WOOL—Messrs. Kitching Bros. review October as follows: The active trade in Wool has continued without abatement for the past three months, and has developed considerable speculative feeling both in manufacturers and dealers. As stocks are light, and the market entirely bare of many kinds, the good demand is likely to continue for an indefinite period. The active trade in Wool has continued without abatement for the past three months, and has developed considerable speculative feeling both in manufacturers and dealers. As stocks are light, and the market entirely bare of many kinds, the good demand is likely to continue for an indefinite period, and we must look abroad for the proper supplies. There has been an active demand for all classes of Domestic Wool, and prices have continually advanced. The supply of Low and Medium classes is inadequate to our wants, and we long this will be the case in regard to the finer classes, which are now above, Colorado, Texas and the Territory Wools have been sold as fast as received, and our market is are now comparatively bare. The demand for fine Foreign Wool has already set in, and Cape has been sold at an advance of about 10 per cent over the rates obtained ninety days ago. We shall no doubt have samples of Australian and Buenos Ayres Plate Wools in due time. These Wools are readily obtainable in Europe at short notice. The next London auctions of colonial Wools commence on the 18th inst. ## LIVE STOCK MARKET.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 7.—BEEVES—Receipts were 110 cars of 2,500 head—120 cars at Jersey City and 70 cars at Bethel. Total share Saturday last, 3,100 head, against 3,862 head for the corresponding six days last week. "Report the market the worst you ever saw, and tell them if they don't stop shipping in so many cattle they'll ruin us," was the emphatic reply of a prominent salesman at the 60th st. yards, when asked his opinion of the market. Subsequent inquiry went far toward confirming the above statement, and at the close the general feeling was that no more disastrous market to the selling interest has been experienced for years, not excepting the period of the railroad war some four months ago. Cattle had really no fixed valuation and the selling price was almost entirely controlled by buyers. At Jersey City the situation was not materially changed from the close on last Wednesday. There were, perhaps, more buyers in attendance, hence a little more activity at times. In order to clear out some loads which were unsold at a late hour sellers made slight concessions, but the general run of prices were very much the same as the current rates of Wednesday. Besides the fresh receipts there were 70 cars of cattle in the yards from previous arrivals—40 cars at 60th st. and 30 cars at Jersey City. Sales of Texans and Colorados were at 6@6¾c. to dress 55 lb; poor to fair Native Steers at 6½c. to dress 56 lb, to 6¾c. to dress 56 lb, good to prime at 8@8½c., to dress 56 lb, with a few cows at 2½@3½c. to dress 56 lb. Samuel Strasbourg sold 238 good and prime Kentucky Steers of 1,111 lb average, at 7½c., to dress 56 lb, part for export alive and part for shipment in quarters. Other exporters purchased close to 100 head.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts were 39 cars of 3,968 head—1 car at 60th st. and 38 cars at Jersey City. Total since Saturday 32,350 head, against 41,405 head for the corresponding six days last week. Sellers report no change either in the tone of the market or in prices. Buyers purchase sparingly and only to supply their immediate wants. There is no confidence in the situation except for strictly prime stock, and if the present warm spell of weather continues, prices are likely to be lower next week. Sheep sold at 3@4½c. for Poor to Good; no prime or extra lots offering; $5 40 was the highest figure at which a straight lot of Lambs sold (and some excellent stock changed hands) while a small lot of Poor Lambs went down to 4c.
