of this city, of the monthly statements of the city debt issued from the Controller's office. In this letter he shows how the statements are made up, and defends them as accurate. In conclusion he writes:

This is an aspersion upon the integrity of the officers of the Finance Department, implying that they are misstating facts, which if true should consign them to infamy. I now desire only to say that if the charge of "manipulation" of the figures of the city debt is seriously made, I throw open the books of the Finance Department, as I have done before, for full examination by any competent persons that may be selected by you or any other of our citizens interested enough, without regard to their politics or party affiliations, whose report will be accepted as conclusive.

SHOT IN THE HEAD IN A POUND.

Charles Sims, age twenty, received a probably fatal wound on Saturday from Robert Craig, keeper of the Twenty-third Ward Pound, Brooklyn. Sims had been employed by Craig to drive cattle to the pound, but they quarrelled and Sims was discharged. Saturday afternoon Sims, accompanied by two men, forced his way into the pound. Sims flourished a broken-bladed knife, threatening to put it in Craig's heart. Craig raised a club, but did not use it, and Sims repeated his threat. Craig then drew a pistol and fired, the ball entering the inner corner of Sims's right eye. Craig was arrested. He says that he drew the pistol in self-defence, and that he did not intend to shoot Sims, his purpose being only to frighten him. Sims was taken to St. Catherine's Hospital, and the physicians say that he will probably die.

VESSELS AND SEAMEN IN DISTRESS.

The American bark Chalmette, from Iloilo, Philippine Islands, put into this port for repairs on Saturday, before proceeding to Boston. On June 19, off the east coast of Africa, Florencia Rivonata, a seaman, was lost overboard. On July 2, off Algoa Bay, she encountered a heavy gale, which damaged the rudder-post, and made it necessary to stop at St. Helena for repairs. On September 12, in the neighborhood of the Leeward Islands, she encountered a hurricane, and lost several sails. The brig Bogota encountered the same hurricane on September 16, while on the voyage from Santos. She lost several sails, and on September 29 Captain Johnson found he was short of provisions. The schooner M. B. Oakes was just then sighted going south, and colors were set to attract her attention. Captain Gray, of the latter vessel, supplied the Bogota with provisions, and declined to accept remuneration. The bark Meta Breckwoldt, on her voyage from Pedang, spoke the Dutch brig Rudolffini, from Java for Rotterdam, on August 7, and found the crew of the vessel, excepting the two mates, sick. She supplied them with provisions and medicine.

DECORATIVE ART SOCIETY'S LOAN EXHIBITION.

The second loan exhibition of the Society of Decorative Art will open October 15, at the Academy of Design. The articles for the exhibition have been selected with great care, by the committees in charge, from many private collections. The Picture Committee will make its report to-day. Some new pictures brought from Europe by W. H. Vanderbilt have been promised, the display of old American portraits will be large. William C. Prime has offered his entire collection of ceramics to the Committee on European Pottery. During the exhibition, which will continue six weeks, lectures on art will be delivered by Charles Dudley Warner, William E. Griffis, General Di Cesnola, William C. Prime, John L. Hayes and C. C. Perkins. On the night preceding the general opening of the exhibition a private reception will be given.

THE SILVER LAKE MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED.

Nothing has been discovered yet to clear away the mystery surrounding the body found near Silver Lake, Staten Island. The German, August Keymal, has failed to identify the man he saw digging near the lake. Coroner Dempsey anticipates new and important discoveries within a few days or a week. Much complaint is made of the action of the Stapleton postmaster in withholding from the detectives the name of the holder of letter box No. 154. The officers hoped in this way to establish the identity of Mrs. Alexander's correspondent, but they have been baffled by the postmaster.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Births last week, 489; marriages, 125; deaths, 516; arrests, 1,517.

The Bureau of Street Cleaning reports 2,176 miles of streets cleaned during September, 61,434 loads of ashes removed, 29,696 loads of street dirt, and 628 loads of garbage.

