

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1886.

TERMS OF THE NEWS AND HERALD.—The weekly edition, four dollars per annum in advance. Weekly edition, two dollars per annum in advance. Single copies, five cents per annum, if not paid in advance.

NOTICE.—A. Williford & Son, On the Road—J. M. Beatty & Bro. Save Money—Q. D. Williford & Co. Photographs—J. H. Winburn, Photo Artist.

Notice.—A. Williford & Son shipped a car load of stock to their stables in Charleston on Monday.

Miss Minnie Cathcart, of Charleston, is visiting her cousin, Miss Ella Cathcart, at Adger's.

Messrs. M. C. and W. C. Robertson, of Columbia, are visiting friends and relatives in town.

The cool weather of the past week has taken its departure and we are in the midst of another heated term.

Job work done up in the neatest style at THE NEWS AND HERALD office. Save expense and leave your orders at our office.

Cotton through the country is opening very rapidly, and we may expect to see a new bale in this market in very short time.

A residence is being fitted up for Prof. Witherow in town until the dwelling near the College is completed, which will not be for some weeks.

We learned from a confidential source a few days ago that the Becheverson Protective Union would lose one of its most influential members at an early date.

The work of leveling the College green and opening the new street has commenced. When completed it will be quite an improvement to that side of the town.

We call especial attention to the advertisement of Q. D. Williford & Co. Their Quaker City Shirt is a perfect fit, and their Hannan Shoe is a delight to tread feet.

The watermelon crop is said to have been the smallest in this county this season that we have had for ten or twelve years. There have been very few good ones on the market.

Portions of the county were visited with heavy rains on Saturday night. On Sunday afternoon we had a hard rain at this place. These rains will brighten the crop prospects wonderfully.

Rev. J. S. Moffatt formerly of Ohio, has been called to the pastorate of the Associate Reformed church at Chester. Mr. Moffatt has been preaching at Charlotte, N. C., for several months.

We learn that there are only two candidates for the Legislature in Lancaster county up to date. One of these we are glad to notice is a brother "quill driver." We wish him success in the race.

The next term of the Court of General Sessions for this county promises to be a pretty lengthy one. Our jail is rapidly filling up, and the prospects are that the number will still be increased.

The first bale of cotton has been received in Columbia. It brought 8 9-16. This is a very bad beginning in price, but in common with everybody else we hope it will pick up before the season closes.

The colored base ball club of Chester played here on Friday. Two games were played one of which Winstonsboro won. The other was characterized by too much whiskey and rowdiness which finally broke up the game.

Messrs. W. R. Doty & Co., have recently painted their store building which adds much to its appearance. Other merchants of our town might profit by their example and do likewise. There is nothing like having a place which seems inviting, even though it be from the outside.

The catalogue of Mount Zion Institute is out. It contains about 150 names. We find among them nine Gladders, nine Lumpkins and eleven McMasters. It is not quite as solid as the school in the upper portion of the county which out of twenty-eight scholars contained twenty-five Brices.

We learn from a gentleman from the "dark corner" that the recent rains have much improved the crops in that section. Cotton, though small, is well fruited and shedding but very little. We hope the yield will turn out much larger all over the county than was at first expected. Another good rain at this time would help things considerably.

The Chester primary on Wednesday resulted as follows: Senator—J. P. Patterson; Representatives—G. H. McDaniel, A. O. Wylie, Maj. S. P. Hamilton; Probate Judge—W. A. Sanders; Auditor—W. A. Corkhill; Treasurer—J. B. McFadden; School Commissioner—W. D. Knox. Dr. T. S. Anderson was the only nominee chosen for County Commissioner. Another election will be held.

Those who went down from this place to Columbia in the hope of seeing some good ball playing last week, returned on Tuesday considerably disappointed and chagrined. It seems that the clubs which were expected did not put in an appearance, and consequently there were no games. The fever must be cooling off in the State since the big row in the Southern League.

HELENA CHANCE, BOYS.—We notice that there is a dearth of young men at Saratoga. The cry among the girls is anything so it is a man and he can dance. Here is a chance for some of our dancing young men to go up and harness in an heftress. No qualifications necessary except dancing.

CROP REPORT.—We have received a crop report from Price, Reed & Co., of Norfolk, Va., in which the probable average for this year in South Carolina, as compared with last year, is put at 74.50. This estimate is for August, but as different portions of the State, the estimates may be placed somewhat higher.

