FIERCE STORMS AND FLOODS.

DESTRUCTIVE WORK OF THE TORNADO.

NAMES OF THE PERSONS KILLED.—"BILL" NYE'S NARROW ESCAPE.

CLEAR LAKE, Wis., Sept. 11.—The names of the three persons who were killed in the tornado yesterday, were Mrs. P. Burdick, wife of the postmaster; William Cavanaugh, bookkeeper for A. A. Ingalls, and A. H. Saunders, a clerk. Walter Lewis, a clerk, was seriously injured and, it is thought, he will die. Some of the principal losses are as follows: John E. Glover, sawmill, machinery and lumber, $100,000; A. A. Ingalls, general store, $10,000, and Smith & Lewis, store, $4,000. The total loss at Clear Lake and vicinity, will reach at least $250,000. "Bill Nye," of The Laramie Boomerang, was driving with his brother about three miles east of Clear Lake when the tornado struck them. He was lifted clear out of the wagon by the wind and dashed to the side of the road. His right leg was broken in two places below the knee. His brother was only slightly injured and walked back to Clear Lake and procured help, but it was six hours before the injured man could be brought to town, owing to the road being blocked with fallen trees. About forty buildings were wrecked in Clear Lake, including the Methodist, Congregational and Lutheran churches. Humboldt & Co's. sawmill, three miles east of here, was destroyed, causing a loss of $10,000.

THE WATERS OUT IN WISCONSIN.

RAILWAY AND OTHER BRIDGES SWEPT AWAY—STREETS AND HOUSES FLOODED.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 11.—Both the Chippewa and Eau Claire rivers began falling at noon, after reaching the unprecedented height of twenty-six feet, three feet higher than the great flood of 1880. Every bridge on the Chippewa river has gone down; five railroad bridges and five wagon bridges. In this city the loss of property is appalling. No satisfactory estimate can be made at this time. In and between Chippewa Falls and Eau Claire, the loss will not fall short of $1,500,000, and may greatly exceed that sum. The Eau Claire Gas Company lost 350 tons of coal and all their buildings, valued at $15,000. The business houses on all sides of the two rivers are submerged, and great apprehension is felt lest when the water recedes the foundations may be so much undermined as to cause the walls to crumble. In this city over two unoccupied houses have been swept away and only one life has been lost, so far as heard from, three laborers on Bridge-st., West Side, have fallen. They belonged to Fred Ecloff, A. D. Chapelle and J. F. Ewing.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Sept. 11.—The most disastrous flood ever known in this neighborhood is now upon us. The Chippewa river has risen twenty feet since Tuesday midnight, and is still rising at the rate of a foot an hour. Three railroad bridges are in great danger, and the wagon bridge is hourly expected to go. All of the upper dams on Duncan Creek, which passes through the town, are out. A part of the flood from that course reached here at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and swept away the five bridges, together with a large number of buildings, including Kobel's planing mill, Collins's feed store, Stiles, Lego & Bailey's livery stables and Simms & Weisser's agricultural buildings. The loss in the city so far is estimated at $100,000. The worst is still to come, however, as a dam, fourteen miles north of here, passed out yesterday afternoon and released 750,000 feet of logs, which, it is feared, will do great damage in their course down the stream.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 11.—A dispatch to The Evening Dispatch, from Eau Claire, Wis., says: "The booms on Point Creek, a tributary of the Chippewa River, went out late last night, and the water in the Chippewa rose rapidly. This, with the floating logs, carried away the upper bridge of the Wisconsin Central Railroad, at Chippewa Falls, and also the lower bridge, between there and this city. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad bridge and all the city bridges here, and the city bridge at Chippewa Falls have been carried away. The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad bridge at Chippewa Falls, is still intact, but will be in great danger should the river continue to rise. The bank of the River road is being badly washed. Water is flooding the streets of the city and doing great damage. The Eau Claire and Chippewa rivers are higher than ever known before. The water is flowing over the principal streets and many buildings on the lower ground are floating away. A million feet of logs have broken from a boom near the Eddy Mills and are floating down stream.

