THE COURTS.

ASSAULTING HIS MOTHER.

James Genghran, age twenty-three, was taken before Justice Otterbourg, at the Essex Market Police Court yesterday, charged with assaulting his mother, Mary A. Genghran, and was remanded to await the result of her injuries. Mrs. Genghran lived at No. 432 East Thirteenth-st. On Wednesday she refused to give her son money which he demanded, and he angrily left the house after knocking her down. When he returned the door was locked. Without knocking, he burst it open, and immediately struck his mother in the face. He then knocked her down and kicked her about the head and abdomen. She sustained injuries which it is feared will cause her death. She is in the Bellevue Hospital.

LOCKED UP ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

John Millar, late bookkeeper for Aaron Claflin & Co., wholesale dealers in boots and shoes at No. 116 Church-st. has been arrested for alleged false representations by which he obtained $4,144 98 from John H. Girvin, freighter at Pier No. 9, North River. Judge Potter, of the Supreme Court, granted the warrant on complaint of Mr. Girvin, and Millar was lodged in Ludlow Street Jail in default of $4,200 bail. Mr. Girvin alleges that in January, 1879, Millar while employed as bookkeeper with Claflin & Co. represented that he was a partner in the firm of G. W. Baily & Co. and T. O. Bailey & Co., and as they had no book account in this city persuaded Mr. Girvin to cash the checks drawn by Claflin & Co. to their order.
