SATURDAY, NOV. 9—P. M.

The bank statement for this week shows a sharp contraction in loans, with a still greater decline in the deposits. The gain in specie was $1,155,500 greater than the loss of legal-tenders, and the balance between the two sides of the account, as shown by the published items, indicates an outgo of $1,554,800 country bank notes. Compared with that of the corresponding date of 1877, the present statement shows: Loans increased, $4,255,900; specie increased, $7,608,700; legal-tenders increased, $652,000; deposits increased, $17,180,300; circulation increased, $2,185,400. The week's movement results in an increase of $2,341,950 of the surplus reserve, leaving it now $12,844,200 in excess of the reserve required by law. The total reserve ($65,528,600) now is 31.09 per cent of the total deposits, against 29.87 last week, and 29.59 for November 10, 1877. Deducting the specie in full from the deposits, the greenback reserve ($39,155,400) now is 21.23 per cent of the remaining currency deposits, against 21.02 a week ago, and 22.02 at the same date of 1877. The following are the comparative totals:

	Nov. 2.	Nov. 9.	Differences.
Loans	$244,311,800	$249,224,200	Dec. $4,787,600
Specie	24,144,100	26,372,200	Inc. 2,229,100
Legal-tenders	40,219,000	39,155,400	Dec. 1,063,600
Deposits	215,443,400	210,737,600	Dec. 4,705,800
Circulation	19,904,300	19,905,400	Inc. 1,100

The following shows the relations between the total reserve and the total deposit liabilities:

	Nov. 2.	Nov. 9.	Changes.
Specie	$24,144,100	$26,372,200	Inc. $2,229,100
Legal tenders	40,219,000	39,155,400	Dec. 1,063,600
Total reserve	$64,363,100	$65,528,600	Inc. $1,165,500
Reserve required against deposits	53,860,850	52,688,400	.....
Excess of reserve above legal requirements	$10,502,250	$12,844,200	Inc. $2,341,950

The results of the transactions at the Sub-Treasury for the week ended November 8 were as follows:

	Coin. Customs.	Coin. Totals.	Currency Totals.
Receipts	$1,602,000	$12,606,915	$3,076,329
Payments	.....	8,798,982	2,643,865
Balance, November 1	.....	124,029,440	45,947,331
Balance, November 8	.....	127,831,373	46,379,796

The Sub-Treasury and banks both report large gains in coin, the total of both amounting to $6,031,033 for the week, and to $15,181,142 for the last two weeks. Of course, this might be accounted for by transfers from other Treasury offices to the New-York office; but as there is no evidence of such transfers having been made, it probably is a fiction of bookkeeping, growing out of payments into the Treasury on account of bonds, which payments were nothing but credits to the Government on the banks' books, but were counted as specie at the Treasury.

The stock market to-day was at the command of any one who chose to assume control of it. The transactions in Lake Shore were rolled up to 28,500 shares at figures ranging from 68⅝@68¼ to 68⅞@68¾, and in Western Union to 27,700 shares. The last named stock, however, seemed to be less responsive to the rein than the other. First the stock opened at 94¼—½ per cent lower than the last preceding sale—declined to 93¾, rallied to 94⅝, again declined to 93¾, sold at 94½, and closed at 94⅜.

The Northwestern shares were firm, within a range of ½ to ¾ per cent fluctuations, closing neither at the lowest nor highest prices. The St. Pauls were less active, the common stock showing a final gain of ⅛ per cent, and the preferred stock a final loss of ⅛ per cent. Erie was dull between 18⅝ and 19, and Michigan Central was without sales. Although the market has paid less than the usual attention to the railroad meeting which has been in session in this city, undoubtedly some stocks today were purchased in the anticipation that Monday's papers would announce that something had been accomplished. Of course, nothing can be accomplished except on paper, but a pretence that something has been done very likely might stiffen the prices of stocks for a day. Relative to the proposed advance on east-bound freights after the 25th inst., there is not the slightest prospect that the rate from Chicago to New-York during the entire Winter will actually be as high as 30 cents, to Philadelphia as high as 28 cents, and to Baltimore as high as 27 cents. The prospects of the traffic for the next four months are too poor, and the certain competition—pools or no pools—is too great to warrant the expectation. But there is no doubt that the rates at the Stock Exchange will be much higher than they will be at the Produce Exchange.

If all signs did not fail in dry weather, the activity in and advance of the prices for such stocks as the Hannibal and St. Joseph, Wabash, and Iron Mountain—which to-day were prominent features of the market—might be accepted as an indication that the recent bull movement has culminated. The coal stocks to-day were not active, but firm, and rumor mentioned the name of a Broadway bank as having loaned a large sum of money on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western stock. It is probable that the rumor was started for speculative effect, and that it has no foundation in fact, because while such a stock may be a good enough collateral, at a sufficient margin, for Wall-st., it evidently is not a proper security for banks to make time loans upon. By the aid of 87,000 shares of three companies—Northwest, Lake Shore, and Western Union—the total transactions of the day amounted to 135,675 shares, but the market closed dull and unsettled.
