THE COURTS.

DEFINING THE EXCISE LAW.

ARGUMENT ON THE MOTION TO QUASH THE INDICTMENT AGAINST EXCISE COMMISSIONERS MORRISON AND MERKLE.

In the Court of General Sessions on Saturday a motion was made to quash the indictment against Richard J. Morrison and Philip Merkle, Excise Commissioners. The indictment is for a misdemeanor for an alleged violation of the law in granting to Byrne & White, of No. 19 West Houston-st., a license to sell liquors although they were not men of good moral character, did not have sufficient ability to keep a hotel, that a hotel was not necessary in the locality and that they did not have the necessary accomodation for a hotel as required under the statute.

Ex-Judge Dittenhoefer argued that under the law Byrne & White had only one thing to do—to propose to keep a hotel. They were not obliged to actually keep it at the time of the application for a license. The indictment charged that they proposed to keep a hotel, and therefore there was no neglect of duty by the commissioners. The indictment did not charge the defendants with intent to disregard and pervert the statute, and it was argued, where the intent makes the act an offense, it must be so charged in the indictment, like any other fact constituting the offence. Another point was that as the Board of Excise under the law consisted of three members, the action of two commissioners—two only meeting—was an absolute nullity.

District-Attorney Phelps in reply to the point that where the intent was a necessary ingredient of the act it must be avowed, contended that the principle did not apply in the case of the defendants. Had the indictment been for a failure to grant a license it might be a defence that two commissioners had no power to act, but having done what they had no power to do the defendants were clearly liable to punishment.

It was agreed between counsel that the argument should be considered as made, not only on motion to quash but on demurrer as well, so that an appeal may be taken immediately by either party. Judge Cowing took the papers and reserved his decision.

A RAILROAD RICH IN LAWSUITS.

THE NUMEROUS ACTIONS NOW PENDING AGAINST THE WABASH ROAD—A CURIOUS RECORD OF LEGAL COMPLICATIONS.

A hearing in the suit of Levi Holbrook against the Wabash Railroad Company has been set down by Judge Shope for April 10 at Pittsfield, Ill. The suit was brought last Monday in the Brown Circuit Court in Illinois, on the first mortgage bonds of the Quincy and Toledo Railroad, issued in 1865. The Wabash Company, in an affidavit sworn to by its counsel, admitted the allegations made in the complaint, but rested its defence upon technical grounds. The hearing in the Melov suit in the Fountain Circuit Court, Indiana, will take place at Covington to-morrow.

Owing to the refusal of the company to allow an examination of its books at Toledo, in obedience to the order of the Illinois Court, an application has been made recently to the United States Courts for a similar order.

Judge Drummond, of the United States Circuit Court, has informed counsel that he is unable, on account of an engagement at Milwaukee, to fix a date when he will hear the arguments. The motion has been made in a former suit in the United States Courts, brought by Holbrook, on bonds of the St. Louis division of the road.

The following suits are now pending against the Wabash Railroad: The Tyson suit, transferred in May last from the State Courts of Indiana to the United States Court in that State; the Tyson suit, transferred to the United States Courts from the State Courts of Indiana; the Holbrook suit, in the United States Court for the Southern District of Illinois; the Melov suit, in the State Court of Illinois at Urbana; the Melov suit, in the State Court of Indiana at Covington; and the Holbrook suit, recently begun on the Quincy and Toledo bonds, in the State Court of Brown County, Ind. These suits cover the first, second and consolidated mortgage and the equipment bonds. Prior to these suits, the last suit brought against the road was that of Harding, in 1877, which was settled. According to the statement of Treasurer Corneau, given last Summer in one of the Tyson cases, the compromise of that suit then appeared on the company's books as an asset of $129,240 98.

CARPETS, CURTAINS AND UPHOLSTERY.

Sheppard Knapp's large carpet and upholstery establishment, Nos. 189 and 191 Sixth-ave., ranks among the best known houses in the city. It has a wide reputation throughout the country, and sells largely to country dealers. The Spring campaign was opened a large reduction in several departments, which contain all the newest styles, designs and colors to be found in these goods. Among the newest designs shown are the Japanese carpets, which are generally in small figures or squares, in dull, rich colors, although occasionally they are found in bright, vivid hues. A great deal of yellow is seen in these Japanese carpets. This satisfies the present rage for yellow which is used for articles designed for personal as well as house decoration.

Something entirely new is found in the Italian or floral carpets. These, as may be inferred from their name, are in large floral designs with much green in leaves and foliage. Fern leaves are conspicuous among the flowers in these designs. The Persian carpets shown here are generally in light grounds with small bright Persian flowers scattered over them. One very handsome carpet is copied from a Persian rug, and contains all the rich colors usually combined in these rugs. A carpet of quaint design, combining both the Japanese and Persian designs and colors, is called the "Oriental composite" carpet. Handsome Smyrna, Indian and Persian rugs are shown in all sizes, from the tiny foot rug to the rug designed to cover the entire floor. The Knappistan rug is a specialty of this house, and is shown in a variety of colors and designs. The ingrain and cheaper grades of carpets are in designs and colorings following closely the designs of the handsomer carpets, and in price beginning as low as 35 cents a yard.

The upholstery department contains all the new materials in furniture coverings and trimmings. The newest material used for this purpose is the silk cashmere, which is shown in special designs.

A HAYTIAN CITY BURNED.

PORT AU PRINCE, March 20—An express messenger has brought to the Government news that the City of Miragoane was completely burned down during the night of the 16th inst. The fire broke out at midnight in the centre of the town, and in less than three hours there was nothing left of Miragoane but ruins and rubbish.

GOVERNOR M'CLELLAN'S APPOINTEES.

HIS POWER TO APPOINT JUDGES QUESTIONED.

[FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

TRENTON, April 4.—During the recent session of the Legislature Governor McClellan sent in to the Senate a number of nominations to the bench of the Court of Common Pleas. Accompanying the nominations was a message setting forth the advantages of a non-partisan judiciary. Taking him at his word, the Senate rejected the nominations of four gentlemen as Presiding Judges of the Common Pleas in Essex, Mercer, Middlesex and Monmouth Counties respectively, on the ground that their appointment would make the Court in those counties Democratic. The nominations were not renewed, nor were any others sent in while the Legislature was in session. The terms of the incumbents expired on March 31, and on April 1 the Governor issued commissions to the gentlemen who had been previously rejected, appointing them judges. They were sworn in and proceeded to perform the duties.

It now appears that there is some doubt as to the constitutionality of their appointment, and the principal argument is based on the report of the Committee on Elections of the United States Senate in the contested seat case of Charles B. Bell as Senator from New-Hampshire. It is understood by those who question the right of the Governor to appoint judges that the argument is that the appointing power exists, in fact, only in event of death, removal or resignation, and cannot usurp the elective power of the Legislature when the term expires by limitation. The Constitution of New-Jersey makes precisely the same use of the word "happen" as that of the United States. The argument of those who question the Governor's action is, therefore, the same as that of the majority of the Committee on Elections of the United States Senate. It is understood here that the Board of Freeholders in Essex County have already directed the Treasurer of the county to refuse to pay the appointee in that county and the boards of Mercer and Middlesex, which are also Republican, are prepared to adopt the same course.

NOTES FROM YALE.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

NEW-HAVEN, April 3.—This afternoon the ten men who were successful in writing for the Junior Exhibition Prize, spoke in the Battell Chapel. The subjects and speakers were as follows: "Savonarola" Edward M. Bentley; "Marcus Aurelius Antoninus," Edmund F. Green; "Edmund Burke," Le Roy B. Peckam, "Napoleon and Mexico," Edward S. Noyes; "Henry Grattan and Irish Liberty," Henry W. Taft; "Ignatius Loyola," Dickinson W. Richards; "Martin Luther," Doremus Scudder; "Our Country's Place Among the Nations," Sidney C. Patridge; "Peter the Great," William M. Hall; "The Armada," Frank W. Hopkins. The prize was awarded to William M. Hall, of Ashfield, Mass.

Monday evening the Yale Orchesta, assistedr by the Yale Glee Club, gave a concert at the Athenæum. This is the first appearance of a new organization, and their success was flattering. The orchestra's playing astonished everybody.

The newspapers all over the country still continue to announce that Mr. Herman Livingstone, of Yale, is to row against Mr. Goddard, of Harvard. It is not Mr. Herman Livingstone, but a younger brother of his, Mr. E. P. Livingstone.

There will be three more praise services in the Battell Chapel before the Summer vacation. The exercises include solo and congregational singing and a short address, and are deservedly popular. The dates are April 6, May 11, and June 15.

Professor Carter is delivering a series of very interesting lectures to those Seniors who take German for an optional, and a number from the other optionals come in to hear them.

The College Library has just been enriched by the gift of about 400 Chinese books, by Mr. Yung Wing, of '54, Chinese Secretary at Washington. This is the second gift of valuable books made by this gentleman to the library.

ARMY ORDERS.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The following order was issued to-day: The 22d Infantry will proceed from the Lake ports to San Antonio, Texas. The 10th Infantry, now in Texas, will rendezvous at San Antonio, and a sufficient number of men will be transferred to the 22d Infantry to bring the latter regiment up to fifty-four men per company. The remainder of the 10th Infantry will then proceed to Fort Wayne, Detroit, to be distributed to posts on the lakes.

Colonel John I. Gregg, 8th Cavalry, and Captain William O. Connell and Captain David A. Irwin, 4th Cavalry, who have been found incapacitated for active service, are retired in accordance with Section 1,251 Revised Statutes. Second Lieutenant George B. Cecil, 13th Infantry, has been ordered to report for duty as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the Michigan Military Academy, Orchard Lake, Mich., and Second Lieutenant Frank S. Rice, 1st Artillery, is relieved from duty at that Academy and ordered to his battery.

A general court-martial has been appointed to meet at David's Island, New-York Harbor, on the 4th day of April, for the trial of such prisoners as may be brought before it. The following is the detail for the Court: Captain J. T. Haskell, 23d Infantry; Captain D. H. Murdock, 6th Infantry; First Lieutenants Ira Quimby, 11th Infantry, F. A. Whitney, 8th Infantry, William Conway, 22d Infantry; and J. B. Guthrie, 13th Infantry, Judge Advocate of the Court.

BARNUM'S STREET PARADE.

The street parade, preliminary to the opening of P. T. Barnum's show at the American Institute, is announced for April 10. The preparations which have been made are extensive. One feature alone, the "orchest-melior," has been imported from Bremen at an expense of many thousand dollars. It can make as much noise as a band of 100 pieces. A chariot has been manufactured expressly for the instrument and cost $5,000. An array of horses and beautifully painted cages; a herd of elephants, the largest ever seen together; coal black camels, the only ones now exhibiting in this country, and many other novelties, will be in the procession. The show opens April 12.

Mr. D. is one of those who think Sunday was given for the purpose of enabling him to do little odd jobs about the house. His little three-year-old was coming down stairs last Thursday morning, and seeing her father pass through the front hall with his tool-box in hand, she cried out innocently, "Oh, papa, is this Sunday?"—[Boston Transcript.

Boston has a fashionable and very "tony" confectioner who has decided where the line must be drawn. A lady from Chester Park called the other day, bought some cake, and ordered it sent home. The "saleslady" said it would be impossible. "We deliver to the West End and Back Bay, but not to the South End."—[Boston Transcript.
