HOMING PIGEON RACES.

The second race of the year for homing pigeons under Federation rules was arranged for yesterday, but because of the weather the birds were held until 7 o'clock this morning.

The first race of the Newark club for the season took place last Sunday from Hampton Junction, forty-five miles. The entries, sixty-six birds, were from Montclair, Orange and Newark. The first prize was won by a bird of William Bennert, of Newark, which arrived at 9:40 a. m. Time, 2 hours 40 minutes. The race next Sunday will be from Hainburg, Penn., ninety-five miles.

BASEBALL NEWS.

The sixth game between the Metropolitan and Baltimore nines was played at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon. Like the contest of the day before the home nine did all the scoring. The reserve battery, Lynch and Reipschlager, was put on by the Metropolitans and did good service. The Baltimore nine had nine men on the bases, but none of them got home. The grounds were in excellent condition considering the heavy rain of the night before. Brady, of the Metropolitan nine, scored an earned run in the first inning. In the second inning Kennedy got to first on a safe hit, to second on a passed ball by Barnie, and scored on a long hit to centre field by Crane. In the fifth inning Crane made a run off a hit by himself and an error by Barnie behind the bat. In the following inning Esterbrook scored an unearned run through loose fielding by McCormack and a hit by Roseman. In the seventh inning Crane made a two base hit and scored an earned run off Nelson's drive to centre field. One more run was added to the Metropolitan's score in the eighth inning, O'Rourke making a swift hit and getting to second base on a passed ball by Barnie. He scored on Reipschlager's two base hit. The Metropolitan nine did not play out the ninth inning as the Baltimores had failed to score. Stearns, Reid, Barnie, Brady and Reipschlager carried off the fielding honors, while Crane and Clinton did the best work at the bat. The Baltimore representatives could not hit the delivery of Lynch to any extent, nine of the visitors striking out.

Reipschlager caught in good form, something that he has not done before in some time. A summary of the score is appended:

TUESDAY, May 22—P. M.

The dealings in stocks to-day developed a feverish and unsettled feeling. It is part of the history of the day's transactions that before the opening of business, "points" were freely circulated that "the market is going to be better"; that "bottom has been reached," and that "new combinations had been formed to 'bull' certain speculators." These talks were not without some effect on the immediate speculation; they aided an improvement in prices from the first figures, which generally were somewhat lower than last evening's, and encouraged a large purchasing for the closing of "short" accounts as well as a scattered buying for the long account. Yet despite the combination of these two elements of temporary strength, the supply of stocks was so great that after mid-day the market drooped until Delaware, Lackawanna and Western was selling at 122, Lake Shore at 107¼, Union Pacific at 91¼, Northwestern at 128⅝ and the remainder of the market at figures showing declines which, relatively to the business done in each stock, were proportionate to those named. At 2:15 o'clock the market was fast approaching a critical condition. "Stop" orders to sell at figures not much below those which were current were accumulating to an extent that might have precipitated a bad break in prices, if the lower points had been reached. Suddenly the whole situation was changed; orders to purchase appeared all over the market—not by twos and threes, but by the half-dozen. The suddenness of the demand for stocks seemed to be the work of a magician. Great activity was apparent everywhere, and prices advanced rapidly. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western rose to 123¼, Lake Shore to 108⅝, Northwestern to 129⅝, Union Pacific to 92¼, and other stocks advanced proportionately. It will aid a judgment of the character of the late movement to know that of the total of 102,600 shares of Lackawanna and Western sold during the whole day 44,500 shares were sold in the last forty-five minutes of business. The full advance was not maintained in all cases at the close, but prices generally ended from ¼ to ½ per cent higher than yesterday's last figures. At the last moment the market again was quiet, but higher figures to-morrow morning are expected by a majority of the operators.

Government bonds were dull and steady in the morning hours, but later the prices were weak; the bids were ¼ lower all around. Annexed are the closing quotations:
