GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

FEATURES OF NEW-YORK MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 18.

The feature of the grain markets to-day was the further vigorous pushing of the "bull" speculation in corn. There is this to say of the immediate situation, that the "bulls" have got a large "short" interest to operate against and its reduction on the recent rise in prices has not been of sufficient magnitude to weaken it as a supporting element in the market. A moderate supply of graded corn also furnishes some rope for the hauling up of prices. Yet there is no new buying and in view of the certainty of a heavy crop, conservative brokers distrust the present movement. In the last three days alone October options have advanced 3¾ cents. The final figures to-day were only a shade under the highest, and at 61¼ cents October options are up from last night 1½ cents, at 58½, November 1⅜, and at 51¼, December, 1⅝ cents. September corn closed at 63 cents. Yet January options are not above 48½ cents asked, nor May above 49½ cents. The New-York market for corn ruled ⅛ to ⅝ of a cent above Chicago prices.

Wheat showed considerable feverishness here and lagged somewhat behind Chicago, although strength cannot be denied to the market, and the final gains from yesterday were ¼@⅜ of a cent. In the early dealings prices were inclined to weakness, and it was not until after concessions of ¼@⅜ of a cent that the upward movement was renewed. There was a considerable inquiry from exporters but the shipment of 80,000 bushels to Barcelona was compulsory in that a vessel had been chartered for that port, and the amount of exports to-day is no indication of a lasting improvement in this direction. The foreign demand is small and many dealers are closing out present contracts and renewing their sales in the later options. September wheat here ended at 87 cents. Prices closed as follows: October, 87½; November, 89⅜; December, 91⅛ cents. The two principal grain staples closed strong at slight reactions from the best figures of the day. While there is no temptation in the present situation for outside buying and the feeling of traders is "bearish," the "short" interest may still be sufficient to nourish the "bull" fever a while longer. Oats were moderately active to-day, but small concessions were made in prices, and at 31⅞ and 32⅜ cents for October and November options respectively, losses from last night of ⅛ of a cent are shown.

Grain receipts at New-York showed an increase. At this port, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston, the arrivals were: Flour, 23,635 barrels; wheat, 442,245 bushels; corn, 168,008; oats, 115,380; total grain, 725,633 bushels. At Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Toledo the receipts aggregated: Flour, 13,031 bushels; wheat, 369,115 bushels; corn, 373,873 bushels; oats, 217,726 bushels; total grain, 960,414 bushels.

The produce markets were dull. October lard sold at $7 46@$7 50 and ended 2 cents lower at $7 48, while the later options closed 3 cents higher. Pork was dull and weak.

THE TRADE AT CHICAGO.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The receipts of grain to-day were 83 cars winter wheat, 153 cars spring wheat, 343 cars corn, 202 cars oats, 40 cars rye and 70 cars barley. The market opened steady, the early transactions being large; but the fluctuation of prices was within a narrow range. November wheat opened at 7⅞c. and declined ⅛c. November corn opened at 45⅝c. and advanced ⅛c. advance. "Nat" Jones was in the provision pit early in the day, trying to buy lard; but when "Charley" Singer offered 10,000 tierces of November lard he did not care to take it. In provisions but little was done. The feature of the day on 'Change was the further development of the corner in corn. At the opening of the session the burly form of A. G. Low, surrounded by a chip hat of unknown age, might have been seen moving toward the cash crowd. Mr. Low's pockets were well filled with buying orders, and that gentleman operated with a confidence that gave the impression that there were millions behind him. Low opened this morning by buying ten carloads of corn, at 58½c. He wanted more, and was promptly accommodated, for the crowd seemed to be well loaded. He went on buying, filling one trading card after another, until he had taken in several hundred carloads. "Hutch" was at times an interested observer, and so far forget himself as to bid 59⅝c. The market went up to 60c., and still the clique broker was anxious to buy. It is claimed that the September corner is the joint scheme of several men, well known on 'Change. Baker, Weare, Kent, Hutchinson and Simons are frequently spoken of in this connection. Whoever are behind the deal, it is apparent that they have confidence in their ability to take care of all the cash offerings, and it is predicted that the selling of September shorts will not be less than 65c. There is, however, a good deal of corn in the country that will be rushed to market during the next two weeks, in case the market is sustained, making the ultimate success of the corner somewhat problematical. There was lively trading in the wheat pit this morning, and the market was firm, advancing from 76⅝c. to 77⅝c. early in the day. The advance was partially attributed to the boom in corn and partially to foreign buying. Lard was the feature in the provision crowd, and after declining 10c. an advance was registered at 2:30 o'clock. The markets closed strong at the following figures for the October option: Wheat, 77⅞c.; corn, 54c.; oats, 25⅝c.; lard, $7 15; short ribs, $6 60. September corn closed at 61c.

