THE COURTS.

DENYING AN INJUNCTION.

JUDGE BLATCHFORD DECLINES IN THE DAKIN SUIT TO ENJOIN THE PAYMENT OF A DIVIDEND.

Judge Blatchford, in the United States Circuit Court yesterday, listened to argument upon motions for injunctions in the suits by the administrators of Henry M. Dakin against the Union Pacific Railway Company, the Kansas Pacific Railway Company and others, and in the suit by Philip W. Holmes against the same railway companies and Benjamin W. Lewis as trustee. Ex-Judge John K. Porter and Edward L. Andrews appeared for the plaintiffs, ex-Judge Dillon and Artemus H. Holmes for the defendants in both suits. The allegations and demands in the complaint have been published in THE TRIBUNE. The injunction especially asked for in the first suit was that pending the adjudication upon the demand that the agreement of consolidation among the railroad companies respondent should be vacated, further exchanges of stock under the agreement of consolidation and payments of dividends on the consolidation bonds be enjoined.

After prolonged argument by counsel on both sides, Judge Blatchford said that he did not think that this was a proper case to enjoin the payment of a dividend. It did not appear that the plaintiffs were in any danger. If they held stock in this new company, and it was a valid company, the company would eventually have to pay them their dividends. If the company chose to take the risk of paying other people when it ought to pay them, that did not injure the plaintiffs. It had never been held to be a ground for enjoining the payment of dividends because there was a dispute between two stockholders as to stocks. If this were such a ground then it might apply to any one fighting over five shares of stock. Even if everything claimed in the plaintiffs' bill was correct, Judge Blatchford concluded, the motion for the injunction must be denied.

The relief sought by the motion in the second suit was that pending its decision the defendants should be enjoined from paying any dividend on their stock until they should have resumed the payment in cash of the interest on the bonds secured by the income mortgage and from paying interest on the consolidated bonds until interest should be paid on the income bonds. Argument was begun upon this motion, but was not finished, the matter being adjourned over until this morning. Judge Blatchford intimated that unless something further appeared to change his opinion he would feel bound to deny this motion also.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A DULL SESSION—SIGNIFICANCE OF THE VOTE ON THE TOWNSHEND BILL—INCONSISTENT RULES.

WASHINGTON, March 26, 1880.

The House to-day refused, yeas, 121, nays, 81—not the necessary two-thirds in the affirmative—to dispense with the morning hour.

Mr. ROBERTSON (Dem., La.) said that yesterday he had voted for Mr. McLane's proposition for the purpose of bringing the Townshend bill before the House. Had he understood a certain decision of the Speaker he would have voted against the proposition, because he was not a Protectionist.

Mr. McLANE (Dem., Md.)—By what right does the gentleman give any such significance to that vote? I, for one, utterly repel and repudiate any such significance. There was no such significance in that vote. So far as I am concerned, it had no other significance than deciding the proper mode of procedure in the business of the House.

Mr. BRIGHT (Dem., Tenn.) moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

A long discussion ensued as to whether a two-thirds vote was necessary for the purpose of suspending private business and proceeding to the consideration of public bills, in the course of which an inconsistency was discovered in the rules, inasmuch as they provide in one place that it shall need a two-thirds vote to take up public business on a Friday, and in another that if a majority refuse to go into committee upon the private calendar, it shall be competent for the majority to proceed to public business.

Without determining the point the House, at 2:33, went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

The first bill on the calendar (of which there are about 350 in all) was one appropriating $5,000 for the relief of L. Madison Day, on account of property in New-Orleans purchased by him from the United States with a defective title. The bill was accompanied by a long report, the reading of which consumed nearly two hours. Then followed two strong legal arguments (which were listened to by the House with unusual attention), one by Mr. O'CONNOR (Dem., S. C.) in favor of the bill, and one by Mr. Hammond (Dem., Ga.) in opposition to it.

The committee then rose, without disposing of the bill and the House, at 5:20 p. m., adjourned until to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A letter has been forwarded by Secretary Thompson to Commander Potter, of the Constellation, saying:

As soon as her cargo is on board you will proceed in command of the Constellation to Dublin, in Ireland, and there deliver the cargo to "The Herald Relief Committee" for disposition at their discretion. You will make known to the committee that this cargo of provisions is contributed by a few generous-hearted citizens of the United States to relieve the wants of the suffering people in Ireland, whose condition has aroused extraordinary sympathy in the American mind. Congress, in obedience to this sympathy, has directed that these donations shall be conveyed on board a National man-of-war, and I have designated the Constellation for that purpose. I am sure it will be a more agreeable duty to you to take her without her guns upon this mission of peace and benevolence than to command her upon a warlike expedition. Your visit will remind the people of Ireland to realize that "peace hath her victories no less renowned than war," and that, in fulfilling these victories do more to create amicable relations between the people of different nationalities and to draw them closer together than the roar of battle.

When you shall have discharged the trust hereby committed to you, you will return to New-York and report your arrival to this Department.

Ensign Alfred Reynolds is ordered to ordnance duty at the New-York Navy Yard. Cadet Midshipman George R. Clark has reported his return home, having been detached from the Tuscarora, and is placed on waiting orders.

The Navy Department has received from the Baltimore Board of Trade a list of merchants who desire to be furnished with samples of the cotton recently sent here from Africa by Commodore Shufeldt of the Tuscarora. The Boards of Trade in New-York and other cities will be invited to furnish similar lists.
