Teachers.

A GENTLEMAN OF THIS CITY, having an English lady of rare accomplishments as tutoress for his daughter, is desirous of obtaining for her two, or at most three, more young lady pupils for the coming winter. They would form a private class and occupy the whole time of the lady each day, thus securing more attention and individual instruction than could be had in any other way. To parents desiring such an improvement over the private schools this is an opportunity seldom offered, as the lady is a thorough linguist, of great experience here and in England, and has the very highest testimonials from some of the best families in England and New-York City. Please address J. R. B., P. O. Box 80, New-York City, when full particulars and terms will be made known.
