RACING OF THE BEST SORT.

ONE OF CONEY ISLAND'S FINEST DAYS.

BIG FIELDS, EXCITING CONTESTS AND FAST TIME—BREEZE, JENNIE V., SIR HUGH, PINAFORE, HICKORY JIM AND WOODCOCK THE WINNERS.

It was no common day on the turf yesterday. No less than fifty-five horses ran in the six races at Coney Island, and among them were Parole, Glenmore, Checkmate, Pinafore, Jennie V., Breeze and many others of proved merit. They met on such terms as to test their speed thoroughly. It was a well-planned and a well-worked-out series of contests. A great many people took pleasure in these brilliant trials—so many that it is now likely that this meeting will surpass the most successful of those that have gone before at this convenient and comfortable course. Excellent time was made, and some of the running was singularly good. Pinafore was the star of the day. She was badly handled on Tuesday, but yesterday Donohue rode her with rare skill, and she proved herself a filly of a high class. Carrying 104 pounds she won the handicap of 1¼ miles, and Glenmore, Creosote, Parole, Checkmate, Fair Count, Carley B. and seven others came in behind her. It was a very strong field; she gave weight to every one in it, and yet she won easily. Some old turfmen now say she is equal to Gehenna and Shotover, the best of the English three-year-olds. This is nonsense. But Pinafore will be hard to beat in any race hereafter. Another fast filly of the same age is Jennie V., the winner of the three-year-old race. She got a bad start, but it did not prevent her from defeating Wyoming, Volusia and six others with plenty to spare. Breeze, the favorite, won the two-year-old race. It was a good day for fillies. The gentlemen's race did not result as expected; Arthur Hunter on Sir Hugh overcame a great favorite in Mr. Holmes on Disturbance, and thus got his revenge for many defeats at the hands of his rival. The moss-grown Brighton Beach "sprinter" Hickory Jim, whose origin is lost in the mists of antiquity, outran Bounce, Knight Templar, Queen, and eight more in the selling race. In the steeplechase Woodcock was last in the betting but first at the finish. There are many mysteries in racing. They were unusually abundant yesterday. The unbounded confidence of betting men in Creosote in the great handicap; the complete collapse of such horses as Checkmate and Parole in that race; the making such an old cripple as Knight Templar a big favorite in the selling race; the forcing of Revenge with his heavy weight at high speed before the steeplechase was half over. These were a few of the things to think over. Betting was copious, especially on the handicap.

DETAILS OF THE RACING.

First Race—For two-year-olds, purse $500, special weights, ¾ mile. Seven starters—P. Lorillard's filly Breeze, by Alarm—Blairgowrie (95 pounds, Riley); Scott's colt Punster, by King Ban—Puzzle (110, McLaughlin); Henry's colt Little Minch, by Glenelg—Goldstone (100, Blaylock); G. L. Lorillard's colt Magnate, by Glenelg—Minx (114, 4 pounds overweight, Costello); Kelly's colt Thurles, by Lisbon—Austria (98, Ural); Baldwin's colt Gano, by Grimstead—Santa Anita (103, Swiney), and Belmont's colt Adamantus, by Count D'Orsay—Adelaide (98, Brennan). Pools—Breeze $100, Punster $90, Little Minch $35, Magnate $25, Gano $25, field $25. Book—Breeze 2 to 1, Punster 2 to 1, Little Minch, Thurles and Magnate 7 to 1 each, Gano 12 to 1, Adamantus 20 to 1. The start was bad, Punster first, Little Minch second, Thurles third, Breeze fourth, the rest straggling. Punster ran away with a good lead but Breeze soon passed him and was clear of them all at the half-mile post. She readily kept her lead and won by two lengths in 1:16½. Punster second, four lengths before Gano third, Thurles fourth, half a length behind Gano, Magnate fifth, Little Minch sixth and Adamantus last. French pools, $13 20.