LIGHTNING STRIKES IN MANY PLACES.

SEVERAL PERSONS PROSTRATED—DAMAGES BY A STORM IN MASSACHUSETTS.

MALDEN, Mass., Sept. 11.—One of the heaviest thunder storms for years, with a strong wind, visited this place shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon. A large number of shade trees around private houses were blown down, and a large number of fruit trees were destroyed. The wind blew down one of the large fifty-foot gates at the railroad crossing, and broke a number of panes of glass throughout the town.

Lightning struck the house of William Hargraves, in Edgeworth, passing into the kitchen, prostrating several persons in this and adjoining houses, but not seriously injuring them. At Melrose the lightning struck the Mountain House, tearing off the chimney and part of the roof. At Stoneham the lightning was exceedingly sharp, striking in several places, although no great damage was done. At Walnut Hill the lightning struck a barn containing a horse, killing him and setting the barn on fire, totally destroying it, and causing a loss of $1,500. At Reading the house of Mr. Spinney, in Arlington-st., and that of I. Turner, of Salem-st., were struck by lightning and slightly damaged.

FROSTS IN THE NORTHWEST.

THE COLD WAVE DISCOVERED AT LAST—SENSIBLE RELIEF EXPERIENCED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Light frost has been reported in Dakota, and heavy frost at Cheyenne. The temperature has fallen in the Upper Mississippi and Missouri Valleys, the Upper Lake Region and New-England, in the other districts it has remained stationary. Some rain fell in the Lake Region, Upper Mississippi Valley and South Atlantic states.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The heated term here was broken by a cold wave last night, causing the thermometer to drop to 59° this morning.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The heat of the past ten days moderated greatly to-day. The sky became overcast occasionally, and the breeze sprang up again. The weather is about normal—warm, but not oppressively so.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11.—There was relief to-day in the fall of the temperature 4° from that of yesterday. For the greater part of the time there was a brisk breeze from the south, and the atmosphere seemed less sultry.

PEASE'S FORGERIES AT PITTSBURG.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—It was rumored in financial circles to-day that Pease, the New-York forger, had forged drafts upon Messrs. Haworth & Dewhurst of this city, to the amount of $12,000, and that when arrested, Pease had in his possession, among other forged paper, a check on this firm for $1,000. The firm declined to make any statement whatever regarding the truth or falsity of the rumor. One day last week the commission firm of J. H. Ortman & Co., of this city, received a telegram from Messrs. Olcott, Weston & Gillespie, attorneys of New-York, asking if a certain acceptance, soon maturing, for the sum of $1,650 64, purporting to be given by them to Pease, was genuine, or a forgery. The firm at once wired the attorneys that no such paper had been accepted by them. A few days later, a letter was received from law firm, thanking the latter for the prompt reply, but further than this no information touching the matter was imparted.

MUCH MONEY FOR A NOMINATION.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The Critic says: "Representative Phil Thompson, of Kentucky, arrived in the city to-day. He had nothing to say about general politics. He says that he has just been defeated at the primaries for a reelection to the House, but that his defeat cost his successful competitor, ex-Senator McCreery, $40,000."

A CINCINNATI GIRL'S RASHNESS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11.—"Gussie" Baehr, of No. 564 Freeman-av., is considered one of the belles of the West End, although her age is only fourteen. She has caused her mother much anxiety by her constant attendance at balls and picnics on the hilltops, where she would frequently remain until midnight, or later. Mrs. Baehr frequently remonstrated with her daughter, but it seemed to have little effect. On Monday evening she started for a walk with a man. Her mother waited for her to return, but no daughter came. A search was instituted, but no traces of her could be found. Long after sunrise yesterday morning the girl arrived at her home. Her mother, worn out by her all-night vigil and angry at Gussie's disobedience, imprisoned her in a room on the second story of the house. It was not long before the miserable girl ran to the window and jumped to the ground. She was rendered unconscious by the shock, and was carried back into the house by her mother, who was distracted at being the indirect cause of the child's rashness. Miss Baehr's condition is precarious.