THURSDAY, Sept. 18—6 P. M.

We cannot more briefly express the general character of to-day's stock market than in the statement that four stocks—Union Pacific 48,800, Northwestern 51,100, St. Paul 40,200 and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western 36,300—contributed 216,400 shares, and two other stocks—Jersey Central and Western Union—26,200 shares, making a total for the six stocks of 242,600 shares, in the day's total business of 291,142 shares. Union Pacific was the special feature of the market. And the report of President Adams, a synopsis of which was printed this morning, was the great gun of that clique. The opening price of the stock—48⅝—was 1 per cent higher than yesterday's closing price; the figures however dropped to 48¾, and then with many fluctuations touched 50⅛ and later declined to 48¾@49⅛. The president's report was the subject of much comment and of some criticism because of a seeming inconsistency in its statements; after showing the amount of first charges for the year ended June 30, 1884, to have been $7,892,742 the statement goes on to say that the first charges of the Pacific system amount to $793,000 per month, which is equal to $9,516,000 per annum. Accepting the president's figures for the monthly first charges against the whole system, the result of the seven months' business, January 1 to July 31, 1884, is as follows: Net earnings, as per statement of a few days ago, $7,170,179; first charges seven times, $793,000, $5,551,000. The other five stocks that made up the bulk of the day's business opened at about last night's figures and immediately declined, and in the later fluctuations only partially responded to the sharp advance in Union Pacific. The final results are as follows: Declines—Western Union, ¾; St. Paul, ⅝; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 1⅛; Northwestern, 1¾, and Jersey Central, 3¼ per cent. The remainder of the market was so dull as to require no comment beyond the statement that it yielded to any pressure to sell, and generally shows small final declines. The Southwestern stocks, however, are exceptions, and in some instances show small gains. The market closed weak and unsettled.

Government bonds were dull and irregular in quotations. The bids for the 3s are ½ higher, but for the 4½s are ⅛ lower. Annexed are the final quotations:

The business in State bonds was covered by small sales of Alabama 6s at 80, and there were few quotations—either bids or offers for any of the issues. City bank stocks were neglected and the quotations were unusually nominal.

The business in railway bonds was of the late usual character—dull and generally featureless. Erie second consols, however were moderately active and with many fluctuations declined from 96 to 94@94¼. Missouri, Kansas & Texas consols were unusually active at 104@104¾ against 104⅛ the last previous sale. West Shore first 3s were dull and steady at 97@97¾. Atlantic and Pacific incomes were ¾ better at 16¾, and Northern Pacific firsts were firm at 104¾@105.

The governors of the Bank of England at their regular weekly meeting to-day made no change in the bank's minimum rate of discount, and it remains at 2 per cent. During the week the bank lost £335,3-3 bullion, and the proportion of its reserve to its liabilities was reduced from 45 3-16, against 40⅞ per cent at the date of last year. To-day the Bank gained £7,000 bullion on balance. The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows gains of 3,820,000 francs gold and 3,078,000 francs silver. United States bonds are irregular by the quotations: The 4s off ⅛ at 122⅝, and the 4½s up ⅛ at 115⅛. Quotations for American railways show no important changes, but were all lower; the greatest decline was in St. Paul—¾ to 83⅝, or the equivalent of 80.96 here. At Paris French 3 per cents were first a trifle higher, but closed unchanged at 78.70.