A NEW CISTERN.—The bricks are being placed on the ground for building a new cistern for the use of the fire department just in front of the old Aiken Hotel. Our people may look out for another raise in the per cent. for insurance. It seems that the better our town is protected from fire the more insurance we have to pay.

PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY.—Mr. J. H. Winburn, the photographer now at this place, is highly recommended by the best photographers of Atlanta, Ga., and by his customers generally. The specimens at his gallery are certainly very fine. This is a rare chance for real first class work at Winstonsboro, and all who would like to have pictures taken should avail themselves of the opportunity.

THE ICE CREAM FESTIVAL.—The festival at the residence of Mr. J. J. Neil on Thursday night was a decided success. There was a large number of people present, both old and young, and everybody enjoyed the entertainment immensely. The ladies having the festival in charge failed in their calculations and the cream gave out early. The sum realized was about $40.

POSTAL DELIVERY.—On October 1, 1886, the postal delivery system will be extended to all postoffices in the country. There will be free delivery to all places within one mile of the postoffice. This is according to a recent Act of Congress. Formerly only cities of a certain number of inhabitants had the privilege of this Act. There were only two places in South Carolina to which the law applied—Charleston and Columbia.

GOOD STREETS.—We venture to say that no town in South Carolina of equal population can show as much enterprise as Winstonsboro. Our streets have had a thorough working under the supervision of Mr. R. N. McMaster, and now present a most excellent appearance. The work on them required much time and money, but it has been well spent. Not only have the principal streets been looked at, but the humble back street bobs up serenely as a first class avenue. The present Council deserve much praise for their enterprise in this matter.

GOVERNMENTAL WHEAT.—Last winter we received several packages of seed from the National Agricultural Department for distribution. We gave Mr. Samuel L. McWaters a package of wheat labeled "Winter Glaze". Mr. McWaters put himself to much trouble in fertilizing, harrowing, etc., with the expectation of getting a fine variety of wheat. When this wheat matured he found five varieties, among them the common variety planted in this country. The Department should be more careful in their distribution and not cause farmers to go to so much expense without any adequate return.

EARTHQUAKE.—Early on Saturday morning a distant shock of earthquake was experienced by some residents of this place. The shock was not sufficient to arouse the whole town and cause them to rush around in terror, but to those who felt the shock it was unmistakable. Mr. Jno. J. Neil felt it and at first was inclined to believe some burglar was prowling around his house, but as none could be found he arrived at the correct conclusion. As it was, very few people experienced it, still the fact remains we had a regulation shock. Charleston felt the shock about the same time.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.—In pursuance of an invitation extended and accepted by Capt. B. R. Tillman, of Edgefield, he will address the people of Fairfield at Winstonsboro, on next Monday, the 6th September. Our people should be glad of the opportunity to hear from one who has given the agricultural condition of our State considerable study and thought. While the meeting is directly for the benefit of the agriculturists of our county, the public are cordially invited to attend.

PERSONAL.—The Rev. Dr. Jordan, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, returned on Thursday from his summer vacation.

Mr. U. G. Desportes left on Thursday for a short business trip to Texas. Mr. Q. D. Williford a promising young merchant has gone North to lay in his stock of goods.

Mrs. J. M. Beatty and family returned on Thursday from a visit to Sumter.

Mr. Henry Boylston, a former citizen of this place but now of Baltimore, has been on a visit to his mother. Mr. Boylston now holds a responsible position in the Northern Central Railroad offices at Baltimore. His many friends were glad to see him again.

Prof. R. Means Davis, of the South Carolina College, is on a visit to his brother, Mr. Jas. Q. Davis.

The Rev. Jno. T. Chalmers and Solicitor McDonald went to Statesville on Thursday to attend a meeting of A. R. P. Presbytery.

THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN.—The Greenbrier, Mossy Dale and Horeb clubs held their meeting at Dr. Smith's spring on Tuesday. There was an immense crowd present. Those people have the reputation of doing things up in first-class style, therefore they expected a crowd. They had speeches innumerable by the candidates, and if there was one thing that they had just a little more than another it was something to eat. Without a doubt it far exceeded anything of the kind we have ever attended at any campaign meeting.

