THE COURTS.

THE TILDEN INCOME TAX SUIT.

JUDGE CHOATE DENIES THE MOTION TO PUNISH MR. SYKES FOR CONTEMPT.

Judge Choate yesterday rendered his decision on the motion made in the Tilden income tax suit last Thursday, to have Martin L. Sykes, vice-president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, punished for contempt in refusing to obey the order of the Court directing him to produce certain books of the company in court. The motion is denied by Judge Choate, who says, after reviewing the case:

The question to be determined is whether upon this state of facts the stock ledger and vouchers of this corporation described in the subpœna are "in the custody" of the witness within the meaning of Section 868 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Upon the facts proved I am clearly of opinion that the books and vouchers called for are not, within the meaning of the Code, in the custody of the witness.

The evidence is sufficient to show that this corporation has removed these books and papers from the New-York office to the Chicago office, and that this has been done in pursuance of a standing rule of the company, making the central office of the company in Chicago the place where books not in current use and vouchers are kept. The books and papers were effectually removed thereby from the custody of the officer in charge of the New-York office and placed under the custody of the officer or officers in charge of the Chicago office. Such a rule is a reasonable and proper regulation for a corporation to make, a part of whose business is done in foreign States. This is not a case of a person expecting to be a witness disabling himself from producing papers by sending them away. It is not, therefore, necessary to consider whether the laws provide any remedy in such a case. Motion for attachment denied.

When the case of the Government against Samuel J. Tilden was called in the United States District Court yesterday morning, District-Attorney Woodford said that testimony was being taken still in other States, and neither side, therefore, was ready to proceed. The case accordingly went over for the term.

SENDING HIS BROTHER TO PRISON.

Edward Devlin, who gave his residence as No. 143 West Twenty-eighth-st., was arraigned before Justice Morgan yesterday morning, charged with having entered the liquor saloon of John Kane, at No. 152 West Twenty-eighth-st., on on October 28, and stolen liquors and cigars to the value of $40. Charles J. Devlin appeared as a witness against his brother, and substantiated the charge. He said that he had once been in that business himself, but for the last four years there had not been a blemish on his character. Edward had informed him concerning the robbery of Mr. Kane, and constantly annoyed him about taking part in such jobs. He had remonstrated with him, but in vain, and he didn't care what became of him, as he had found it impossible to reform him. Justice Morgan committed the accused man for trial in default of bail.

CIVIL NOTES.

In the suit of Robert Cushing against Catharine Cushing, Judge Van Brunt, in Supreme Court, Special Term, refuses to sustain a report of a referee for a decree of divorce on the unsupported evidence of two detectives.

In the suit of Hickson W. Field against Virginia E. A. Gibson, executrix, for the rent of New-Jersey property, Mrs. Gibson being executrix by virtue of the laws of New-Jersey, Judge Van Vorst, in Supreme Court, Special Term, decides that he has no jurisdiction and dismisses the complaint.

Judge Pratt, in Brooklyn, yesterday dismissed the writ of habeas corpus in the case of "Shang" Draper, and directed that he be surrendered to the Massachusetts authorities. Subsequently he granted a stay of proceedings until the appeal from the decision in the matter of the habeas corpus can be heard.

The suit of Cornelius J. Vanderbilt against his brother William H. Vanderbilt, the trial of which, in the Supreme Court, was given as a reason for adjourning the proceeding before the Surrogate, was called yesterday in Supreme Court, Circuit, before Judge Barrett, but reserved generally—that is, either side can call it up on two days' notice.

The trial of a suit by Thomas Coman, who has held various offices in this city, against the executors of Joseph Dowling, formerly Police Justice, for $6,000, was begun yesterday before Judge Donohue, in Supreme Court, Chambers. The defence is that both before and after Dowling's death Coman admitted that the money had been paid. The case is still on.

A fire telegraph pole at Grand and Suffolk-sts. fell August 3, 1876, killing Ann McGuire, and injuring a girl eight years old named Leah Frediger. In suits by the husband of Mrs. McGuire and the father of the child, tried yesterday before Judge Donohue, in Supreme Court, Circuit, the jury gave verdicts in the first case for $4,000, and in the second for $2,700.

A. Oakey Hall obtained yesterday from Judge Donohue, in Supreme Court, Chambers, a peremptory mandamus requiring the Department of Public Health to register the birth of Dion Boucicault's children, Eve, born December 10, 1857, and Dion George, born May 23, 1859. Dion Boucicault's own affidavit as to their birth, and as to the carelessness with which vital statistics were then kept, is supplemented by an affidavit of Dr. Frederick Bedford.

In the suit of Levi Parsons against the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, in which the plaintiff, as a stockholder of the company, claims that he was injured by the failure to declare him to have been elected in Kansas a director of the company, Judge Van Brunt, in Supreme Court, Special Term, decides that the suit is substantially a suit to review a foreign election of a foreign corporation, and the courts of this State have therefore no power in the matter.