Second race—Three-year-olds, purse $600, special weights, 1⅛ miles. Nine starters—Heffner's filly Jennie V., by Waverley—Fannie Moore (108, pounds McLaughlin); P. Lorillard's gelding Wyoming, by War Dance—Opposite (115, Peakes); G. L. Lorillard's colt Volusia, by Pat Malloy—Vandalia (118, Costello); Bedford Stable's filly Gussie M., by Hurrah—Margia (98, Brennan); Snedeker's filly Miss Lumley, by Reform—Lady Lumley (108, Donohue); Wither's gelding Duplex, by King Ernest—Echo (108, Leary); Littlefield's colt Free Gold, by Button—Kitty Free (101, Evans); McFadgen's gelding Hostage, by Hurrah—Minnie Long (108, McCarthy) and Fagan's gelding Warrington, by War Dance—Nannie F. (98, Blanco). Pools—Jennie V. $350, Wyoming $100, field $160. Books—2 to 1 on Jennie V., 4 to 1 against Wyoming, Volusia and Gussie M. 12 to 1 each, 15 to 20 to 1 against any other. Jennie V. was very nervous and fretful and the starter had his hands full. The start was again bad and the favorite got the worst of it. Volusia was first away but soon fell back. Hostage passed the stand with his head in front, Duplex second, Free Gold third. On the turn Duplex was the leader, but at the half-mile Volusia was first. Jennie V. ran in the rear guard for a quarter mile and then moved up, but her rider had so much lost ground that he did not call on her until the homestretch was reached. She responded so swiftly that in a few strides she was in advance and then coming on at a wonderful pace she won by two lengths in 1:57¾. Wyoming second, four lengths before Volusia third, Free Gold fourth, six lengths behind Volusia, Warrington fifth, Hostage sixth, Miss Lumley seventh, Duplex eighth and Gussie M. ninth. Mutual pools $7 70.

Third race—Gentlemen riders, all ages, welter weights, sweepstakes $25 each, with $300 added; three-quarters of a mile. Five starters—Abingdon's horse Disturbance, by Terror—Lucy, 6 years, 146 pounds, Holmes; Pelham Stable's gelding Sir Hugh, by Waverley—Billie J., 4, 143 Hunter; Kenny's gelding Marathon, by King Ernest—Arabia; 4, 143, Flinter; Lakemud's gelding Arsenic by Glenelg—La Reine, 6, 143, Woodoro; Lovell's horse Duke of Kent, by Bonnie Scotland—Fannie Barrow (5, 146, Ward). Pools—Disturbance $150, Sir Hugh $80, Marathon $80, Arsenic $30, Duke of Kent $15. Books—5 to 4 on Disturbance, Marathon 7 to 2, Sir Hugh 5 to 1, Arsenic 6 to 1, Duke of Kent 12 to 1. Sir Hugh led from start to finish, though Marathon and Disturbance pushed him hard up to the last few strides. He won by a half length in 1:18, Marathon second, two lengths before Disturbance, Arsenic a poor fourth, and Duke of Kent beaten far off. Mutual pools $37 30.

Fourth Race—Handicap sweepstakes, $30 each, $750 added; 1½ miles. Fourteen starters—P. Lorillard's gelding Parole, by Leamington—Maiden (aged, 114 pounds, Peakes); Morris and Patton's gelding Creosote, by Creedmore Kate—Maltingly (4, 108, McLaughlin); Jennings's horse Glenmore, by Glen Athol—Lotta (aged, 114, Costello); Williams's gelding Checkmate, by Glen Athol—Full Cry (aged, 108, Hughes); Cassidy's filly Pinafore, by Esquire—Mollie Rogers (3 104, W. Donahue); Pettengill's gelding Fair Count, by Dudley—Adele (6, 108, Blaylock); Burnham's gelding Carley B., by Virgil—Ladylike (3, 100, Hayes); Martin's gelding Alecko, Annie Lee (4, 104, Barrett); Johnson's filly Katie Creed by King Alfonso—Margaretta (3, 75, Caldwell); McDonell's gelding General Monroe, by Tom Bowling—Minnie T. Morgan (4, 96, Barnes); Bowie's gelding Nettie, by Dickens—Nettie (3, 85, Adams); Wardell's mare Mary Anderson, by Ventilator—Queen of Scots (5, 92, Brennan); Winter's filly Duchess of Norfolk, by Norfolk—Marion (3, 80, Williams); and Davis's mare Ella Warfield, by War Dance—Florac (5, 92, Leary). Pools—Creosote $400, Pinafore $280, Glenmore $215, Checkmate $195, Parole $155, Carley B. $170, field $255. Books—Creosote 3 to 1, Pinafore 4 to 1, Checkmate 4 to 1, Glenmore 4 to 1, Parole 7 to 1, Fair Count 7 to 1, Carley B. 8 to 1, General Monroe 10 to 1, and from 20 to 50 to one against any other. After long waiting and many breaks a fair start was obtained. To the general surprise Parole was quickly at work setting the pace, and as they passed the stand after running a half mile he was first by a half length, Aleck Ament second, Glenmore a close third, General Monroe fourth and Creosote fifth. All were singularly well together for so big a field. Parole remained in the lead for nearly a mile, when Monroe dashed to the front and for a furlong ran so well in the lead that his success seemed probable until Pinafore made her run, moving so fast that the others could not keep pace with her at all. She passed General Monroe in the homestretch and won by four lengths in 2:36¾. General Monroe second two lengths before Carley B., Glenmore a poor fourth, Aleck Ament fifth, the favorite Creosote sixth, the rest straggling in at intervals, most of them being pulled up when their chances were seen to be hopeless. Mutual pools, $22 90.