BETTER NEWS FROM MAINE

THE MAJORITY GROWING—CELEBRATIONS AND CONGRATULATIONS—PROMISE OF VICTORIES IN THE WEST AND SOUTH.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 11.—The latest returns continue to increase the Republican majority in the State. Mr. Boutelle's majority for Congress in this district now reaches 5,684. Robie's majority for Governor over Redman by the returns has increased to 19,000 with some towns yet to hear from. Considering the absolutely fair manner in which the result was brought about, and the zealous efforts of the Democrats to keep down the majority, the Republicans feel that they have great cause for rejoicing. They held a jubilation meeting in this city to-a-night.

Mr. Blaine continues to receive congratulatory dispatches, many of them coming from Ohio and West Virginia. Ex-Senator Hamlin, Congressman Beatelle, Reed, Dingley and Milliken are to proceed soon to Ohio to take active part in the canvass there. Advices received from ex-Governor Foster, Judge West, Mr. McKinley and General Grosvenor, of that State assert that it is sure to give a large Republican majority next month. They not argue that the talk of a large German defection is unfounded, while the Irish-American accusations are numerous. The assertion comes from Illinois, Senator Cullom says that in his own town there are 157 Irish Democrats who have declared for Blaine and he adds that Illinois will give 40,000 majority for the ticket. General Goff, of West Virginia, says that a big surprise is in store for the Democrats of that State. He is confident that the Republicans will carry West Virginia, and adds that it is not mere guesswork, but the result of a careful canvass of the State, and is also large by to the tariff question.

NORTH'S PLURALITY ESTIMATED AT OVER TWENTY THOUSAND.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 11.—The total vote in this week's election will be 140,[illegible] and the Republican majority over Redman [illegible] will not exceed 20,000. This is the largest majority ever given to a candidate for Governor in the Pine Tree State, and the largest ever polled by any party in Maine.

THE BLAINE TIDAL WAVE.

A PROMINENT DEMOCRAT'S OPINION OF THE PROBABILITIES OF "THE SCENTIFIC."

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—It has been stated that Solomon Claypool, one of the ablest and most influential Democrats in the state, and a personal friend of Senator Hamilton, the presiding officer of the Blaine ratification meeting, had expressed his sorrowful opinion that Mr. Cleveland's chances for reelection were hopeless. Mr. Claypool is a Democrat who has frequently been mentioned by his friends for Governor, and Senator Harrison's friends have made it a point to associate their name with that of Claypool. The Senator's friends have made use of the report to the effect that Claypool is bitterly opposed to the Democratic ticket. When asked if the report of Claypool's opinion was true, Mr. Claypool replied:

"That is a mistake. I was misquoted. It would be an honest, however, in any attorney who could afford it, and had the time and inclination, to volunteer in prosecuting the officers or politicians of either political party, in the Blaine case. But, in this case, I cannot do it in this house. Mr. Shoemaker's conduct in this fight, Mr. Shoemaker is the best man in Indiana in point of ability and popularity of any party. I believe the history of this contest will be regarded as one of the greatest frauds ever perpetrated on the American people during the last two Presidential campaigns. I am sorry that the responsible leaders at Washington have shown a degree of respect rather far ill-mannered for Democracy."

OPPOSING THE STANDARD OIL CO.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—A secret meeting of anti-Standard oil refiners was held in this city this afternoon, at which D. P. Rossiter, the Bear Creek Oil Company people, J. W. Witherow and R. G. Rice of Titusville, J. B. Berry of Franklin, Emery, Logan & Weaver of Philadelphia, and numerous others took part. Several of these gentlemen and a number of other local refiners said that they knew nothing about the object of the meeting. It had been called by somebody else and they had merely come to find out what was going on. It was suggested that the object might be in part the building of a pipe line to the Butler field, or to take measures to get the Union Pipe Lines to furnish a better quality of oil than it furnishes at present. At the office of the Standard Company Mr. Rossiter said that they could not explain anything that would call the opposition together, unless it might be some new scheme to divide in opposition to their oil company. After the adjournment this evening it was announced that the object of the meeting was to take measures to secure a reduction of freight rates, but that nothing had been done. This statement is generally discredited and that some new point for fighting the Standard was arranged is considered certain.

CRUSHED BY A MILLSTONE.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

KINGSTON, Sept. 11.—William Stevens, a teamster, residing at Kyserike, in the town of Rochester, Ulster County, met with a horrible death while engaged at his regular work, not far from his home yesterday afternoon. He was driving down a portion of the Shawangunk Mountains, called the Clove, having a millstone weighing about five tons upon his wagon. In coming to a specially steep place in the road, he suddenly made a more vigorous application of the brake, knowing the heavy weight of his load. The arrest of motion was, however, too sudden and the man was thrown to the ground, and the lines not in his hands directly upon him, crushing nearly every bone in his body, death was of course instantaneous. Mr. Stevens was in the employ of John J. Roth, the millstone manufacturer of No. 94 Park Place, New-York, whose quarries and factory are in the above town.

THE MONMOUTH BATTLE MONUMENT.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

FREEHOLD, N. J., Sept. 11.—The joint committee to arrange for the unveiling of the Monmouth Battle Monument met at the residence of Major Yard to-day. It was decided that the ceremonies should take place on Thursday, November 13. The orations will be delivered by Frederick T. Frelinghuysen and Attorney General John P. Stockton. Governor Abbett will accept the monument on behalf of the State. It was also arranged to have a large military display. The Governor will order out two regiments each of the first and second brigades and the Gatling gun battery of Camden.

A SUCCESSFUL CATTLE SHOW.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

PITTSFIELD STATION, Mass., Sept. 11.—The seventy-fifth annual cattle show and fair closed to-day in a heavy shower. The stock display on the opening day was better than for years, both in numbers and quality. The exhibition of horses was also very fine and the display in the hall quite up to that of last year.

THE ELECTRICAL CONFERENCE.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—In to-day's session of the United States Electrical Conference, there was a long discuss on upon the subject of adopting the word "Watt" as a standard of the measure of power. After some discussion, it was agreed to suggest to the Government "the watt" as the unit of electrical power.

LONG FLIGHT OF A PAPER BALLOON.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—Oscar A. Whittaker found a paper balloon, six by nine feet in dimensions, at Hazelwood, XX-Hill Ward, yesterday. On it was the inscription: "Miss Lizzie Hand, East New-York, L. I." Notwithstanding the fact that according to the inscription it came all the way from New-York, a distance of 444 miles, it was in good condition.

WORKMEN ALLOWED TO OPEN THE WINDOWS.

NEW-HAVEN, Sept. 11.—Superintendent Elliot, of the Candee Rubber Company, compromised with the seventy-five bootmakers who struck yesterday because of the unbearable stench and heat caused by the heated rubber when the windows were closed. He allowed them to open the windows six inches and they returned to work this morning. The four hundred other employes then asked the same privilege, but were refused. They immediately struck, and declared their intention of remaining out until their request is granted.

THROUGH NEW-YORK STATE.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

AN ENGINEER KILLS ONE MAN, AND THEN INJURES SEVERAL OTHER PERSONS.

