

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1911.

TERMS OF THE NEWS AND HERALD.—The weekly edition, three dollars per annum, in advance. Weekly edition, one dollar and fifty cents per annum, in advance.

OUR AGENTS.—J. A. DESPORTES, Ridgeway, S. C. JAS. E. CRAIG, Blackstock, S. C. SAMUEL CLOWNEY, Woodward, S. C. W. W. CROSBY, Crossville, S. C. W. J. JOHNSON, Blythewood, S. C. F. C. LEO, Monticello, S. C. H. M. ZUZY, Darlington, S. C. T. G. PATRICK, White Oak, S. C.

BEAR THIS IN MIND.—Our subscribers who fail to receive the paper regularly will do a kindness by reporting such failure to us promptly that the cause may be ascertained and corrected. We print a copy for each subscriber and are anxious for it to be received. We know that it is very annoying for a paper to come irregularly, and if notified we will make every effort to see that such is not the case with THE NEWS AND HERALD. We propose to conduct this paper on business principles, and will not be satisfied until this is accomplished. So don't hesitate to let us know if you fail to get your copy regularly and promptly. You pay for it, and we want you to get it.

Disolution.—James Turner & Co. Just Received.—J. F. McMaster & Co.

Fair Notice.—McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

Notice.—J. Chestnut Revill, Winnsboro, S. C.

Notice for Final Discharge.—J. C. Tinkler, Administrator.

Drummers are plentiful nowadays.

Thirteen new subscribers on Monday.

Some cotton still comes in, but the supply is about exhausted.

It is said that a large crop of cotton will be planted this year.

There is not a vacant dwelling house in the town of Winnsboro.

The charter for the Savings and Loan Association has been received.

J. M. Beatty & Bro. will sell you a genuine hand-sewed gent's shoe for $3.00.

Many persons were made to see themselves as others see them on Valentine's day.

The sales of fertilizers have been greater this season than they have ever been in this market.

The Court House has been repainted and the yard cleared up and presents an attractive appearance.

The insurance rates on detached dwellings has been reduced to three-fourths per cent. on dwellings in town.

The County Commissioners have made arrangements with Mr. T. W. Lauderdale to cash jury tickets at par.

Eighteen candidates for Sheriff, if it is rumored, will test their popularity with the people in the coming election.

The Crosby Institute has been reopened under the tutorage of Mr. J. W. Jones. The school is quite flourishing.

The prohibition election in Abbeville county is fixed for Saturday, March 3, and in Greenville county on Tuesday, March 13.

Judy Part, a colored woman of Jenkinsville, died a few days ago, after being confined to her bed forty years with sickness.

A meeting was held at Flint Hill on the 14th inst., in the interest of the Chester and Camden Railroad. Further facts will be reported.

According to the report of the Winnsboro National Bank, there is on deposit $103,291.88 subject to check. This shows a prosperous county.

Three locations are spoken of for the summer military encampment—Greenville, Spartanburg and Sullivan's Island—with Greenville in the lead.

Court week is as good as a salsaday for subscribers. If a county court (which used to be agitated) would bring in as many we would be heartily in favor of the scheme.

Only a few pairs of those fine hand-sewed shoes remaining, at half their value, at Beatty's corner store.

Attention is called to the advertisement of J. Chestnut Revill. In addition to keeping sewing machines on hand he will also sell pianos and organs on the installment plan.

Our present Council is doing splendid work on the streets, and if the work keeps up at its present rate our streets will compare with any town of the same size in the State.

From our correspondent at Jenkinsville we learn that Mr. D. R. Elkin is about to inherit a considerable fortune. Some of his relatives have died in Texas without heirs except himself.

Every day or so somebody, who has been here before, tells us of the improvements noticeable—new houses, improved stores and a general air of business since they have last been here.

We have the stock law in this county, but we hear many complaints from farmers about the deprecations of cattle. Damages can be obtained, of course, but this generally is not not a sufficient consideration. The law should be enforced.

On the 6th inst. a respectable colored woman named Eliza Qualls was found dead about 2 o'clock at night at the door of her son-in-law, James Martin, at Flint Hill. A jury of inquest was empaneled and brought in a verdict of death from heart disease.

Mr. J. Groeschel is having erected in front of his store an awning, which will furnish a grateful resting place for the weary pedestrian during the long summer days, where the temperature of both the outer and inner man may be reduced without the expense of a trip to some fashionable summer resort.