The candidates were at Monticello on Thursday. Everything passed off quietly. There was a very good number present, but there was no regular picnic. The Jenkinsville club met with them. Several gentlemen from Winstonsboro went out.

The campaign closed here on Friday. All the candidates were present and made speeches. A barbeque was given to the candidates and visitors which seemed to be enjoyed by all. There has been little excitement in the whole business and everybody is glad it is over. The candidates will not rest easy, however, until the returns come in Monday night.

From special reports sent to THE NEWS AND HERALD, we make up the following statement of the vote in the Democratic primary held on Monday last:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Votes. Includes: Whole number of votes cast, 1,379; Necessary to a choice, 690; FOR REPRESENTATIVES: Thos. S. Brice, 820; Osmund W. Buchanan, 460; Chas. A. Douglass, 1,601; J. D. Hogan, 525; Dr. T. B. McKinstry, 398; S. R. Rutland, 777; FOR SCHOOL COMMISSIONER: Dr. John Boyd, 802; S. R. Johnston, 559; FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE: J. R. Boyles, 415; John A. Hinant, 583; A. A. Morris, 365; FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS: C. B. Blair, 165; L. C. Chappell, 73; W. W. Crosby, 292; J. R. Delleney, 269; Jas. Gelston, 37; H. A. Glenn, 633; J. R. Harvey, 360; J. G. Heron, 41; J. M. Higgins, 194; B. H. James, 71; P. C. Mellichamp, 131; G. B. Pearson, 149; J. L. Richmond, 177; D. H. Robertson, 204; J. A. Scott, 130; J. A. Stewart, 492; J. T. Stewart, 390; J. A. Tarkett, 197.

It will be seen that Messrs. Douglass, Brice and Rutland are nominated for Representatives, and Dr. Boyd for School Commissioner. Messrs. Hinant and Boyles make a second race for Probate Judge, and Messrs. Crosby, Delleney, Glenn, Harvey, Jno. A. Stewart and J. Turner Stewart for County Commissioners.

The second primary comes off on Friday next.

Henry Campbell Davis, Col. Henry C. Davis died of heart disease on the 27th inst., at Ridgeway, almost immediately after leaving the train on his return from an excursion to Asheville, North Carolina, and the vicinity. He had long been troubled with his heart, but for the past three years had been in unusually robust health. About three weeks ago, while visiting his son in Columbia, he had a slight premonitory attack, but paid little attention to it. While in Waynesville he had an attack of angina pectoris, it is supposed, and on the Tuesday following he had two more attacks—one on the train and one at his son's in Columbia. He seemed to have recovered, and on Friday returned home. He conversed pleasantly with his friends on the train, up to within a few hundred yards of reaching Ridgeway. When the train stopped his eyes were closed, and it was discovered that he had passed away almost in an instant without a struggle. As he had for some years been obeying the injunction prescribed to sufferers from affection of the heart to "lead a quiet and temperate life, avoiding all extremes of physical exertion or mental emotion," his sudden death is one of those inscrutable dispensations of Providence to which we must all bow with unquestioning submission.

Col. Davis was closely identified with the history of our county and State. He was the youngest child of Dr. James Davis, and was born in Columbia on the 6th August, 1823. He graduated in the South Carolina College in 1844, and for three years thereafter was College librarian. Admitted to the bar, he never practiced regularly; but, in 1868, marrying Miss Belle Means, daughter of the Rev. Robt. Means, he removed to Ridgeway in this county and engaged in farming. He took much interest in the development of this pursuit, was for several years president of the Fairfield Agricultural Society, and shared, we believe, with Governor Hammond the honor of making in 1857 the first sorghum syrup in the State—receiving two first prizes for sorghum products at the State fair in 1858. It will be remembered that this syrup was a mainstay of the Southern Confederacy.

While in Columbia he was a lieutenant in the Richland Volunteer Rifles, and, later on, commanded the Cedar Creek Rifles in this District, which company he raised to great efficiency.

In 1858, public opinion in the State was divided on the question of the Blue Ridge Railroad, and it was made an issue in politics. Captain Davis opposed the road, and ran for the Legislature. He headed the ticket by a handsome plurality, even against such strong competitors as Boylston, McCants and Rutland. Declining to run for another term, he was elected to the State Convention after an exciting but friendly political contest, the delegation being ex-Governor Means, the Hon. Wm. S. Lyles, Capt. H. C. Davis and Gen. John Buchanan. The Convention contained many able men, including Chancellors and Doctors of Divinity.