The Board of Excise granted 332 licenses in September, and deposited with the City Chamberlain $13,535. From October 1 to October 5, inclusive, thirty-four licenses were granted and $1,575 received in fees.

A postal convention of publishers will be held in New-York on October 9, to take steps to secure the passage of the bill now before Congress relative to the classification of mail matter and the postage thereon.

Two tramps who came begging to the door of St. John's College, in Fordham, and were fed, repaid the kindness by searching the clothes of a number of the boys who were playing base-ball, and taking away three watches and all the money they could find.

James Hayes, a cook at the Hanson House, and Charles Buckley, of No. 327 Spring-st., drank together repeatedly Saturday night, and then began to fight. Hayes fired a pistol at Buckley, and the ball wounded his head slightly. Hayes has been held in $1,000 bail for trial.

Officer Joyce, Saturday night, found a party of tramps in the unoccupied store at No. 325 Avenue-A, making merry over a cag of beer which they had stolen from a bar-room near by. An aged tramp was toasting "Ben Butler and the Greenbackers" when the officer surprised them.

The police are looking for a mysterious stranger, reported lost by the firm of Whitemore, Cabot & Co., of Boston. The man's name cannot be ascertained, and nothing is known about him outside police circles further than the supposition that he has committed suicide while out of his senses.

John Manning and John Kane quarrelled yesterday morning in Water-st., and Manning, seizing a soda water bottle, beat his opponent with it so badly that he was taken to Bellevue Hospital in a critical condition. Two ribs were fractured. Kane lives at No. 311 Water-st., and is nearly fifty years old.

The Inman steamship City of Richmond, which sailed for Liverpool on Saturday, took, in addition to other cargo, 250 tons of fresh beef; the National Line steamship Helvetia, 20 horses and 538 quarters of fresh beef; the Circassia, 61 head of cattle and 991 quarters of fresh beef, and the Sorrento, 300 head of sheep.

Arrangements were made Saturday for holding a public meeting at an early date at the Cooper Institute to consider the treatment of political prisoners in England. The proceeds will be given toward the testimonial funds to the released prisoners, Condon and Melody. They will make statements of their treatment while in prison.

Ferdinand Behringer, his wife and two children, arrived from France in the steamship St. Laurent September 5. On September 17 Behringer engaged rooms on West Twentieth-st., paying two months' rent in advance. Since that time he has not been seen. His wife fears that he has been murdered, or that he has gone off with another woman.

There were exposed for sale on Saturday, in Washington Market three species of fish, rare in these waters, caught off Seabright the day before: a lady-fish about two feet long, resembling in appearance a striped bass; an albecore, resembling a bonita, but twice as long and broad; a creature somewhat like a Lafayette fish, but twice as broad and heavy, with a rounded nose.

François Boucher, the proprietor of the St. Felix Hotel, at No. 159 Bleecker-st., died suddenly on Saturday night in great pain. His death was attended with circumstances that seemed suspicious, and Dr. Fontaine, the family physician, informed the police, who summoned the coroner. The autopsy yesterday revealed that the man died of rupture of the heart, and thus disposed of all suspicion.

During the progress of the wake at the house of Mrs. Mary Delaney at Tenth-ave. and One-Hundred-and-twenty-fourth-st., John Conroy interrupted the harmony of the proceedings by remarking that he could whip the entire crowd. John Delaney rebuked him whereupon Conroy knocked him down and bit his nose off. Yesterday Judge Kasmire committed Conroy in default of $1,000 bail.

There was a brisk demand for Government bonds on Friday and Saturday, especially for 4 per cent bonds. The First National Bank on Saturday subscribed for $1,000,000 of the popular loan to meet demands from Chicago, Cincinnati, Pittsburg and St. Louis, and a very large order from Kentucky. The total bond operations of this bank alone for Friday and Saturday were in excess of $5,000,000.