We are pleased to see that Mr. Saling Wolfe is able to get out attending to business again. He has been confined to his room for several days, suffering from a severe cold. Mr. Wolfe has been a citizen of Winnsboro almost continuously for fifty years, and during all that time has never before lost a day from his business from sickness. We trust that his usual good health may attend him for many years to come.

The police of Lancaster must be among the "finest" as witness the following from the Lancaster Ledger: "Our chief of police is no respecter of persons. He laid hands on the Intendant of the town the past week, and also one of the town wardens. The former was fined $2 for losing his temper, and the latter for exercising his muscles in the heat of passion, $5. Our grave city fathers must learn to keep cool. They prefer paying fines, however, to swallowing abuse."

What has become of the heater for the fire engine? The town is able to purchase one and it should be done. A few minutes past at the beginning of a fire is worth a whole cistern of water after the fire has gotten well started. We hope this matter will receive the early attention of Council. The town has enjoyed great immunity from fire, but it should be remembered that we have a few very dangerous risks, and a March wind would soon fan the flames beyond the control of our firemen. Let us have the heater.

A farmer writing us from Buckhead about farmers selling their cotton seed says: "I recently read an account of farmers selling and hauling off their cotton seed. I cannot conceive a greater blunder. It strikes me that they are unfortunates as to all commercial fertilizers, never any as to cotton seed, as all sensible planters know. Think of hauling off fertilizers and hauling them back when the best is already at home. Cotton seed falls nowhere." This is most pungent advice, especially in view of the fact that our farmers have sold their cotton seed by the wholesale.

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

Mr. R. B. Boylston has returned home after an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He reports that the far west, though a very interesting part of our country, cannot induce him to leave our South Carolina. He failed to see any gold nuggets lying around loose, or lots that could be bought for ten dollars a day and sold for a thousand to-morrow. Upon the whole we gather from him that the same amount of pluck and energy necessary to succeed there if expended here will afford just as much comfort and happiness as are realized by those who live beyond the Rockies. Mr. Boylston says he saw General Bratton in San Francisco, with his son, Dr. W. D. Bratton, both of whom were looking well, and the General seemed to be having a "good time all round."

HONORS AT THE SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE.—The following young men from Fairfield were either distinguished or proficient in the recent semi-annual examination at the South Carolina College:

Senior Class—proficient, F. H. McMaster.

Freshman Class—proficient, R. M. Brice.

Special Students—proficient, F. C. Duke and E. S. Douglass.

Elective Students—proficient, J. R. Boulware.

Ninety per cent. and upwards distinguished; 75 to 90 is proficient.

PERSONAL.—Mr. G. W. Worthy, formerly of this place, but later of Florida, is well.

Mrs. S. S. Cook, of Georgia, a daughter of the late Osmond Woodward, and a former resident here, accompanied by Master Sinclair Booton, is visiting relatives here.

Capt. W. M. Robinson, of Georgia, formerly of this county, is visiting relatives in the Hallsville neighborhood.

J. C. James, Esq., who has been the efficient correspondent of this paper, from Ridgeway, will soon leave the county for his home in Cheraw. Mr. James has taught in the Ridgeway school for the past year with great efficiency. He will in future devote himself to the law. We wish him success.

ADVICE.—A correspondent writes us that the newspapers are constantly giving farmers advice, he would like to reciprocate. He tells us to send no one the paper without the cash—advice extremely good. All persons take notice to that effect. He also says it cannot be profitable to send out a paper (and make a living) for eight or ten years and then forgive the debt. Advice No. 2 is exceedingly good. We hope this point will be noted, also, by those interested.

"Say less about the high tariff and an overflowing surplus." Advice No. 3 we can't accept for the reason that the people should know exactly how a high tariff and an overflowing surplus works. We thus accept and reject some of our correspondent's advice. He may do the same with our farm advice.

MEETING OF THE B. P. U.—The Bachelors held a meeting on Monday night. In the absence of the president, T. W. Lauderdale, vice-president G. B. McCants officiated worthily. Air election for new members was entered into, and the following came under the protecting wings of the Union: H. L. Elliott, Jr., W. O. Brice, W. G. Templeton, A. B. Cartwright, W. D. Douglass, Q. D. Williford.

The following committees were appointed: Supper—E. B. Ragsdale, O. W. Buchanan, W. J. Elliott.

Invitations—J. W. Hanahan, E. M. Wilson.