Later on Captain Davis entered the 12th South Carolina Volunteers, in command of Company C. He participated in active service and was wounded at Sharpsburg. He became Major, and then Lieutenant-Colonel. During one of Stonewall Jackson's forced marches, which Col. Davis took on foot, he was seized with an attack of heart disease, similar to that which has just ended his life, and came near to death. He was compelled to leave active service, and served while as an enrolling officer.

In 1864 he was again elected to the Legislature, with Messrs. Boylston and McCants—Mr. Boylston this time heading the ticket. Col. Davis was made chairman of the military committee; and one of his proudest thoughts was that, as chairman, he had succeeded, with the aid of others, in securing an appropriation of one million dollars for the Confederate widows and orphans. On that occasion Dr. James H. Carlisle made a speech which brought tears to the eyes of almost every member of the House.

When Sherman was approaching Columbia and the militia were called out, Col. Davis took command of the Fairfield contingent. The militia were disbanded at Lancaster, and returned to be retrained as homesteads and starving families.

Since the war Col. Davis had held no public position except, recently, that of postmaster at Ridgeway; but he took a lively interest in public affairs, and was ever on the side of conservatism and good government. For several years he farmed, but more recently was engaged in teaching. He dearly loved children, and it was his delight to hear them prattle around him, and he quickly won the confidence and affection of his scholars. He was a kind and indulgent father, whose every thought was for his children.

The last public appearance of Col. Davis was as orator on Memorial Day. Here in the Court House yard he delivered a touching address to mourning wives, mothers, sisters and daughters. Little was it thought that he would be one of the first to join his comrades "over the river". Col. Davis was affable and graceful in manner, frank and genial in character, a pleasing conversationalist, a fervent speaker, with a soul full of honor and a head and hand open to all. His day and his generation have passed, and he, another landmark, has been taken away. But his friends and acquaintances will miss him, and his family will mourn for the loving touch of a vanished hand and the gentle accents of a voice that forever is still. He was buried on Saturday in the churchyard of St. Stephen's at Ridgeway, by the side of his wife and his son Edward Palmer. Peace to his ashes.

ITEMS FROM LYLES' FORD.

Messrs. Editors: Having just returned from a trip to Newberry on a visit to my afflicted nephew, allow me to note a few items as to crop prospects. I left Major T. W. Woodward's on the 28th ult. for Mr. Stephen Gibson's, and saw no average corn after leaving the Major's corn-field, which was good, but in want of rain. I saw but little cotton that would average over fifty per cent. until I reached friend Gibson's. His I thought a full average; but not an acre of corn but was drowned by the high summer freshets. I saw an only field of corn approximating an average on the west side of Little River, en route to Dr. J. M. Glenn's, where I saw fine cotton, as also at Mr. David Glenn's and Dr. Jno. Wallace's. I saw no more average cotton or even a half crop until I passed, afterward, Newberry, where in the vicinity of Jalapa and Bush River Church I noticed some full crops of cotton and corn on red land. I need not say I was surprised at the late report of the State Department of Agriculture, giving the condition of the cotton crop of South Carolina—average 67. But to put the corn crop of Middle Carolina at 74, and average the same, I was surprised. I have conversed with many gentlemen from various parts of the State on 1st inst., and they have placed the corn crop above 25, and many at 10; and cotton at 50.

If the present crop of cotton exceeds 5,000,000 bales in the United States I will never grieve at the cotton crop again. Rain is wanted here in this vicinity, and the crops are poor. I am awaiting further material for the completion of my "Reminiscences of Fairfield", and expect to visit Winstonsboro during September Court, where I hope to meet many friends of my work; besides, I may be able to see plenty of turpentine for winter use, for stock and the table. W. E.

P. S. I saw several wagon loads of cotton on the streets of Newberry on Friday last. This does not denote hard times, especially for those who are farmers. I was told in Newberry that my article in your June issue was copied in the newspapers of Newberry, and several others, on the origin of cheat or chess in wheat and oats, and regarded as orthodox or correct by the old practical farmers. There was a large attendance on the 19th to hear the address of Farmer Tillman and county candidates. I noticed but little crab grass on stubble lands, the rag and hog weed have taken its place. It is said the former saw plenty of turpentine for winter use, for stock and the table. W. E.

