NOTES ON EDUCATION.

The controversy over the Johns Hopkins University already referred to in these columns, still continues. Judging from a recent statement of Mr. Lewis N. Hopkins, a nephew of Johns Hopkins, the family is not entirely satisfied with the way in which the institution has been managed. "The university," he says, "has already cost between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000. The buildings cost about $400,000, and then there are the salaries, the library, laboratories, apparatus, etc. In the last year the salaries, fellowships, etc., have taken nearly $100,000 from the income. The annual receipts are about $225,000, and from this income alone can the expenditures be made. What are the results we have to show? A splendid staff of professors and teachers, a record of honor for many who have studied under them, and a high reputation for the university, its president and professors in this country and in many foreign countries. All this I admit. It is well enough as it goes; but what has been attained is, I contend, by no means commensurate with the enormous outlay, and of even more importance is the fact that we are not, as was intended, educating our young men. So far as real good to our people in this and neighboring States is concerned, the McDonogh School has been of greater benefit than the Johns Hopkins University. There has been education—the highest education—but much too high. Mr. Gilman's plans have so far resulted in one or two discoveries, by one or two of his professors, which were, doubtless, appreciated by the most learned people here and abroad, and his plans have served to further educate already well-educated post-graduates of Northern colleges who come here, secure paying fellowships, avail themselves of all the advantages extended for our near neighbors, and then, securing positions elsewhere, leave us. With forty-one professors and an income of $225,000, we should be educating a thousand instead of two hundred."

There are three flourishing colleges in the city of Winnipeg, Manitoba: St. Boniface, St. John's and Manitoba. They are united under the corporate name of the University of Manitoba. The principle of the university is that each college shall do its own teaching and have full control of its internal affairs; that the university shall fix its curriculum, conduct its own examinations, and confer all degrees (except in theology) for the province. Degrees in theology are conferred by the colleges. Provision is made for admitting other colleges when they apply.

The Sauveur College of Languages will hold its eighth session this year at Amherst, Mass., from July 9 to August 17. This is an experiment in the way of teaching languages by what is called the Heness-Sauveur method, which is warmly commended by many well-known educators.

A bill which has just passed the Michigan Legislature requires all teachers in that State to pass an examination in physiology and hygiene, with particular reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.

The thirty-eighth anniversary of the New York State Teachers' Association will be held at Lake George, in the parlors of the Fort William Henry Hotel, on July 5, 6 and 7. Papers on the following subjects will be read: "Our Schools Wholly a State Charge," "Vocal Music—Its Relations to Popular Education," "Advanced Methods in Primary Teaching," "School Ethics," "Thomas Arnold of Rugby," an address on "Memory" by Dr. Northrop, of Connecticut, and "Educational Gains and Needs," by Professor J. C. Greenough, Principal State Normal School, Providence, R. I. The National State Educational Association will meet at Saratoga on July 9, 10 and 11; and the American Institute of Instruction will meet at Fabyan's, in the White Mountains, on July 11, 12 and 13. The three events are so timed as to make it convenient for teachers and other persons interested to attend them all.

The New-Haven Palladium continues to urge the advantages that would result from the introduction of the kindergarten system of teaching in that city; but thus far little more than a sentimental interest in the proposal has been shown by the citizens.

At an examination of teachers recently in one of the Western States, some strange answers were made. One candidate, being asked to name three living poets, promptly gave the names of Shakespeare, Byron and Longfellow. Another was asked when Shakespeare died, and replied about twenty years ago somewhere in "Injeanny." Still another thought that Secretary Frelinghuysen was "one o' them new patent machines."

