It is almost impossible for the funeral to come off without The New-York Sun having a hand in furnishing the corpse. At least that is the way the friends of General Hancock look at the situation.

THE COURTS.

APPLICATION FOR A LIBEL REFUSED.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO PREVENT THE SAILING OF A HAYTIAN VESSEL.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—This was the day set by the Haytian Government for the sailing of the steamship Ethel, which was recently purchased here and fitted out as a war vessel by the administration of President Solomon, to combat the insurgents. The vessel has, since her change of ownership, been rechristened the Dessaline. This afternoon Messrs. W. W. Ker and Thomas H. Heverin, of this city, and J. E. Ludden, of New-York, appeared in the United States District Court and made application through District-Attorney Valentine for a libel and asked that the steamship should be attached. The libel sets forth that the Dessaline was about to sail for Port-au-Prince, Hayti, with arms and ammunition for the use of certain persons who are now in civil war against the authorities who claim to be the de facto Government of the Republic of Hayti; and that she is to be employed in the service of certain persons to carry on hostilities against the de facto Government of the republic.

The District-Attorney stated that he had presented the libel at the request of the counsel, but that he had very decided views on the subject, which had been strengthened by the reception of the following telegram from the State Department:

"The Government recognizes no authority in Hayti other than that of President Solomon, with whom it holds diplomatic relations, and is aware of no cause for filing the libel to which your telegram of this date refers."

The Judge declined to hear the counsel present unless they spoke for the District-Attorney, and the latter declined to be represented in that way. The Court refused to grant the petition for a libel and dismissed the subject.

COMMODORE GARRISON'S WEALTH.

Henry L. Clinton yesterday concluded the argument for the defence in the railroad suit between Peter Marié and others against Cornelius K. Garrison, before Professor Dwight as referee. The question in respect to the admissibility of evidence, objected to by counsel for the defendant, in regard to which there has been argument for the last two weeks, was submitted to the referee. The case will be continued as soon as Professor Dwight has given his decision, which he intimated would be in about a week.

In Mr. Clinton's argument he said: "Considerable evidence was given that the Commodore said at some time during the transactions between these parties that he would use his whole wealth, and that was put up at $20,000,000. Well, assuming that that was said, does anybody suppose that that was anything more than what in rhetoric we would call by perbole?"

Mr. Conkling—Let me correct you in your arithmetic. Commodore Garrison himself said that he was worth $15,000,000; and $20,000,000 was the value he ascribed to this road.

Mr. Clinton—The way your witnesses have testified, I don't think they considered that $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 more or less was of any practical account.

Mr. Conkling—They don't make any more account of that than you do.

Mr. Clinton—I think some of the witnesses said that his wealth was put at $20,000,000, but I will take the correction.

Mr. Conkling—No, the old man said it was $15,000,000.

Mr. Clinton—I will assume that Mr. Conkling's recollection of the evidence is entirely correct. Say $15,000,000. I don't care if you put it at $10,000,000. Now does anybody suppose that Commodore Garrison intended to give these parties to understand that he would lay down $10,000,000 in addition to the value of the road, lay it at their feet, that he would sacrifice his whole fortune to promote the pecuniary interest of these parties, in order that by so doing, by sacrificing $10,000,000 or $12,000,000, he could get back the value of a little less than $2,000,000 of his bonds? Does anybody suppose that I think the term "boy's" would not be inappropriate to anybody that really thought anything of that kind was intended between the parties.

Mr. Conkling—That is, you think he was the Old Boy?

Mr. Clinton—Well, there is something satanic in the turn of your mind. You having charged him with being a wolf, fat with spoliation, and with being the incarnation of everything that was infernal, I don't wonder that when you taper off you simply, instead of calling him Satan or the Devil call him the "Old Boy," which means the same thing in the language of our boyhood days. Now if my counsel, I will not say satanic, friend will listen to me a little longer I think [illegible] will be convinced that on this branch of the case he is wrong, and that his zeal for his clients led him beyond what the facts of this case will justify.

Mr. Clinton then concluded his argument.

MRS. AND MISS HOYT'S NEEDS.

