TROY.

DECORATION DAY—STOVE-MOUNTERS—DRUGGISTS UNITING.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

TROY, May 30.—Troy experienced its grandest Decoration Day procession to-day. Major-General J. B. Carr was marshal of the local military. Grand Army posts, fire companies, and other organizations of the city and its vicinity turned out. Post Adam Goss of New-York, and its auxiliary, Dover Post, paraded as guests of the Tibbits Veteran Corps. Post Goss was given a handsome frame with the picture of each member of the corps. The post returned to New-York to-night on the steamer General Sedgwick. Among the graves decorated at Oakwood Cemetery were those of Generals Thomas, Wool and Tibbits. The Tibbits Corps paraded for the last time as a member of the National Guard.

The foundries have plenty of non-union stove-mounters and the striking union mounters are still out. Sixty union masons struck this week because their employer would not tell them who told him the proceedings of a union meeting. They were out a day, when their employer said that his informant was a member of the union, and they returned.

This week has been marked by an outbreak of crimes of violence. To-day one man is dying in the infirmary from a bullet wound, another at his home from a stab, and a woman at the hospital from kicking.

The druggists have formed an association. Some say that the main object is to keep up the prices of patent medicines, and others that it is to elevate their calling as a profession by means of lectures, interchange of opinions and other aids.

The students of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute last night elected L. S. Miller, of New-York, Grand Marshal. Then they had a serenading procession, getting speeches from the professors, but failing to arouse the president, who had retired.

Secretary of State Carr, Martin I. Townsend and Postmaster Robertson started to-night for Chicago. Collector Smart went on Wednesday.

Ranken Steamer Company, which has taken the drippings from a leaky roof for years, is to have a new $12,000 engine house.

Farmers coming into the city report the strawberry crop, which is usually quite large in Rensselaer County, ruined by frosts.

ALBANY.

SMYTH-DRAPER CONTEST—CATHEDRAL—THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

ALBANY, May 30.—Few Albany politicians besides the delegates and contestants and Federal office-holders will attend the Chicago Convention. The change of front from Blaine to Arthur of the Smyth contestants, although not altogether unexpected, excites unfavorable comment and has weakened the anti-Draper organization. The anti-Draper men have completed their organization by incorporating their contesting delegates from several of the wards of the city. After the Chicago Convention the Draper committee will make one more offer of a compromise and if it is not accepted they will complete their organization.

President Arthur to-day telegraphed Bishop Doane that official engagements at Washington would prevent his attendance at the laying of the corner-stone of the new Episcopal Cathedral on Tuesday. Assistant Bishop Henry C. Potter will deliver the address. Governor Cleveland, State and municipal officers, ex-Governor Fish, and other prominent persons, beside several military and civic associations and the students of St. Stephen's College will be present.

Decoration Day was observed here with the customary ceremonies. Flags were displayed from public and from many private buildings and business was generally suspended in the afternoon. The oration was delivered by Darwin C. Favey, of Troy.

Justice Peckham and family will spend the summer at Knowersville, a suburb about twelve miles from Albany where several prominent Albanians have lately built summer residences.

A committee of the Episcopal diocese of Albany is in New-York in conference with a similar committee of the New-York diocese concerning a claim of Albany upon $40,000 from the mother diocese.

The series of dime operas at the Leland, a baby show at which about a score of infants have been on exhibition and Barnum's circus have constituted the week's round of entertainment.