Good Results in Every Case. D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, he did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial Bottles Free at McMaster, Brice & Kephlin's Drug Store.

PHOTOGRAPHS. HAVING opened my Gallery in Winstonsboro, I desire to call the attention of the public to the fact that I have a set of the finest instruments that are manufactured, working the latest improved formulae, together with the new instantaneous Process, and having all Photographs finished in Atlanta, Ga., by one of the finest Photographers in the South. I am prepared to do work in the best style. The public are invited to call and examine specimens of my work. Old pictures copied and enlarged guaranteed. Prices low, considering the quality of work. My stay will be short. Tell your friends. J. H. WILKINSON, Photographer.

COLORED TENANTS. Messrs. Editors: I beg space for the following, in reference to all whom it may concern. It has been said by one of the prominent doctors in this county that the negro race is running out, as they would die despite all the best medical attention which may be given them. I do not pretend to say that the doctor can entirely save their lives, but I will say that death among this race would be so frequent if they had better houses to live in. It is only by chance that a person can find a tolerable good house occupied by a colored family. As to mine, in order to make it comfortable, I was obliged to defray one-half of the expenses, while my employer was only willing to defray the other half; and to make it more comfortable I intend to do more than I have done.

I consider that my employer has done well compared to the average Fairfield landlord. I think the employer should be more feeling than to suffer his tenants to live in such bad houses. ROBERT T. TOATLY.

ITEMS FROM FEASTERVILLE. Messrs. Editors: As this is my debut in print, I hope you will give space in your columns for my letter. Crops are looking better than most people thought, the cotton crops that were worked out soon after the heavy rains in June, promises to be as good as they have had for several years. The corn crop is almost a complete failure, it will not average more than twenty-five per cent. of a full crop compared with that of last year.

The good people of Feasterville had a nice picnic on Friday the 20th inst., which was attended by a great many from some distance. We return thanks to the members of Crosbyville Cornet Band for the exquisite music, which served to render the occasion more pleasant. I do not believe there was a single candidate present, although politics was the topic of conversation to some extent, and I believe they have named the professional men "Dennis", especially the lawyers.

I am sorry that one class of citizens seem to be arrayed against the other, for it is utterly impossible to exclude any one class of men representation in the Legislature, or in whatever capacity they may offer to serve; to do so would be unconstitutional, especially when they constitute the most intelligent class of people we have. I believe in supporting a lawyer when we find one that has the interest of his county and State at heart; for we never know what a man is unless he is supported by the people, and give him a chance to show what he can do. I will say for instance, if the people of Edgefield county had never supported Mr. Butler just simply because he was a lawyer, we would not have had the able statesman that we so proudly boast of, and who is so well qualified to serve that position. I will close as I fear that I have written more about politics than will interest my readers from a young voter. R. X. Z.

And to Bone Scraping. Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Buckler's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle and Buckler's Arnica Salve at twenty-five cents per box by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

MOUNT ZION COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

THE next session of the Mount Zion Collegiate Institute and of the Graded School will open on Monday, the 14th day of September, 1886. The following able and experienced Corps of Teachers have been employed for the year, viz: Prof. W. H. Witherow, President, and Principal Common School Department. Prof. S. D. Dunn, Assistant, Classical Department. Miss E. S. O'Beary, 1st Assistant, Common School Department. Miss S. Lilla Beatty, 2nd Assistant, Common School Department. Miss Fannie Jordan, Music Department. Mrs. R. C. Gooding, Drawing Department.

A substantial and well-arranged brick building has just been completed, containing eight large, well lighted and ventilated school-rooms, furnished throughout with comfortable seats and desks and other necessary apparatus. Thus, the Trustees are enabled to offer to the youth of our Town and County a good opportunity of obtaining a practical education at very low rates. The curriculum is designed to meet the wants not only of those who wish to prepare for a more advanced course in any special department, but also of those who by a special course of one or two years wish to prepare for the practical business of life.

TUTT'S PILLS.

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA. From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to creation of body or mind. Excretion of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, feeling of burning malarial spots, dizziness, Flattering at the heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the kidneys and skin is also prompt, removing all impurities through these three organs of the