Michael Dohohue and James Bingham, two inmates of the House of Refuge, resolved to take the life of Thomas H. Mullady, a keeper. Donohue having secreted a knife, approached Mullady stealthily from behind and plunged the knife into his back. The two boys told Judge Kasmire yesterday that they intended to kill Mullady. There were committed without bail. Mullady will probably recover.

It was thought by many riflemen that the match for the Sharps Rifle Company's prize of $250 in gold at Creedmoor would be a perpetual one, as the winner must lead all other competitors at the three long ranges —800, 900 and 1,000 yards. It was won, however, on Saturday by Frank Hyde, with a Sharps rifle, on a score of 206. J. L. Paulding won The Turf, Field and Farm badge at 200 yards, with a score of forty-six in a possible fifty.

Norman C. Martin, alias George Warren, alias Samuel Warren, was arraigned at the Tombs on Saturday for alleged complicity in the forgery of the $64,000 check on the Union Trust Company in the early part of 1877. The only evidence against him being that of Horace E. Brown, that he had seen the prisoner in the office of George W. Chadwick about the time of the distribution of the proceeds of the forgery, Justice Kilbreth discharged him.

Henry K. Stevenson, Mrs. Mary Brown and Monroe Fields, all colored, started in a row-boat to cross the East River. By some mismanagement the boat was upset and all were thrown into the river. Stevenson endeavored to save Mrs. Brown, when, as he says, Field seized him, and to save himself he had to let Mrs. Brown go, and she was drowned. The men were rescued by a passing tug. Justice Kasmire, before whom the men were taken, held them for further inquiry.

William Rahlesen, proprietor of a variety theatre at No. 812 Eighth-ave., was tried on Saturday in the Court of Special Sessions for violating the section of the Excise Law which forbids the sale of liquor in any place where there is a theatrical performance. Rahlesen was found guilty and sentenced to a fine of $250 and imprisonment for three months. A stay for the purpose of an appeal was denied. Afterward a writ of habeas corpus was obtained with the same object, returnable to-day in Supreme Court, Chambers.

A suit for $100,000 damages has been begun by Friedman & Co., of No. 17 Broad-st., against the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company. The plaintiffs claim that they were doing a brokerage or exchange business similar to that done in the Stock Exchange, but on a smaller scale, to which the stock and gold indicators were an absolute necessity, and that before business hours the Telegraph Company, on September 30, removed their instruments and refused to return them. This case grows out of the effort of the company to break up the so-called "blackboard shops."

A ballet dancer named Amelia Hock, who has for several months past lived in an unfurnished garret at No. 301 Mulberry-st., was arrested recently on a charge of insanity, and on Saturday last was sent to the Island for one month by Justice Morgan. Miss Hock was born in Germany, and came to this country four or five years ago, appearing in the well-known "Black Crook" spectacle in a prominent part. Recently she has been without employment. It is said she was parsimonious, and denied herself the necessities of life.

A private exhibition was given Saturday in the Aquarium at Coney Island, of a number of trained American horses, which are soon to be exhibited at the Aquarium in this city. They are said to be the first American thoroughbreds ever trained for the ring. These horses have been in process of training since last April, the trainer being M. Oscar, who has trained horses for the King of Hanover and for Hengler, the well-known circus proprietor of Europe. They were brought from Kentucky. The horses performed a variety of difficult and amusing feats with ease.

An injunction was granted on Saturday, by Judge Donohue, restraining from the exercise of its corporate rights the United States Corset Company, of No. 541 West Twenty-third-st. Application for the appointment of a receiver will be made probably to-day. The company was organized in 1872, with a capital of $200,000, and has paid until recently 10 per cent dividends. The manufactured goods were sold through Ammidown, Lane & Co., large stockholders in the company, and a chattel mortgage for $125,000 on the machinery was given to Mr. Ammidown, as trustee, in May. A judgment for $1,171 against the company has been obtained within a few days.