Fifth race—Selling allowances, purse $300, ¾ mile. Twelve starters—Reed's mare Bounce (5 years, 110 pounds, Brophy); Harbeck's gelding Amazon (5, 94, Fax); Robinson's gelding Little Fred (3, 99, Barnes); P. Lorillard's filly Queen (2, 70, Hyslop); Old Mill Stable's gelding Knight Templar (5, 103, W. Donohue); Churchill's gelding Gus Matthews (3, 104, Bratton); W. Walsen's gelding Jim Farrell (3, 104, Ural); Davis's gelding Hickory Jim (aged, 103, Cross); Conazzi's gelding Valparaiso, by Virgil—Accidenta (4, 101, Brennan); Hall's mare Little Buttercup (5, 94, Leary); Henry's filly Lena (2, 74, Caldwell); and Lovell's filly Godiva (2, 82, McCarthy). Pools—Knight Templar $175, Queen $155, Bounce $130, Hickory Jim $95, Gus Matthews $75, field $210. Books—Knight Templar 8 to 5, Bounce 3 to 1, Queen 6 to 1, Gus Matthews 7 to 1, Amazon 8 to 1, 10 to 20 to 1 against any other. To another straggling start Gus Matthews took the lead and kept it to the last quarter though Knight Templar, Bounce, Hickory Jim and Little Fred kept him busy all the way. The finish between Hickory Jim, Bounce, Little Fred and Little Buttercup was very close. Knight Templar fell back in the last furlong. Hickory Jim won by a neck, Bounce second, a neck before Little Fred, he neck only before Little Buttercup. Gus Matthews was fifth and Knight Templar sixth.

Sixth race—Handicap steeplechase; inside course; purse $550. Eight starters—Reed's horse Revenge (6, 148, P. Meany); Boyle's mare Annette (4, 128, Wauder); M. J. Daley's filly Bernadine (4, 125, McKinney); W. C. Daley's bay Belle of the North (5, 112, Verpanks); Holmes's gelding Wooden (5, 116, Kenny); Daily's colt Falconbridge (4, 120, Adler); Daily's gelding Jim Vanderveer (4, 130, Callanan), and Sutcliffe's horse Day Star (aged, 134, Fitzpatrick). Pools—Annette $355, Revenge $185, Belle of the North $165, Day Star $75, field $65. Books—Annette 6 to 5, Revenge 3 to 1, Belle of the North 6 to 1, and 8 to 20 to 1 against the others. Belle of the North showed the rest her heels over half a dozen jumps while Revenge ran second. Belle had to give way to Revenge and the latter then made the pace so fast that the eight were badly strung out. In fact the pace was much too fast for the top weight to set. Its effect was seen when Revenge stumbled badly when landing from the water jump the second time and was barely saved from falling. This accident seemed to daze him and blunt his speed and Belle of the North again took the lead. Up to the final furlong she seemed a sure winner, but Woodcock came up rapidly and after a fighting finish won by a length, Belle of the North second, ten lengths before Revenge, Annette, the favorite, a bad fourth, Falconbridge fifth, Vanderveer sixth, Day Star seventh and Bernadine last where she had been throughout the journey. No falls. Time 4:51. Woodcock was lowest in the betting, and in the mutual pools he was in the field. Tickets $27 70.