Mr. Charles H. Ham, of Chicago, calls attention in The Cleveland Herald to the fact that in the Dwight School of Boston, under the direction of its master, Mr. Paige, the introduction of the common wood-cutting tools of the carpenter has been entirely successful. Professor Hagar, of the Salem Normal School, tried the same experiment in his schools, in which all the pupils are girls, and he describes the results thus: "The girls engaged in the undertaking with alacrity, and followed it up with ever-increasing interest and advantage. It is giving them health and strength and a command of their nerves and muscles which they would be likely to attain in no other way. When the time allotted to the hand-work arrives, there they may be found busy as bees hammering, planing, sawing, chiseling and all the rest, with devoted enthusiasm. I am glad they are learning to hammer. For any considerable number of women to know how to handle a hammer so as to strike a nail squarely on the head is a phenomenon seldom witnessed."

NEW-YORK MILITARY ACADEMY.

FORT WASHINGTON, N. Y.
Established 1854.
Superintendent—JOHN B. HAYS, M. D.
REOPENS SEPT. 4, 1882.

A Boarding School of the highest grade, whose three-fold end, and scrupulously followed, is to mould, at an early age, the intellect of youth by science, the will by obedience, and the feelings by religion; never separating these three great requisites, instruction, discipline, religion, while fitting for every profession.

Situated on Washington Heights, about ten miles up the Hudson, it is reached by the Sixth Avenue Elevated Road to 155th-st. Carriages are always in waiting, or, by timely notification, the superintendent meets the arrival of any train.

A more beautiful and healthy place—on an eminence commanding the most delightful scenery—or more attractive surroundings, are not found along the far-famed banks of the Hudson. Its buildings are unusually homelike.

There are forty acres of land attached to it, shaded and interested by oak groves, affording ample space for playgrounds.

French, German, and Spanish spoken.

(Grand nephew of the originator of the Kindergarten Schools.)

The failure of boys or girls in their school or college examinations is frequently due to want of consideration for the pupil's individuality. Parents who have encountered this obstacle to their children's progress should consult this Bureau, which gives advisory consultations on all matters connected with education, conducts examinations and renders expert reports on the true standing of young people of both sexes and of any age from childhood to maturity. Parents about to change the direction of their children's education, or in doubt in regard to a proper choice of vocation, before taking other steps, should consult Professor Froebel.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

NEW-YORK, June 13.—BEEVES—Receipts were 171 cars of 2,942 head—144 cars at Jersey City, and 27 cars at 60th-st. Total for four days, 6,981 head, against 10,164 head for the corresponding time last week. There was an improved demand for all grades, and trade was rather brisk up to 9 o'clock, with the selling rates for Common to Fair Steers about $1 per head higher. Sixteen cars over the Pennsylvania road did not reach the yards until after 10 o'clock, and were not all closed out. Late sales were a little slow and prices much the same as at the finish Monday. A 3 car-lot of Fair Texans sold at 10¼c. to dress 55 lb; and 6 cars of Common at 10¼c, also to dress 55 lb. The Texans thus far arriving are thin and poor killers. The Kansas Live Stock Indicator reports one herd which arrived at Kansas City last week in such an unripe condition that they were sent back to the feeding grounds. Thirteen cars of Good Colorado Stillers from Terre Haute sold at $6 30@$6 35c. to dress 56½. and 8 cars of Common to Good Native Stillers at 10½@11¼c., to dress 56 lb. There were 18 cars of Stable-fed Steers sold at the range of 10¾c to 12c, less $1 per head. There were a number of cars of Prime Corn-fed Steers on the market—a 6 carlot from Kansas which sold at 11¾c, to dress 56 lb, less $17 on the lot; and 8 cars of well-fattened Missouri Cattle, 1,385 lb average, bought by Bloomenthal & Son at 11¾c, also to dress 56 lb. The extreme range for Corn Cattle was from 10½ to 12c, to dress 55@57 lb. The balance of the eleven cars of Corn-fed Texans received last Friday were closed out to-day at 11¼c, 56 lb. As they cost $5 67½@$5 75 in Kansas City they must have lost the shippers $100 per carload. Several cars of Still Bulls sold at 5¾@6 40. Exporters bought to-day 113 Good to Prime Steers at 11¾@11¾c, to dress 56 lb, and received direct 292 head.
