SATURDAY, April 15—P. M.

To-day's stock market proved to be the natural outcome of yesterday's manipulation. A bank statement which in showing an increase of $4,144,500 in the surplus reserves was fully equal to general expectations and the extreme ease in money were factors favorable to higher prices, if the events had not been discounted by anticipation. Before the publication of the bank statement the market was active and strong, although as a rule the best prices were recorded at or soon after the opening of business. After its publication the market was dull and prices when not weak, were barely steady. Central of New-Jersey was a feature in the speculation, and at one time sold up to 77¾, but it closed at 76⅞, against 76¼ yesterday. Reading was conspicuous in the dealings because of its special weakness; it sold at 60⅝@57½@58½. Erie was exceptionally strong and closed at 36⅛—within ⅛ of its highest price. But of the general market there is little to be said beyond that it was strong at the opening and for the first two hours, and after that was weak whenever any effort was made to sell stocks. The market closed quiet, and as a rule at figures lower than yesterday's last prices.

Government bonds were not active, but quotations were advanced and the bids for the continued 5s recovered ⅜ per cent. For the 4½s the bids were ⅛ higher, and for the 4s ⅜ higher. Annexed are the closing quotations:

In State bonds Tennessee 6s were active and rose from 55 to 57⅛@56¾; but there were no new developments as to the reasons for the advance. Missouri 6s, 1887, sold at 110, and South Carolina 6s consolidated at 103½. There were no transactions in city bank stocks.

There was a well distributed business done in railroad bonds, but excepting in the speculative kinds the transactions were small and insignificant. Erie second consols were comparatively quiet, but their price fluctuated between 93⅜ and 94 and closed at the lowest figure, against 93½ yesterday. Missouri, Kansas and Texas seconds were steady at 63, and general mortgages at 81¼. Boston, Hartford and Erie firsts were ⅞ higher at 50@49⅞. Canada Southern firsts were firm at 95⅛@95. Morris and Essex consols sold at 123¾@123½. East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia consols were ¼ easier at 74¾, and the incomes were steady at 48½. Lake Erie and Western firsts sold at 102@101¾. Central and Hudson consols at 133⅞. Missouri Pacific consols at 103½@103, Peoria, Decatur and Evansville firsts at 105⅛@105, Richmond and Danville firsts at 100½@100¼, and Long Island 5s at 98. St. Paul consols were strong up to 121, and firsts Southern Minnesota division were ⅛ higher at 106⅞. St. Paul and Omaha consols were steady at 103@102⅞, and Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern firsts rose to 101½@101¼. Wabash general mortgages were active and rose from 80 to 82½@82. Kansas Pacific consols were ½ higher at 105½. Texas and Pacific firsts, Rio Grande division, advanced from 82⅛ to 82¾. Northern Pacific firsts were ⅛ higher at 101¼, and New-Orleans and Pacific firsts were ¼ lower at 85.