The racing will be continued to-morrow. The club has opened a special sweepstakes, $500 each, $250 forfeit, $2,500 added; distance one mile; weights ten pounds below the scale. This ought to bring out Barrett, Grolle, Eole, Glenmore, Pinafore, Jennie V. and all the others remarkable for speed, and make a great race.

OTHER SPORTING NEWS.

SLOOP YACHTS RACING.

The New-Jersey Yacht Club held a regatta yesterday, open to all sloop yachts not over thirty feet long. When the hour for the start arrived eighteen yachts spread their canvas to the breeze. It was five minutes of 11 o'clock when a whistle from the judges' boat—the tug Lyndhurst—gave the signal for starting. The fleet had been lying off and on, waiting for the start. At the signal they all made for the line. The Estelle crossed the line with a bound and was closely followed by the Louise and Charm. Then came the others, the two catamarans entered being last. There was a stiff breeze blowing from the southeast and an ebb tide. The course was as follows: From the Elysian Fields to and around Robbin's Reef buoy, thence to and around Buoy No. 13 off Dick's Island, in the Lower Bay, leaving it on the port hand, thence back around the buoy on Robbin's Reef to a stakeboat off Communipaw Dock, Jersey City.

The yachts entered for the race represented various clubs in this neighborhood. The sloops were as follows: Estelle, Metamora, Letitia, Charm, Louise, Eaglewing, Lily R., L. W. Jewell, Dare Devil, Only Son, Ray Howland, Corinne, Mary S., F. L. Sheppard, Whim and Forsyth. The two catamarans were the Jessie and the Duplex. The yachts kept nearly the same relative positions in which they started until Robbin's Reef buoy was reached. When off Desbrosses-st. the Duplex carried away her peak halyard, but repaired the damage quickly and kept on in the race. When the Eaglewing was off the Communipaw Dock another accident occurred. She was standing over on the starboard tack toward Governor's Island. The tug E. C. King was steaming across the river, right in the course of the yacht. A schooner lying at anchor prevented the people on the tug from seeing her, and the result was a collision, in which the Eaglewing lost her bowsprit. At the turning buoy off Dick's Island, the Estelle was first, the Louise second and the Jessie third. As each yacht rounded, she started sheets, winged her mainsail out to port poled her jib out to starboard and went before the wind for home. There was still a good breeze, though not so stiff a one as there had been in the Upper Bay earlier in the day, and the yachts made good time.

The prizes were $25 in money and a challenge pennant. The Estelle was first at the finish, but the Louise won on corrected time. The Louise is owned by Thomas Hall and belongs in the Shrewsbury River. The Jessie won the race in the catamaran class. She is owned by F. Hughes. The following is the table of time:

GAMES OF THE CALEDONIAN CLUB.

The New-York Caledonian Club held its twenty-sixth annual games yesterday at Schutzen Park. The attendance was estimated at about 15,000 people, and the sports were closely watched. Among the most interested spectators were three members of the British Rifle Team, Private McVittie, Corporal Caldwell, and Sergeant Dods. Mr. McVittie, in speaking of the coming match, expressed the opinion, in a modest way, that though the contest would be close, the visiting team would win.

