LOCAL MISCELLANY.

DECORATION DAY OBSERVANCES.

The preparations for the observance of Decoration Day in this city are now virtually completed, and during the coming week Major E. W. Bruenninghausen, Chairman of the Memorial Committee, will announce the programme for the evening services at the Academy of Music, and Grand Marshal James R. Horner, that of the formation of the different divisions of the parade. The name of the orator is still withheld, though it is understood that a verbal acceptance of an invitation extended, has been received. Colonel N. W. Day, treasurer of the committee, has distributed a large number of tickets to the Academy, in the Custom House, Post Office and other departments, and expects a large sale. The officers of the committee were somewhat surprised yesterday at a communication from the Fire Commissioners refusing to allow the firemen to sell these tickets, stating that it would be against their rules.

Nearly all of the posts in the city have now reported to the Grand Marshal the number of men they will parade on Decoration Day and their work before and after the parade. Phil Kearny Post, No. 8, will decorate graves at Trinity Church. Abraham Lincoln Post, No. 13, will have charge of the ceremonies at Lincoln Monument in Union Square. Many colored civic and military organizations will be present, and the colored Lodges of Odd Fellows will act as escort to the post. The oration will be delivered by General Horace D. Porter, and it is promised that General Grant and Secretaries Folger and Lincoln will be present. John A. Dix Post, No. 135, James C. Rice Post, No. 29, and Judson Kilpatrick Post, No. 143, will go to Trinity Cemetery. Koltes Post, No. 32, will unveil its monument in Lutheran Cemetery, where addresses will be made by Carl Schurz and Post Chaplain Philip Betz. Department Commander Reynolds and staff will be present. Koltes Post will be accompanied by several other posts and Veteran Associations. George G. Meade Post, No. 38, will decorate the graves of soldiers at Willett's Point and Fort Schuyler. Reno Post, No. 44, will as usual go to Hart's Island. Robert Anderson Post, No. 58, and Wadsworth Post, No. 77, will go to Cypress Hills Cemetery. Farragut Post, No. 75, and Ellsworth Post, No. 67, will decorate the graves in Woodlawn Cemetery. Cameron Post, No. 79, will unveil a sarcophagus erected over the grave of General Pinckney, when an oration will be delivered by Major Willard Bullard. Shields Post, No. 69, and the Durryea Zouaves will accompany Cameron Post. E. A. Kimball Post, No. 100, will decorate its monument to Colonel Kimball, at Greenwood. The Hawkins Zouaves will accompany the Post to the cemetery. Sedgwick Post, No. 186, with Dahlgren Post, No. 113, will go to Governor's Island, where it is expected an oration will be delivered by General Sickles. Sedgwick Post will parade with the Washington flag, now hanging in the Governor's room in the City Hall.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE ELECTION.

The annual election of the Stock Exchange will be held to-day. The contest over the presidency, for which there are two candidates—W. B. Dickerman, of Dominick & Dickerman, "regular," and A. S. Hatch, of Fisk & Hatch, "independent"—is likely to be sharp and exciting. At the close of the two weeks' canvass on Saturday night both parties were confident of success. The candidates for the other principal offices are the same on both tickets. For members of the Governing Committee, of which one-fourth is elected each year, there are several tickets. It is expected that the vote will be unusually large in consequence of the deep interest in the election that has been aroused among the members of the Board.

William J. Hutchinson, who was expelled from the Exchange last summer for "obvious fraud" in his dealings with John R. Duff, of Boston, is seeking to be restored to membership by legal process. Immediately after the "regular" nominations were announced it was discovered that Mr. Hutchinson kept an account with the firm of which the candidate for president is a partner. Many members of the Exchange considered this fact a grave objection to Mr. Dickerman and at once organized in opposition to the regular ticket. In this way the Hutchinson case became the only active issue in the campaign and the positions of all the candidates on this question have been the subject of inquiry and warm discussion. It has been ascertained, indeed, that the independent ticket contains among the candidates for Governors the names of several brokers not nationally to Mr. Hutchinson. One or two, it is reported, voted in his favor when the question of his expulsion was voted on by the committee.

Under these circumstances both tickets will be "scratched" by many members of the Exchange who believe that Mr. Hutchinson was expelled justly. A few go so far as to say that the action of the committee should be upheld at all hazards, whether it was right or not.

A POLICEMAN AND HIS PHOTOGRAPH.

