THE COURTS.

GAMBLING IN BROOKLYN.

Inspector Waddy and several detectives of the Brooklyn Central Office Monday night made a descent upon a gambling house kept by John, alias "Forty," Watson, in Bridge-st., near Fulton. Detective Looney knocked at the door and was admitted by Moses Richards. He proceeded up-stairs, followed by Detectives Corwin, Frost, Powers, Riggs, Corr, Folk and Ball. They found a game of faro in full operation, Watson being the dealer, and four men playing. Six arrests were made, and the prisoners were locked up in the Washington Street station-house. The table and other paraphernalia of the game were seized. The place is said to have been in operation for six weeks. The gamblers were arraigned before Justice Walsh yesterday. There names are John Watson, Moses Richards, Henry de la Motta, Augustus Vaughan, S. B. Dusenberry, John Spencer and James E. Raymond. Watson, the proprietor, and Richards, the doorkeeper, waived examination and were held in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury's action. The other prisoners at first pleaded not guilty, and were held in $1,000 bail for examination. Subsequently Raymond, Vaughan, Spencer and Dusenberry admitted the truth of the charge, and were fined $10 each.

Abraham L. de la Motta, of No. 398 Hudson-ave., Brooklyn, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Van Wagner, on the charge of dealing in policy slips. He waived examination and was held for the Grand Jury by Justice Walsh in $1,000 bail. Three colored men who were found in his place were held as witnesses.

NOT SUBMITTING TAMELY TO ARREST.

Frederick Simmons, a trackman in the employment of the Hudson River Railroad, was yesterday before Justice Morgan charged with disorderly conduct. Simmons said that Officers O'Brien and Reilly had seen him with John McCormick, who is a relative of his; that he escorted McCormick to his home. He then went to his dinner, and on returning to his work he passed Officers O'Brien and Reilly at Twenty-ninth-st. and Tenth-ave. O'Brien asked him what he had done with McCormick, and Simmons answered, "It is none of your business." Thereupon, so Simmons says, the officers set upon him and clubbed him. He ran under a Hudson River Railroad car and then into the office. Here it is charged that the officers captured and clubbed him again. James R. Cole and H. Corvis, jr., both employés of the company, were in court and wanted to testify. Mr. McCormick, jr., testified that his father reached home all right and that his money was not touched. Judge Morgan discharged the accused man, but did not take a complaint against the officers. Simmons took the officers' numbers and intends preferring charges against them.

YOUNG BURGLARS IN JERSEY CITY.

John England and Charles F. Markley, the two boys arrested in Jersey City Saturday evening, while trying to break open a hardware store, were arraigned yesterday in the Hudson County Court of Quarter Sessions. England, age sixteen, said he ran away from home because his father punished him for playing truant, and sent him to school regularly. He cried, and promised to behave himself if he was forgiven. Markley, age fourteen, seemed to take great pride in his exploits, and said he obtained his knowledge of the "duties" of a burglar from a number of weekly boys' papers, which he read regularly. Judge Garretson suspended sentence in the case of England; he will send Markley to the New-Jersey State Reform School.

CIVIL NOTES.

A suit has been begun against Samuel Rosenback and Isaac Lauterback, who recently made an assignment, by Jacob Hess, who charges them with buying on credit from him just before their failure. An order of arrest was granted by Judge Donohue, but the defendants at once gave bail.

The General Term of the Supreme Court in the Second Judicial District, yesterday rendered a decision affirming the conviction of Mary Morris, a notorious shoplifter, who was sentenced to the Penitentiary for four years and six months. A writ of error was obtained from Judge Gilbert on August 18, and three days afterward the prisoner was released.

Judge Van Hoesen has rendered a decisian in the case of Daniel H. Fitzgerald, in regard to the relative rights of the Bankrupt and State Courts. Fitzgerald was arrested on a State suit, and afterwards on his own application was declared a bankrupt, assigning his property under the bankrupt law. He now claims that having no property, he is entitled to his release. Judge Van Hoesen holds that, as he has deprived himself of his property, he cannot take advantage of the State law, but must apply under the United States law. The motion is therefore denied.

Mrs. Sarah Parker, the widow of George Parker, who died in Brooklyn, May 1, 1877, by her will bequeathed the greater part of her estate, valued at $30,000, to her brother-in-law, Charles Parker, and in case of his death it was to descend to his legal representatives. The will was contested by George Parker's sisters on the ground of incompetency and undue influence, and the will was rejected by Surrogate Daliey. The case was appealed to the General Term of the Supreme Court, which directed that the issues be tried before a jury. The case was on trial yesterday before Judge Pratt, in the Kings County Supreme Court.