There were twenty-four games open to competition, and for these prizes to the value of $315 were offered. The entries were numerous, and in most cases the competition was keen. The mile race for amateurs was won by L. E. Myers in 4 minutes, 35¾ seconds, H. E. Fredericks second. A five-mile race, open to all comers, was won by Charles Price, in 26 minutes, 54 seconds; Thomas C. Herbert, of Boston, second, in 27 minutes, 40 seconds. Herbert was first in the one-mile race for all comers, in 4 minutes, 18 seconds. The three-mile walk was won easily by John Meagher, of Boston, in 22 minutes, 57 seconds; C. P. Daudels, also of Boston, being second in 24 minutes, 21 seconds. Daudels won the one-mile walk in 8 minutes, 9⅝ seconds. The standing jump was won by A. Scott, of Hamilton, Ont., who covered 10 feet, 9 inches. In the running high jump, Scott was second to E. W. Johnson, of Toronto, who cleared 5 feet, 5 inches. The running long jump was won by T. Aitken, who covered 19 feet, 7½ inches. Aitken also won the 100-yards dash in 10 3-5 seconds.

One of the most interesting of the races was that open to members of the Fire, Police and Post-Office Departments—a mile and a half run. In this there were seven starters, the police being represented by F. G. Egan, M. Carroll, G. Brennan and J. Valnant; the Post-Office by G. G. Colyer, R. H. Lee and F. Weed. The Fire Department was not represented. Brennan won in 8 minutes, 17 seconds; Egan being second in 8 minutes, 46½ seconds. Andrew McLaren, chief of the Caledonians, presented the prizes to these two men in a humorous speech.

Besides these contests there were prizes for throwing the hammer, tossing the caber, races for boys, broadsword dances and an amusing sack race. The sports began at 11 o'clock and were concluded only at dusk. In the evening the large halls were crowded with dancers and the last person did not leave the park until a late hour.

THE GERMANTOWN CLUB DEFEATED.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The most interesting game of the series of the Western Association cricket eleven with the Philadelphia clubs played thus far was that with the Germantown Club at Nicetown to-day, the Western men securing another victory in a one-inning game, by 164 to 128. The weather was fair and the wicket good, but the attendance was very small. There were several disputes during the game, and the best of feeling did not prevail between the members of the two clubs at its conclusion. Captain Hood again won the toss for the Western men. Considerable enthusiasm was soon aroused by the home club having five of their opponents' wickets down for only thirty-four runs. McLachlan's hitting was by far the best of the day, his cuts and leg-hits for twos and threes being made in rapid succession. His hitting also included two fours, a five and a six. Brockie and Cuplit took the bat for the Germantown, but the former was soon caught by one of Stratford's slow balls. The tenth wicket of the home club finally went down for twenty-eight at 5:30 o'clock. There were no boundary lines, and all hits were run out with the exception of a ball hit over the fence by Haines. Five balls were played to the end.

The Western team begin a two-days' match with the Merion Club at Ardmore to-morrow.

A THREE-MILE RACE ARRANGED.

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Arrangements have just been consummated here for a three-mile race next week between Courtney, Riley, Ten Eyck and Elliott for a purse of $1,000.

BASEBALL GAMES.

The Metropolitan and Alaska nines played a game of baseball on the Polo Grounds yesterday. The playing was all on one side. The Metropolitans made their first triple play of the season. Only twenty-seven men went to out for the Alaskas, they being all retired in one-two three order in every inning. The score by innings is as follows:

Metropolitan	4	2	0	4	0	2	8	1	2	—23
Alaska	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

In yesterday's League games honors were evenly divided between the Eastern and Western teams. The Chicago, Providence, Buffalo and Boston nines were successful. A close contest was played at Cleveland between the Providence and Cleveland nines. The score by innings is as follows:

Cleveland	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Providence	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2

The Chicago and Troy nines played at Chicago, the champions defeating the Troy nine easily by the appended score:

Troy	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1
Chicago	2	0	1	1	0	0	2	0	1	—7

The Buffalo nine defeated the Worcesters at Buffalo. Subjoined is the score:

Buffalo	0	0	2	4	0	1	0	1	2	—10
Worcester	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

The Boston defeated the Detroit nine at Detroit by the following score:

Boston	0	1	0	1	4	0	1	3	0	—10
Detroit	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	—3

AGREEING TO A DISSOLUTION.