Surrogate Rollins yesterday listened to a reargument on the application of the widow and daughter of the late Jesse Hoyt for an order directing the executors to make an advancement to them of $25,000 each. Ex-Judge Shipman appeared in support of the application and Elihu Root in opposition to it. On the original argument the Surrogate held that he had no jurisdiction to grant the application. The argument yesterday was confined to the question of the Surrogate's jurisdiction. Judge Shipman said that it clearly appeared that Mrs. and Miss Hoyt were in need of the allowance to enable them to meet their living expenses. In no possible event could any person in any way interested in the estate be damaged by the allowing of an advancement to Mrs. and Miss Hoyt, as their share in the estate would vastly exceed the sums asked for. The fact that Mr. Hoyt's will was contested could not alter the case. The law regarded women as entitled to peculiar tenderness. If there was no law authorizing the Surrogate to make an advancement to Mrs. and Miss Hoyt, simply because the estate was in litigation, then such a law should be invented. Mrs. and Miss Hoyt ought not to be left without the means of support while contesting Mr. Hoyt's will, nor compelled to submit to the probate of the will from lack of the means of support. The Surrogate reserved his decision.

NO RIGHT TO FIX THEIR COMPENSATION.

In the matter of the estate of William G. Fargo, deceased, the referee, James C. Beecher, has decided that the executors had no right to draw the $3,000 a year which each of them has drawn from the estate; that their compensation can be fixed only by the Surrogate, and that they have no right to determine its amount for themselves. The amount charged by them for the first year was $9,000, and this is disallowed by the referee. The referee also charges them interest on the amount so drawn without right, each executor being charged separately. He decides that the dividends received from the Winona and St. Peters Land Company and other land associations are principal and not income. Suits have been brought by the heirs in this city in the Supreme Court to remove the executors. George B. Foster is counsel for the plaintiffs, and Hamilton Cole for James C. Fargo, Charles Fargo and Franklin D. Locke, the executors.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 26—P. M.

The first indication of the amount of the total exports of the United States for August is furnished by the statement of the Bureau of Statistics of the exports of breadstuffs for that month. The statement in money value, compared with the same month of the preceding two years, is as follows:

Month of August.	1881.	1882.	1883.
Barley	$5,279	$18,172	$12,793
Indian corn	4,050,355	24,101	3,438,266
Cornmeal	91,109	30,694	62,972
Oats	28,121	19,127	30,964
Rye	45,818	50,962	504,892
Wheat	17,764,165	24,341,960	10,794,363
Wheat—Flour	3,562,674	4,195,304	3,971,973
Totals	$25,547,521	$28,910,320	$18,816,129

So far as it is possible to judge from the foregoing, the total exports for August of this year were valued about $55,000,000, against $62,611,156 and $67,514,718, respectively, for the same month of 1882 and 1881. A desire to influence the stock speculation evidently is responsible for the erroneous impressions which have been given a wide publicity as to the foreign demand for our breadstuffs.

The stock market to-day was nothing more nor less than a repetition of what has for twenty-four months been the immediate sequel of events which naturally would be depressing. Yesterday there was no appreciation in the stock market of the importance of yesterday's failures in the dry-goods trade. This morning's publication of the full particulars of these failures created a necessity for giving to the stock market a bold and defiant support. It was done, and it was well done. The same thing was done when the first failure in the boot and shoe trade occurred. To-day the movement to advance prices was aided by the early announcement that the Lake Shore Company had declared a dividend of 2 per cent for the quarter to end September 30. There has been no reason at any time to doubt that the dividend declared would be 2 per cent, but the weakness of the stock at about 103@104 had created the impression that the dividend might be reduced. As to the general market, it opened up ¼@½ per cent, and after weakening off during the first hour, later advanced gradually during the remainder of the day and closed at or near the highest figures.

The market for Government bonds reflects little more than the speculative operations of some of the large dealers. Bids for the 3s were further reduced ¼ per cent; for the 4s were advanced ⅜ per cent, and for the 4½s were raised ⅛ per cent. Annexed are the closing quotations:

State bonds were neglected; the business was covered by small sales of Louisiana consols at 70, and of Arkansas 7s to Pine Bluff Railroad at 40. There were no sales of city bank stocks.