Officer E. C. Toury, of the Steamboat Squad, being off duty yesterday, dressed himself in a black diagonal suit, and carrying a "dude"-like cane went out with a friend. He had long been desirous of having his picture taken, so he and his friend drifted into Charles Noll's photograph gallery, at No. 232 Bleecker-st., where four "tintypes" were offered for half a dollar. Toury gave an order for his picture and handing the proprietor a dollar bill, said he would like to have his friend taken with him. Before their turn came the officer made a demand for his change, 50 cents. He was told that the posing of two men would cost $1. But no amount of explanation would satisfy him. So Mr. Noll drew a dollar bill from his pocket and shaking it at the officer said: "There's your money." "I'o yez know yez voyolating the Paynal Code in kapeing open on a Soonday?" said the officer angrily. Before a reply could be made he stuck his shield in his coat and said "I arrest yez all." When Mr. Noll and his friend told their story to Justice Duffy at the Jefferson Market Police Court they were discharged.

TAKING LA'DANUM BY MISTAKE.

A sixteen-year-old girl woke up Isaac Clasier, a druggist, at his store, No. 859 First-ave., at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and told him that she had taken laudanum by mistake for toothache drops. Mr. Clasier thereupon administered remedies which seemed at first to relieve her. She said her name was Nettie Benthuysen and that her home was at No. 629 West Fifty-second-st. To all other questions she gave evasive replies. Finally she sank into a stupor and the druggist called in the police, who had the girl taken to Bellevue Hospital. At a late hour yesterday she was said to be in a precarious condition. In the forenoon the mother of the girl called on Inspector Byrnes, at Police Headquarters, and reported the disappearance of her daughter. The girl was employed in a factory, the mother said, and had not returned to her home on Saturday night. An hour afterward she received tidings of her daughter's transfer to Bellevue—the result of a first night away from home.

BODIES FOUND IN THE RIVER.

The police yesterday found the body of an unknown man in the East River, opposite pier No. 20. The body was that of a man, age about thirty-five, of dark complexion, medium size, and dressed in dark clothes.

At the foot of East Seventeenth-st. the body of another man was found and removed to the Morgue. From papers in his pockets his name is supposed to be Egan. A letter from J. Williams, of Norfolk, was found upon him, $3 in money, and a watch chain and a bunch of keys.

The body of a man greatly decomposed was pulled out of the water near Randall's Island, at 2 o'clock, which is believed by the police of the Twelfth Precinct to be the body of their missing sergeant, Francis Fitzgerald. The dead man wore a brown-striped overcoat, Cardigan jacket, blue trousers, red flannel undershirt, white shirt and high-laced shoes. This corresponds with the description of the clothing worn by the missing sergeant when he was last seen on November 20, 1882. All three bodies were taken to the Morgue.

SAVED FROM A WRECKED BARK.

The steamship Leerdam arrived from Amsterdam yesterday, having on board Captain Cornelissen, his wife, and twelve others. They composed the crew of the Norwegian bark Inga, and were rescued from that vessel on May 4, in latitude 40° 55' north, longitude 32° west. Captain Cornelissen said that his vessel sailed from Greenock, Scotland, on April 21, with a cargo of coal for Quebec. On April 30 the Inga ran into a large whale with great force, which caused the vessel to leak. The pumps were worked continuously to keep the vessel afloat until May 4, when the Leerdam was sighted. Signals of distress were hoisted and the Leerdam bore down to the sinking bark.

A NEW OCEAN STEAMSHIP.

The new steamship Normandie, of the French General Transatlantic Line, which it is expected will prove as fast if not faster than the Guion steamship Alaska, the only vessel that has ever made the trip from Queenstown to this port in less than seven days, is expected to arrive here to-day. This vessel on the recent Government trial trip of 900 miles made an average of 16½ miles an hour, and a maximum speed of 17½ miles for two hours. The Normandie was built at Barrow-in-Furness, is 450 feet in length on the water-line, 50 feet breadth of beam, 37½ feet depth of hold, and 6,300 tons register.

SELLING LIQUOR DESPITE THE POLICE.

The police continued their eager pursuit of the liquor sellers yesterday, and in many precincts extra sections of men were sent out. Captain Williams's force made four or five arrests for violating the Excise law. The streets of his precinct presented an orderly appearance. Captain McDonnell's squad, of the Prince Street Station, arrested ten offenders. Captain Allaire's men made some fifteen arrests, and Captain Petty's officers made prisoners of a half dozen breakers of the Excise law. There were no arrests by the Mulberry-st. police. The captains all said that they had out extra men in citizen's dress and had given them the usual Sunday instructions—to pay especial attention to liquor shops. The police say that they have great difficulty by day in ascertaining whether these places are open or not, as the liquor sellers have become very cautious. They keep their front doors closed and the side doors guarded and locked on the inside, so that policemen have difficulty in getting evidence. Even when in citizen's dress they are recognized by the liquor men. Arrests are made more easily at night, as the lights show when liquor is being sold.