SCHENECTADY, Sept. 11.—Yesterday was Engineer Edward Crane's unlucky day. He took the 10 o'clock, Saratoga train on the Delaware and Hudson road, up from this city, and having until 4 o'clock to wait for his return trip, he was detailed to engineer a "wildcat" train, sent out to pick up iron scraps. At 2 o'clock, the engineer was backing a car at the rate of about twenty-five miles an hour, just out of Saratoga, when a man stepped quickly from the side of the road, and stood across the rails at a distance of about a car's length, from the rapidly approaching train, and looked steadily at it. The men on the car shouted to him at the top of their voices, and the engineer blew his whistle, but the man kept his eyes fixed on the train and did not move. In an instant he was struck and buried from the track into a ditch. He was picked up dead and recognized as James Douglass, a shoemaker, who came from Lansingburgh, sometime ago and has since worked at Saratoga. Engineer Crane says that it was without doubt a deliberate suicide as the man walked in front of the car and stood looking at it. Engineer Crane brought the 4 o'clock train from Saratoga, by the South Ballston station. A load of people attempted to cross the track in front of the train. Crane saw the heads of a team of horses almost on a line with the outer rail, and before warning could be given, the engine struck the nearest horse on the head, killing it instantly. The occupants of the wagon were: J. D. V. Benbrock, his daughter Lena, his son Calvin, wife and child; D. H. Palmer, son and daughter Florence Sharpe; Mr. Vandenbergh, and four others. They were returning to their homes at Round Hills, from a picnic at Ballston Lake. At the crossing, at Round Hill, Mr. Benbrock, who lives near the track, had his team of horses taken from north. Mr. Calvin Tenbrock was thrown under the front wheels of the car and received injuries which caused his death. The engine carried the horse about a hundred feet and then stopped. The wagon was turned upside down and the occupants thrown out. The driver, Mr. Benbrock, was dragged under the train, three hundred feet, and was found dead. The female occupants were all more or less injured. Mrs. Benbrock received a severe cut on the head, and was bruised and lacerated. The child, aged two years, was thrown out and killed. The case is strange, pointing to either suicide or foul play.

EXPERIENCES OF A BLIND MERCHANT.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

KINGSTON, Sept. 11.—D. D. Selleg, the Newburg furniture manufacturer who came here on Monday to look after his interests in the failure of John D. Sleight, the furniture dealer of this city, met with a most unfortunate accident. He jump from the sidewalk into a hack as we came to escape the hot sunshine, he walked into an open hatchway and fell to the cellar. He was removed to his home on foot. Mr. Selleg is said to be entirely blind, having been so from youth. This has made him the victim of numerous accidents during his active business life. He was twice fallen through a hatchway, once been in a railway collision, was pinned in a wrecked explosion, and at another time he was wrecked and rescued from a raft. He manufactures and sells furniture extensively, and the firm is well-to-do. He is said to be an excellent judge of goods, judging wholly by his sense of touch.

THE SALVATION ARMY IN TROUBLE.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 11.—Thursday night local authorities too excited the Salvation Army not to parade with drums and umbrellas. The army sent they would not obey orders, and when they paraded the street at night, a crowd of 3,000 men and boys stopped their progress. Captain Osborne and Private McHugh were arrested by the police. The manner of the Army kept on marching followed by a yelling mob, throwing stones and potatoes. The prisoners were released on their own recognizance until to-morrow. The army sent for reinforcements. It paraded tonight but decided not to use drums. Several from the Schenectady army took part. Captain Osborne remained indoors in a crowd of yelling men and boys followed the parade and jostled the army and threw small missiles. No serious injury was done as the police kept comparative order.

BURIED ALIVE IN A BRICK YARD.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

TROY, Sept. 11.—Edward Daly was buried alive to-day while working in O'Hairn's brick yard on Madison st. The earth caved in suddenly, covering him to his neck and leaving his face and head exposed. He died before he could be extricated. His son, working near him, narrowly escaped the same fate.

THE HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION.

SARATOGA, Sept. 10.—At the meeting of the American Historical Association held here to-day, the following officers were elected: President, Andrew D. White, of Cornell University; vice-presidents, Justin Winsor, of Harvard College, and Charles Kendall Adams, of Michigan University; secretary, Herbert B. Adams, of Johns Hopkins University; and treasurer, Charles Worthington Bowen.

A CLERGYMAN STRUCK BY A RUFFIAN.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

SCHENECTADY, Sept. 11.—Last evening Robert Shay, a young man, was on a Central train with a party of hop-pickers returning from the fields. The crowd was intoxicated. Between Amsterdam and Schenectady, Shay insulted by his party, accosted a gentleman occupying the seat in front of him, who proved to be the Rev. Mr. Charles, of Kingston, of drinking his bottle of whiskey. The minister paid no attention to the drunken man, but continued reading. Shay then took off his hat and struck him violently in the face, at the same time uttering an oath. Mr. Charles sprang to his feet and at the same time Detective Whitesice who happened to be in the car, seized the young fellow and in a moment had handcuffs on him. Several members of the hop-picking party attempted to interfere. One of the foremost was knocked down by a passenger and others were kept back by an officer who was on his way to the penitentiary with a prisoner. Shay was taken from the train at the city and locked up. At his trial he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the county jail.