United States Commissioner Lyman sat yesterday as referee to take testimony in the suit of William J. Hutchinson against Elihu C. Mitchell, George H. Brouwer and George W. McGown, of the firm of Kennedy, Hutchinson & Co., for a dissolution of partnership and the appointment of a receiver. The suit was begun before Judge Haight, of the Supreme Court, who appointed Commissioner Lyman to hear testimony as to the business of the firm and to examine its books. The counsel, after a consultation lasting three hours, announced that it had been agreed to dissolve the partnership, the articles of dissolution to be dated September 13. A stipulation was made that a judgment of dissolution should be entered without opposition on September 13 and that a receiver should be appointed to be selected by the Court unless the opposing parties could agree on one. It was agreed that Commissioner Lyman should act as referee to take an accounting of the partnership and of all matters of controversy.

NOTES FROM NEWPORT.

NEWPORT, Sept. 7.—General J. H. Van Alen, of New-York, gave a dinner last night in honor of Lyon Playfair. Among the guests were Bancroft, the historian, Rear-Admiral Rogers, ex-Governor E. D. Morgan, G. H. Warren, W. C. Rives, Colonel Bliss, Francis Stout, George Tiffany and Nathan Appleton.

The ball announced to be given to-night for the benefit of St. Stephen's Guild, of New-York, has been postponed indefinitely.

Henry Turnbull, of New-York, has sold his land in Ward-ave. to George H. Warren, of New-York.

PRACTICE AT CREEDMOOR.

THE HOME TEAM'S RECORD YESTERDAY.

ONLY A FEW OF THE ENGLISHMEN AT THE RANGE—AN UNFAVORABLE "FISHTAIL" WIND—THE SCORES NOT GOOD.

Creedmoor looked almost deserted yesterday. A few Englishmen, having doffed their bright uniforms, practised first at the short and mid ranges with military rifles, and then tried their skill at the extreme distance with fine-sight match rifles in practice for some of the matches of next week, in which they purpose to enter. Sir Henry Halford was among them, even-tempered and good-natured as ever, though he and his comrades had caught one of the fishtail winds so frequent at Creedmoor, and found it much more difficult to get a shot on the target with all the delicate appliances of their arm than they had on the previous day with their plain military weapons. The wind was tricky, and had the visiting team shot through the ranges yesterday their showing would hardly have been so brilliant as it was on the two days in which they have shot to the dismay of their adversaries. The wind came in sharp puffs, now from the right, now from the left, and was so fickle that the riflemen of the American team, coached, as heretofore, by Mr. Rathbone, Dr. Dudley and Mr. De Forrest, found themselves changing their aim from one side to the other of the bullseye, the extent of variation being from five to eight points in successive shots, corresponding with a distance of nearly eight feet on the butts.

The American team, with two men—Ward and Alder—not shooting, shot at the three long distances before luncheon and afterward at the 600-yards distance. As a team they did average work, though some of the best men shot with unaccountable lack of success. The average of the best twelve men at the long stage was 76¼, which has been surpassed twice by themselves within ten days and was excelled by the British on Tuesday and Wednesday. The individual work can be seen in the following score:

No.	Names.	600 yds.	SECOND STAGE. 800 yds.	900 yds.	1,000 yds.	Total.	Aggregate.
1	Private Pollard	29	32	27	29	88	117
2	Private Soper	30	28	29	28	85	115
3	Sergeant Dawkins	27	32	29	24	85	112
4	Captain Grifith	24	30	24	27	81	108
5	Colonel Howard	26	27	29	21	77	107
6	Private Irwin	29	33	29	23	85	104
7	Private Bingham	29	30	29	22	74	103
8	Private Ogden	30	31	25	14	73	103
9	Sergeant Dolan	29	32	18	22	72	101
10	Sergeant McNevin	28	22	26	22	70	98
11	Sergeant Hinds	18	28	19	23	70	88
12	Major Shakespeare	24	20	20	17	69	89
13	Captain Atkinson	26	27	28	8	63	86
14	Sergeant Van Heusen	26	27	22	10	59	85
	Totals	376	405	341	288	1,037	1,413

The members of the British team who shot at the short stage were Messrs. Goodear, Heap, Parry and Boulter. Sir Henry Halford, Mr. Goodear, Captain Mellish, Major Parry and Mr. Boulter practised with match rifles at the long range. The Scotch members, McVittie, Dods and Caldwell, were in attendance on the Scottish games at Jones's Wood, this city, and the remainder of the team were at Garden City. Mr. Goodear shot at 200 yards only, and scored 30 points. The other scores were as follows: Lieutenant Heap, 29, 35, 35—two full scores—total, 99; Major Parry, 30, 34, 34—98; Private Boulter, 27, 33, 29—89. The Americans will not shoot to-day, but the British expect to cover all the ranges.