The suit of John J. Corbett against Major Horatio G. Gibson to recover $10,000 for alleged libel was tried in the Circuit Court, Brooklyn, yesterday. The plaintiff was a private in the 3d United States Artillery, stationed at Fort Hamilton. He wrote several loveletters to the daughter of Louis De Comeau, who lived near by, and of these Mrs. De Comeau complained to Major Gibson. In a letter to Mr. De Comeau, Major Gibson spoke of Mr. Corbett as a "scoundrel." This constituted the libel complained of. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plamtiff for $100.

James E. Munson was appointed stenographer of the Surrogate's Court in 1865 under a law of that year, at $3,000 a year, and held his office until October 10, 1872, but from May, 1872, the Controller refused to pay him at a higher rate than $2,500, and Mr. Munson sued the city for $222. The city demurred on the ground that by the statute the salary was to be paid from the fees of the Court, and there was no allegation that they were sufficient to pay the salary. Judge Van Brunt overrules the demurrer, holding that the phrase in the law did not mean to limit the salary of the stenographer and the salaries of the clerks to the amount of the fees, especially as the Legislature afterward abolished the fees, and gives judgment for the plaintiff with the usual leave to the city to answer again.

COURT OF APPEALS.

ALBANY, Nov. 11.—In the Court of Appeals, Monday, November 11, 1878, present the Hon. Sanford E. Church, C. J., and associates. Motion calendar for Tuesday, November 12, 1878: Nos. 352, 368, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 355, 354. Day calendar for Tuesday, November 12, 1878: Nos. 103, 127, 31, 130, 131, 21, 78, 132. No. 23.—Elizabeth Salter, administratrix, etc., respondent, agt. The Utica and Black River Railroad Company, appellant. Argued by Francis Kernan for the appellant, and F. W. Hubbard for the respondent. No. 43.—Nancy Cordell, administratrix, etc., respondent, agt. The New-York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, appellant. Argued by Matthew Hale for the appellant, and J. H. Clute for the respondent. Case on.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The following business was to-day transacted in the Supreme Court:

James G. Tighe, of Brooklyn, T. M. Wilkes, of South Carolina, and S. W. Sanderson, of San Francisco, were admitted to practice.

No. 52—J. E. Stacey, plaintiff in error, agt. G. W. Emery, Supervisor of Internal Revenue.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Middle District of Tennessee. Mr. Emery, the defendant in the case, was a supervisor of Internal Revenue, and was sued by Stacey for causing the seizure of a quantity of whiskey belonging to him. The whiskey was libelled by the Collector of the Internal Revenue, under the direction of Emery, but the information was subsequently dismissed, the property released to the plaintiff and a certificate of the probable cause of seizure by the Collector granted. The defendant justified as Supervisor of Internal Revenue, and upon demurrer to his plea, judgment was given in his favor. The present writ of error is based on the grounds, first, that the certificate of probable cause, although it protects the Collector, who acted only ministerially, is no protection to the present defendant, by whom the order was issued; second, that a certificate of probable cause is no defence where the seizure is malicious. The Court holds that the defendant is entitled to the protection given by the Act of March 2, 1799. That the certificate of probable cause is sufficient to protect a prosecutor, and that the defendant is to be ranked as one of that class. The question of malice is held to be irrelevant. The judgment of the lower Court is therefore affirmed. Mr. Justice Hunt delivered the opinion.

No. 50.—Robert Dumont, impleaded with William E. Boorsem, plaintiff in error, agt. the United States.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New-York. This is an action of debt on a bond upon an ordinary bond for duties. The question raised is whether, according to the language of the bond ordinarily used by the Government, the surety is held for the amount of the duty, whatever it may be, or whether he is released upon payment of the definite amount stated in the bond, even when that amount shall afterward be declared inadequate. The Court holds that the surety is bound only by the condition of the bond, and that where in this case the condition is alternative, the bond was discharged by the performance of one of the alternative conditions. The judgment of the Circuit Court is therefore reversed, and the cause remanded for a new trial. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Mr. Justice Bradley.

No. 45.—Ainsworth R. Spofford, appellant, agt. James B. Kirk et al.—Appeal from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The principal question involved in the case is the validity and operative effect of an assignment of a pending claim against the United States; whether such an assignment, made before the claim has been allowed, and before warrant has been issued for its payment, has any validity either in law or equity. The Court holds that under the act of Congress, approved February 26, 1853 (10 Statutes 170), entitled "an act to prevent frauds upon the Treasury of the United States," the accepted orders under which the appellant claims, gave him no interest in the claim of the drawer against the United States, and no lien upon the funds arising out of such claim. His bill was therefore rightly dismissed in the lower Court, and the Supreme Court dismisses the appeal. Mr. Justice Strong delivered the opinion.

