THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEW-YORK, July 3.

Brokers in petroleum paid more attention to the usual Fourth of July pastime than to business today. The market was extremely dull and absolutely without feature. An opening at $1 14¾@$1 15 was followed by a decline to $1 14¼. Afterward the price returned to $1 15, but in the final dealings sales were made at $1 14⅛. The market closed without character at $1 14⅜, against $1 15½ last night. Operators appear to be holding off from purchases in view of the fact that several new wells are expected in after the holiday, and the "bull" clique whisper vague intentions of "squeezing" the "short" interest that appears to exist to a slight extent.

The range of prices and the total transactions to-day in New-York were as follows:

	N. Y. Pet.	Con. Ex.
Opening	114⅞	114¾
Highest	115	115
Lowest	114⅝	114¼
Final	114⅞	114⅛
Sales, bbls	1,546,000	1,403,000
Clearances, yesterday	3,006,000	2,404,000

There is no change to report in the refined petroleum market.