The business done in railroad bonds included only a few issues, and generally in small amounts. Erie first consol 7s were off ⅛ at 124¾. Canada Southern first 5s were steady at 96. St. Louis and Iron Mountain new 5s were ⅛ higher at 75, and West Shore and Buffalo first 5s were steady at 72½@73@72¾. New-York, Chicago and St. Louis first 6s—practically guaranteed by the Lake Shore Company—were weak at 99@99¼. Metropolitan Elevated seconds were up ½ at 90. East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia consols were up ¾ at 73½, and the incomes were steady at about 31. Richmond and Danville incomes declined from 60 to 57@57¾. Northwestern sinking fund 6s sold at 109¾@110⅛, and the sinking fund 5s were off ¼ at 104¼. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy debenture 5s sold at 91½@91⅝. Denver and Rio Grande consols sold at 83, and firsts Western Extension, after selling at 67, closed at 66½. Texas and Pacific incomes were ¼ higher at 55¼, and firsts Rio Grande division, declined from 77½ to 76¾@77¼. Northern Pacific firsts advanced from 102¼ to 102⅞@102¾.

The Sub-Treasury to-day lost on balance $707,916, made up by losses of $704,733 coin and $3,183 currency. The loss to the general balance, however, was reduced $300,000 by an issue of that amount of gold certificates. The day's transactions covered: Receipts, $1,336,779; payments, $1,774,695; currency balance, $6,882,565; coin balance, $118,070,035. The local money market continues to rule easy; the business in call loans was rather evenly divided between 2 and 2½ per cent, and at the close money was offered in large amounts at 2 per cent. The domestic exchanges on New-York are practically unchanged from the last printed quotations.

The Clearing-House statement to-day was as follows: Exchanges, $128,339,472; balances, $5,205,316.

The United States Treasury at Washington to-day received $313,000 National bank notes for redemption. The customs receipts were $815,496, and the internal revenue receipts $266,995.

The foreign exchanges were no more active than usual, but the market was stronger at higher rates. We revise quotations for business as follows: Bankers' bills, $4 82¾ and $4 85¾ for long and short sterling respectively; 5.24 and 5.21 for francs; 94¼ and 94¾ for reichmarks; 39¾ and 40 for guilders.

In London, British consols were strong, and closed ¼ higher at 101 3-16 for money and 101¼ for account. United States 4½s were 1-16 up at 116½, and 4s were steady at 122¾. The quotations for American railways were lower for all except the Atlantic and Great Western issues. The decline simply reflected yesterday's home market. The Bank of England gained £226,000 bullion on balance. India Council bills were allotted at an advance of 1-16 per rupee. At Paris, French 3 per cents declined from 79.05 to 78.85 francs.

The governors of the Stock Exchange to-day admitted to dealings at the board the following securities:

Canada Southern Railroad—Second mortgage 5 per bonds due March 1, 1913, for $6,000,000.

Norfolk Southern Railroad—Stock in lieu of Elizabeth City and Norfolk Railroad stock.

Shenandoah Valley Railroad—First mortgage 7 per cent bonds due January 1, 1909, for $2,270,000; second mortgage 6 per cent bonds due April 1, 1921, for $6,212,000, of which $2,270,000 are reserved to pay the first mortgage bonds; and income bonds 6 per cent non-cumulative, due January 1, 1923, for $2,500,000.

It is understood that the following statement of the New-York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad for the month of June, includes, for June of this year, the net receipts from the operations of the leased line—New-York, Pennsylvania and Ohio (Atlantic and Great Western). The result is an increase of $300,862 in the gross earnings; an increase of $371,000 in the operating expenses; and a decrease of $70,139 in the net earnings from the month of June, 1882. For the nine months ended January 3, 1883, the increase in net earnings is only $2,361, which goes only a little way toward the increase of $800,000 in net earnings predicted for the year of 1883 by a Wall Street pamphlet which assumed to tell the earnings of the company as far ahead as 1885. The comparative statement is as follows:

THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 26.

For the greater part of the day the petroleum market ruled at prices above the final figures yesterday. In the early afternoon $1 16½ was reached. Business slackened, however, as the day grew older, and the result of a covering of trading "shorts" and the realization of profits by the purchasers of yesterday and Monday was a slight reaction. The market closed steady, but a shade
