LITERARY NOTES.

H. H. is credited with having written a novel for the Round Robin Series.

The Teacher's Edition of I. K. Funk & Co.'s revised version of the New Testament will be ready in October.

A cheap edition of Milman's Works, in six volumes, reduced a half in price, has been published by A. C. Armstrong & Son.

Mrs. Ellen H. Rollins, the author of "New England Bygones" and "Old Time Child-Life," died recently in Philadelphia.

Mr. J. W. De Forest has nearly ready a new story, dealing presumably with Southern life, for "The Bloody Chasm" is the significant title.

A young Englishman, Mr. Hensman, who, five years ago, was a reporter on a provincial paper, has written the best narrative of the second phase of the Afghan war of 1879-'80.

A writer who is described as "a well-known Californian" has sketched the life of the gold-seekers of '49 in a volume called "The Land of Gold," which A. Williams & Co. will publish shortly.

J. R. Osgood & Co. will publish in October "A Pickwickian Pilgrimage," by John R. G. Hassard, a reprint, with some additions, of letters written to THE TRIBUNE in 1879, on the localities of Dickens's novels in and near London.

The work on the early history of Illinois which the Hon. E. B. Washburne has been engaged upon is an elaborate account of "Governor Edward Coles and the Slavery Struggle of 1823-'24." It will be published during the autumn by Jansen, McClurg & Co.

Messrs Harper & Brethers have succeeded in getting a portrait of the late President Garfield after death, which will be printed as a two page supplement to Harper's Weekly, out to-day (Wednesday). The first page is devoted to a picture of the late President sitting in his invalid chair at his cottage window at Long Branch.

The autumn announcements of James R. Osgood & Co., omitting the list for September, which has already been given, include for October: "The Glad Year Round," a holiday picture and verse book by Miss A. G. Plympton; "Poets and Etchers," a quarto combining the work of American poets and well-known American etchers; "Aunt Serena," the new story by Miss Blanche Howard, who is remembered as the author of "One Summer"; "Japanese Episodes," by Edward H. House; "Events and Epochs in Religious History," a course of lectures by the Rev. James Freeman Clarke; "Original Portraits of Washington," by Elizabeth Bryant Johnston; "The Jeffersons," by William Winter [Vol. II. American Astors series]; "Ralph Waldo Emerson: His Life, Writings and Philosophy," by George Willis Cooke; "Songs and Lyrics, by Ellen Mackay Hutchinson; "The Poets and Poetry of Ireland," by Alfred M. Ware; "Eleanor Maitland," a novel by Mrs. Clara Erskine Clement; "Parisian Art and Artists," by Henry Bacon; "Eugene Fromentin," from the French of Louis Gonse; "The Elder and the Younger Booth" (American Actors series), by Mrs. Asia Booth Clarke; and Mr. Howells's new story, "Dr. Breen's Practice." Among their December books will be a new volume by Mark Twain, and the fourth volume of the American Actors series, "Charlotte Cushman," by Mrs. Clara Erskine Clement.

I. THE YORKTOWN CAMPAIGN. And the Surrender of Cornwallis, 1781. By Henry P. Johnston. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, $2.

The interest of Mr. Johnston's volume, "The Yorktown Campaign," is too apparent to need urging. Coming right upon the centennial of that famous historical siege, it makes a valuable souvenir of the celebration. The author has not only had the old authorities to work from, but the most valuable new material has come to his hand in the recently published manuscript journals of Washington, covering the events of 1781. * * * The volume is beautifully illustrated with engravings from the original paintings of Trumbull, Copley, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Gilbert Stuart and other famous artists, with a number of carefully prepared maps. The appendix is especially worthy of attention, as it contains much new and highly interesting material.

IV. INITIA GRÆCA. PART I. A First Greek Course. Comprehending Grammar, Delectus, and Exercise Book, with Vocabularies. On the Plan of the "Principia Latina." By William Smith, D.C.L., LL.D. 12mo, cloth, 60 cents.

"The great object of this work, as of the 'Principia Latina,' is to make the study of the language as easy and simple as possible, by giving the grammatical forms only as they are wanted, and by enabling the pupil to translate from Greek into English, and from English into Greek, as soon as he has learnt the Greek characters and the first declension. For this purpose only a few new words are introduced in each exercise, and these are constantly repeated, so that they cannot fail to be impressed upon the mind of the pupil."

☞ HARPER & BROTHERS will send any of the above works by mail, postage prepaid, to any part of the United States, on receipt of the price.