No. 55—J. M. Pritchard, surviving partner, etc., plaintiff in error, agt. the United States.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the West District of Tennessee. This action was brought by the United States against Edmunds & Pettigrew, commission merchants, to recover the value of a quantity of tobacco belonging to Glasier, Lukp & Co., of St. Louis, which was seized and forfeited in their hands for alleged fraudulent stamps and inspection marks, and subsequently, with the permission of the Collector, sold the proceeds to remain subject to the order of the Government until judgment of condemnation could be had. Judgment was not obtained, and the plaintiffs in error, after holding the proceeds of the sale four years without receiving any orders from the Government, turned them over to Glasier, Lukp & Co. The Court holds that the plaintiffs in error acted in good faith, and were not bound to hold the proceeds subject to the order of the United States more than a reasonable time, after which their obligation to Glasier, Luxo & Co. revived. The judgment of the Court below is therefore reversed, and a new trial granted. The opinion was delivered by Mr. Justice Miller.

No. 38.—Daniel Palmer, plaintiff, agt. Joseph W. Lowet. al.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of California. This was an action of ejectment by Palmer, the plaintiff in error, to recover possession of part of the Pueblo lands of San Francisco held by the defendants and their grantors by virtue of a Mexican title. The judgment of the lower Court is affirmed with costs. The Chief Justice announced the decision of the Court.

No. 55.—Hugo Seitz et al., plaintiffs in error, agt. the United States.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New-York. The judgment of the lower Court is affirmed. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Mr. Justice Clifford.

No. 5.—The Northwestern Fertilizing Company, plaintiff in error, agt. The Village of Hyde Park, et al.—In error to the Supreme Court of Illinois. The plaintiff in error in this cause—The Northwestern Fertilizing Company—was incorporated by an Act of the Legislature approved March 8, 1867, and authorized to establish, on ground which is now near the limits of the Village of Hyde Park, and maintain for a term of fifty years, chemical and other works for the reduction of offal to fertilizing compounds, the establishment, it is alleged, soon became so offensive as to be a nuisance. In 1869 the Legislature revised the charter of the village of Hyde Park, and expressly authorized it to "abate nuisances which are or may be injurious to the public health." In accordance with this revised charter, the municipality sought by an ordinance to prevent the carrying of offal through the village, and in 1873, after due notice, proceeded to arrest and fine the Fertilizing Company's employés for violation thereof. A bill was then filed by the company, praying for an injunction and general relief on the ground that it was protected by its charters from the operation of the municipal ordinance complained of. The Supreme Court of the State upon appeal dismissed the bill. Upon this general state of facts the plaintiff in error appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States. This Court holds that the existence of the nuisance is uncontroverted, and that the police power of the State, which belonged to it at the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and which it still possesses, is adequate to give an effectual remedy, since it extends to the entire property and business within its local jurisdiction, and the regulation and abatement of nuisances, is one of its ordinary functions. The decree of the Supreme Court of Illinois is therefore affirmed. Mr. Justice Swayne delivered the opinion of the Court. Mr. Justice Miller concurred in the judgment, but dissented from the opinion. Mr. Justice Strong dissented. Mr. Justice Field did not sit at the argument, and took no part in the decision.

No 207.—The United States, appellants, agt. Samuel R. Throckmorton, et al.—Submitted on printed arguments by Walter Van Dyke for appellants, and by Delos Lake for appellees, under twelfth rule.

No. 417.—The Missouri Valley Life Insurance Company, plaintiff in error, agt. James Sims.—On motion of W. H. Smith, in behalf of counsel for plaintiffs, dismissed with costs.

No. 65.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, plaintiff in error, agt. the Kansas Pacific Railway Company.—Argument continued by T. C. Sears for plaintiff in error, and by J. Bond for defendant in error.

Adjourned until to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

A DEFALCATION IN A GAS COMPANY.

BELLAIRE, Ohio, Nov. 11.—On last Friday night Henry D. Meek, bookkeeper of the Bellaire Gas Works, was charged with arson in firing the office for the purpose of destroying the books of the company, and thus covering up supposed defalcations. Meek had given a bond for his appearance on Saturday, but did not appear. It is supposed that he has fled from the country. Owing to the complicated condition of the books, the amount of the defalcation, if there is one, is not determined.

Dr. Barton, of Tryoli, has a habit of talking to himself when riding along the road. On a certain occasion, while indulging in this eccentric habit, he was met by a friend, and thus accosted: "Hello, Doctor! What the deuce are you talking to yourself for?" The Doctor pulled up his horse and replied: "For the very reason, sir, that it pleases me to talk to a gentleman who is capable of minding his own business—get up, Paul."—[Red Hook Journal.
