FRIDAY, June 12—P. M.

It is hard lines for a speculation that makes necessary the use of the death of a prominent railway official on either side of the account. Yet to-day an event of that kind was made an important factor at the Stock Exchange. It was said, or rather intimated, that Mr. Rutter, of the Central and Hudson Company, had been a fighting man and that his removal will facilitate the settlement of the railway wars not only at the East, but also all over the country. None knew how nonsensical all this stuff was more than those who insinuated it—for it was by insinuations, and not by bold and manly assertions, that the matter was employed. Nevertheless, for a surprise and usefulness in influencing prices in a purely local stock market, it was as good as anything else, and for the time being all other causes were forced to take a back seat. General conditions, capitalizations and railway earnings were not factors in to-day's prices, and properties remote from Central and Hudson's jurisdiction and influence reflected the effect of an "easier reconciliation" of conflicting interests. Yet, after all, with the exception of Central and Hudson, Lake Shore (each 1 per cent advance), Northwestern (¾ per cent), and Burlington and Quincy (⅝ per cent), the final changes range only from ⅛ to ½ per cent for the gains of the active stocks, and a few of the inactive stocks show small declines. It was a market where the keeping up of turmoil and confusion imparted an appearance of a greater strength than really existed. Yet the last figures generally were close to the best of the day.

Government bonds were strong with the bids for the 4s ⅛ per cent higher, and for the currency 6s the bids were irregularly higher. Annexed are the closing quotations:

State bonds were dull, with small sales of Tennessee compromise at 54 and Alabamas class A at 99¾. Of city bank stocks only American Exchange sold (8) at 119.

The general bond market was a part and parcel of the share speculation, and for the one-hundredth time in the last ten years public attention will be directed to "the increasing investment demand for railroad bonds." It is a fact that good, first-class railway bonds are not pressed for sale, but it also is true that their prices are so high that the demand at current figures is no greater than is the supply. As to the other classes, they now are moving, as they before have done, in unison with a manipulated share market, and are called "strong" at steady or higher figures, as the case may be. Erie seconds to-day sold up ⅜ to 48⅜, but the closing figure of 48 is the same as last evening. New-York, Chicago and St. Louis firsts were 1½ higher at 70½. West Shore first 5s sold from 33⅞ to 35 @ 34½. The price of these bonds would have a good chance for a sharp advance upon their merits if some unknown interest that is inimical to a practical reorganization of the company's affairs was less industrious in keeping the bondholders apart by the holding of "town meetings" and the construction of spontaneous and objective committees. It is perfectly clear that any proposed reorganization that does not include a complete possession of the terminal properties is not one worthy a moment's attention from persons holding a real pecuniary interest in the property. Missouri, Kansas and Texas first consol 7s rose 1 per cent to 108½ and closed at 108¼; the general 6s were ½ better at 72½, and the 5s were up ¾ at 59½. St. Louis and Iron Mountain 5s were ¼ higher at 73. Oregon Short Line 6s were ⅛ better at 91. Texas and Pacific incomes rose 1 per cent to 37. Atlantic and Pacific firsts, Western division, were up 1 per cent at 74, and the incomes rose from 15¾ to 16¾@16½. Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg firsts were ⅛ lower at 74¾. Canada Southern firsts were ¼ better at 99½. Northwestern new debenture 5s were ½ easier at 98¼, but Burlington and Quincy debenture 5s were up ⅜ at 102⅝. Denver and Rio Grande firsts sold at 103⅛@104 on seller's options of twenty and thirty days against 105 yesterday, and the consols were up ½ at 55¾. Denver, Rio Grande and Western firsts were ¼ higher at 41. Northern Pacific firsts were up ⅝ at 104½.

The business of the Sub-Treasury for the week ending to-night includes receipts of $7,211,107 and payments of $6,981,751, leaving the general balance at $171,364,644, against $171,135,288 June 5, showing an apparent gain of $229,356. But deducting from the payments $1,434,000, and from the receipts $650,000 for certain items of transfers which only affect the Sub-Treasury's account with the General Treasury, its true gain as affecting the banks is $1,013,356. To-day's operations covered: Receipts, $1,439,725; payments, $1,867,722; currency balance, $22,382,113; coin balance, $148,982,231.

The money market was easy at 1 per cent with exceptional loans at 1½ per cent.

The Clearing House statement to-day was as follows: Exchanges, $85,322,731; balances, $5,129,853.

The United States Treasurer at Washington to-day received $568,000 National bank notes for redemption; the customs receipts were $490,154, and the internal revenue receipts were $338,223.

The foreign exchanges were dull, but fully steady at yesterday's reduced rates, which for business are as follows: Bankers' bills, $4 85½ and $4 86½ for long and short sterling respectively; 5.20⅜ and 5.19⅜ for francs; 94⅝ and 94⅞ for reichmarks; 40 and 40⅛ for guilders.