ANOTHER ALARM AT THE ENTERPRISE MINES.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WILKESBARRE, Penn., Sept. 11.—Since the cave-in at the Enterprise mines a force of men has been engaged in the vicinity of the foot of the shaft propping dangerous places and making preparations for clearing the workings and restoring ventilation. Yesterday however, symptoms of another cave-in manifested themselves, and so alarming did they become that the men have been ordered out and all work is stopped. The reports of an exploration of the wrecked mine are mixed. The condition of the workings being such as to preclude any entrance. It is impossible to say what is the extent of the damage to the mine. Contrary to first expectations, however, the rock which separates the working from those of the drowned-out slope has not been cracked and no unusual quantity of water has made its appearance.

DRIVING A COLORED MAN OUT OF TOWN.

THE COPPERHEADS OF AN INDIANA TOWN OPPOSED TO "NIGGER" WORKMEN.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CONNERSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 11.—An infamous outrage was perpetrated upon a most inoffensive man at Brookville yesterday morning. Eli Griffith, a reputable plasterer of this city, took a contract to do a job of plastering in Brookville and went there in the morning to begin the work. He took with him a colored man, Hill Harris, to help him. Harris is a sober, quiet, industrious man and owns property in this city. He was a soldier during the war and was severely wounded in the battle of Fort Wagoner, N. C. On arriving at Brookville, the two proceeded to the house where the work was to be done. On the way they were met by a crowd and Mr. Harris was told that he must leave the town. He asked what was the matter and was told that they "didn't want any more nigger workmen in Brookville." He was amazed, and so was his employer. Mr. Griffith informed the mob that Harris was a good citizen and had been working for him for four years. They refused to listen to him, however, and repeated their notice to leave the town. Both the men then turned and went back to the railroad station and come home.

Brookville is the county seat of Franklin County, a stronghold of Bourbon Democracy. The county has long been noted for containing more Democrats and less enlightenment than any other county in the state. The people of Connersville are indignant over the insult offered to this colored veteran by the copperheads of Brookville.

A SPLIT AMONG LOUISIANA DEMOCRATS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

NEW-ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The proceedings in the 4th Congressional District of this State yesterday make an opening for another Republican Congressman from Louisiana. A vigorous canvass has been carried on for some time among the Democrats of the district by the friends of C. J. Boatner and the supporters of J. Floyd King, the present member of Congress from the district. The nominating convention met at Minden yesterday and the proceedings were tumultuous and disorderly from the first moment. After vainly endeavoring to transact business the convention took a recess until 3 o'clock. Promptly at the appointed hour the King men assembled in the hall and undertook to reorganize the convention without the Boatner men connected. The work was soon consummated, however, before the Boatner delegates came in. Judge Three was chosen chairman of great confusion. The Boatner men had not had time, of course, to make a thorough canvass of the district, and the Boatner men attempted to put Mr. Kennedy, of East Carroll, who was present, in nomination, but the tickets into the chair. A scene of difficulty was narrowly threatened that the nature of the district had to [illegible] the people. A vote taken was not substituted without action. The spirit is said to be such that the twenty-[illegible] Democratic majority in this district will not be [illegible] Democrats. The [illegible] of the district will [illegible] Lieutenant-Governor of the state, by [illegible] Senator Pickett of the Senate, probably will be the Republican candidate against the King and Boatner men. [illegible] will be the new Congressman.

The warm Boatner friend to Democratic Judge and Sheriff [illegible] Mr. Kennedy, who was [illegible] Democratic nominee, [illegible] Democrats and Republicans [illegible] J. Floyd King, the present representative, [illegible] Democratic nominee, [illegible] Democrats and Republicans [illegible] Democratic nominee, [illegible] Democrats and Republicans [illegible] Democratic nominee, [illegible] Democrats and Republicans