A row of tents along the west side of the Creedmoor range tells of the arrival of teams of the National Guard who intend to take part in the matches of the fall meeting next week. There were three of them, representing respectively the 65th Regiment at Buffalo, Colonel Thomas F. Ward, commanding; the 20th Separate Company, of Binghamton, Captain C. M. Durkee; and the members of the Pennsylvania State team, composed of representatives from the 12th and 13th Regiments of that State. Major Shakespeare and Captain Atkinson, of the American Military team, are both members of this team.

The three days' competition for places on the Regular Army team for the Division of the Atlantic was concluded yesterday under the supervision of Colonel Litchfield. The successful men and their scores for the three days were as follows:

Sergeant Daly	94, 86, 84—264
Lieutenant Homer	87, 82, 86—255
Lieutenant Van Vliet	78, 87, 88—253

IDLE DAYS AT NORTH CONWAY.

THE PICTURESQUE SCENERY—SOME OF THE GUESTS WHO ARE THERE.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

KEARSARGE HOUSE, NORTH CONWAY, Aug. 29.—The facilities of its railroad connections, the attraction of the pleasant people who annually throng its hotels and boarding-houses, the cool nights and mornings which it enjoys, its lovely valleys or intervales, and, above all the beautiful walks and drives which abound in every direction, have combined to render North Conway the chief summer resort of the White Mountains. The number of visitors increases year by year, and those who come once are sure to return. One feels a local attachment for the place, which no other mountain resort inspires to the same degree, and the Conway habitue, like the Bostonian, can be recognized everywhere by his enthusiastic devotion to his favorite spot. North Conway is built upon a long terrace, which rises some thirty feet above the valleys, or intervales, as they are named, of the Saco River, at some distance from the river itself. These intervales form one of the most beautiful features of North Conway, spreading a level floor of the richest green from the foot of the village terrace nearly to the base of Moat Mountain, nearly a mile distant, and extending for several miles north and south. They are dotted, throughout their entire length, by magnificent elms whose foliage, drooping nearly to the ground, adds to the picturesqueness of the scenery.

North Conway has never been, and it is devoutly to be hoped may never become, fashionable, in the strict sense of the word. Its visitors, as a class, are a set of cultivated, nature-loving people, who are determined to rid themselves of the conventional restraints which bind them at home, and therefore dress and do as they please, without a thought of Mrs. Grundy.

The amusements here are varied. Mountain climbing, in which pursuit many of the ladies distinguish themselves, driving, riding, picnics, moonlight drives, lawn tennis, sheet and pillow-case parties, theatricals, etc., occupy most of the time; and one is never at a loss for something to do. The hotels are for the most part well kept, and prices are rather lower than they are generally in the mountains. The Kearsarge House, at the lower end of the town, is the largest of the hotels, and pleasant people are always to be found there. Its piazzas command fine views. The Intervale House, situated at some distance from the village, is a great resort for Philadelphians. It stands on a hill directly overlooking the intervales, and commands the finest view in North Conway. North Conway and its neighborhood possess great attractions for artists, who are never weary of sketching its many beauties.

The season, which is now at its height, will not, anywhere in the mountains, compare in point of success with that of last year, which was exceptionally favorable. The exceedingly cold weather of June and of the early part of July kept people away, while the extreme heat and accompanying drouth which followed could hardly be considered an improvement. But the present month with its delightful weather has brought crowds to the mountains and joy to the hearts of the hotel proprietors; and it is probable that this year's receipts will not fall far below the average.

Among the guests at the Kearsarge House are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fisk, Miss Fisk, Miss Bertha Fisk, Miss Eva Fisk, Wilbur Fisk, Miss M. G. Caapman, Pliny Fisk, James Fisk, Thomas Howard, William H.