In London British consols were irregular; they opened ¼ per cent lower at 99 5-16 for money and 99⅜ for account; later recovered to 99 9-16 for both, and closed at 99½ and 99 9-16 respectively for money and account. Of course there was a general advance for American railways in response to yesterday's home movements, and it is noticeable that in one or two instances the advances were equal to the gains made in the American markets. The Bank of England gained £50,000 bullion on balance. At Paris French 3 per cents rose from 81.12½c to 81.25, and sight exchange on London was easier at 25.20½ frs. to the £.

The Commercial and Financial Chronicle to-morrow will print its usual review of the acreage, stand, and condition of the cotton plant. As supplementary to the conditions of this crop, much space is devoted to the changing conditions of last year's crop. The tables printed in the present review extend back only six years, but by reference to earlier volumes of The Chronicle we learn that there has been an almost progressive increase in the amount of acreage planted each year since 1869, although the product has shown great fluctuations. The acreage of 1869 was 8,766,653 acres, against 18,710,000 acres planted this year; the product of 1869 was 3,154,946 bales, against 5,600,000 bales for (17,834,000 acres) 1884. The following are the statistics of the crops of the last five years:

Average	149	194	144	187	180	171	177

Note.—For the purposes of this table we have taken the average net weight of bales, which is 483-'84 was 454 lbs., in 1882-'83 was 461 lbs., in 1881-'82, 447 lbs.; 1880-'81, 457 lbs.; 1879-'80, 452 lbs.; 1878-'79, 445 lbs.; 1877-'78, 451 lbs.

The estimate of the acreage for this year compares with that of 1884 as follows:

States.	Acreage, 1884.	Estimated for 1885. Increase.	Acres, 1885.
North Carolina	1,072,000	2 per cent	1,093,000
South Carolina	1,678,000	1 per cent	1,704,000
Georgia	3,007,000	2 per cent	3,067,000
Florida	278,000	2 per cent	284,000
Alabama	2,807,000	3 per cent	2,984,000
Mississippi	2,480,000	3 per cent	2,664,000
Louisiana	921,000	8 per cent	895,000
Texas	3,257,000	13 per cent	3,680,000
Arkansas	1,231,000	6 per cent	1,305,000
Tennessee	895,000	4 per cent	931,000
Other States and Ter's	100,000	3 per cent	103,000
Total	17,834,000	4.91 per cent	18,710,000

The Chronicle's conclusions, based upon acreage and present conditions are: "We do not remember a season for a long time when there was so little replanting" . . . "The whole production is fairly well advanced"; cultivation was satisfactorily sustained until interrupted in the last days of May by excessive rains in some sections; but in June there is an improvement in that respect. The condition of the plant is now, taken as a whole, very promising indeed—far better than either last year or the year before at this date. The Mississippi Valley is unusually promising, where a year ago the outlook was so unfavorable. "Whatever, therefore, the future weather may be, it would seem almost impossible with such a start not to produce this summer a considerably increased crop."

GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

NEW-YORK, June 12, 1885.

COFFEE—Spot Rio quiet and easier at 8¾c. for Fair. No sales. Options were fairly active, opening 5 points lower, with Havre down ¼f., exchange in Rio ⅛ lower and the receipts there 7,000 bags; the close here was more steady. Scots sold 10,000 bags for July and August. Wolff & Seligsberg traded to the extent of nearly 15,000 bags altogether on both sides of the market. Gruner at about the close bought 4,000 October and said he wanted 20,000 September, but did not buy them. Arbuckle sold 5,500 for September and October. Early in the day he is said to have bought 1,500 July. Crosman & Co. held aloof from the market, and Lehman did little. Sales, 32,000 bags, closing as follows: June, 6.70@6.75; July, 6.70@6.75; August, 6.80@6.85; September, 6.90@6.95; October, 6.95@7.00; November, 7.00@7.05; December, 7.05@7.15. Mild grades moderately active and easy. Sales of 1,187 bags Maracaibo, 2,800 mats Padang ex "Chili." and 1,000 picals do. from the December sale on private terms. COTTON—Spot quiet and 1-16c. lower. Sales of 913 bales (328 last evening), including 475 for export, and 438 for home consumption; deliveries on contracts, 1,600 bales; receipts at the ports since September 1, 4,684,175 bales, against 4,705,563 bales for the same period last season.

Futures were more active, but Liverpool was lower and Manchester depressed, and prices here closed 7 to 12 points lower. Mr. Isman bought 3,000 bales for July and August, understood to be to cover contracts. Ranger bought a little July and August early in the day. The crowd covered freely. Allen sold November and December. Siedenburg says that he thinks August is going to 10c. He sold 5,000 bales to-day for July, August, September and October. Grumer sold September and December. The sales were 99,800 bales.