In August, B. R. Linard, a lithographer, at No. 201 Broadway, and a resident of Elizabeth, N. J., disappeared with his family, leaving, as reported, heavy liabilities. It has been learned that he is in San Francisco, having gone away while suffering under great mental strain, on account of business difficulties. His liabilities it, now appears, were not over $12,000, less than half of the amount rumored, and his debts were almost entirely business ones. Before he went away, Mr. Linard made an assignment of all his property to his general creditors; his wife's property having already been mortgaged and the money raised upon it put into the business.

The police of the Ninth Precinct have been unable to discover where the handsome young woman is who disappeared from No. 105 Charles-st. over three months ago. Her name was "Katie" Carroll, and she kept house for her father and brother, both of whom are day laborers. On the day when she was last seen she passed the stable where her father was at work and gave to another workman a little paper parcel, saying, "Please give this to father and tell him I am going into the country." Patrick Carroll opened the parcel and found in it a $5 bank note. He rushed out to the street, but the girl had disappeared. One of the brothers visited Staten Island after the discovery at Silver Lake, but he failed to identify the body of the woman found in the barrell as that of his sister.

BROOKLYN.

To-morrow will be the second day for the registry of voters. The number registered on the first day was about 5,000 less than on the first day in 1877.

Edward Goldrick, of No. 57 North Third-st., had his skull fractured Saturday night, during a quarrel with Patrick Hughes. Both men were intoxicated. Goldrick was sent to the hospital, and Hughes locked up.

A committee, consisting of Supervisors Bryne, Curran, Anderson, Eger, and Van Cott, has been appointed to investigate a charge of alleged collusion between a supervisor and the contractor engaged in repairing the Blissville bridge.

Charles Freshman's apartments, at No. 78 Marion-st., were entered on Saturday night and robbed of a valuable gold watch and chain. The watch was highly valued, having been presented to a relative of Mr. Freshman by Napoleon Bonaparte.

Charles A. Hartsook, age thirty, was found nearly insensible in Hudson-ave., at 1:30 a.m. yesterday, by Officer Dougherty. He stated he had been assaulted in the City Park, but refused to give the name of his assailant, although he admitted that he knew it.

Contracts are to be made this week, it is announced, for the erection of gates at nine crossings on Atlantic-ave., east of Nostrand-ave. He cafter locomotives which permit no smoke to escape will be used on the Atlantic Avenue Division of the Long Island Railroad.

About 1,000 persons witnessed the base ball match at Prospect Park on Saturday, between the Polytechnic Institute Nine and the Columbia College Club, of New-York. The score stood: Columbia College, 8; Polytechnic Institute, 5. On the Union Grounds the Fly-away Club, of New-York, scored their eighteenth victory for the Metropolitan championship, when they defeated the Aster Club by a score of 12 to 3.

Miss Elvina G. Thornton, a teacher in Public School No. 13, in Adelphi-st., was arraigned before Justice Walsh on Saturday, on a charge of assault and battery, in beating one of her pupils, Percy S. Robbins, with a rattan. The boy's father is Charles W. Robbins, a shipping merchant, of No. 110 Adelphi-st. He asserts that he had to employ a physician to cure the wounds on his son's back. Miss Thornton pleaded not guilty, and the examination was adjourned.

A new ferry-house at the foot of Broadway, Brooklyn, E. D., has been building for two months. The property is used by the New-York and Brooklyn Ferry Company, which operates the ferries from Broadway and Grand-st., Brooklyn, to Grand and Roosevelt-sts., New-York. The new structure, which will be completed the present week, is 250 feet in length and 120 feet wide. The building will be lighted by 250 gas jets. It is from this ferry-house that the proposed new line to Forty-second-st. will run.

To the Israelites of the United States:

We have never obtained any funds from home associations except by specific instructions. We have in continual employment thirteen physicians, provide for thirty orphans outside of the asylum, and attend to and entirely support over 500 sufferers. We have not sufficient funds to carry us through ten days; the destitution is greater than ever, and will increase for a month longer. We therefore appeal to the Israelites of our country to aid us promptly in this unparalleled calamity.
