IN FAVOR OF THE ARCADE ROAD.

JUSTICE VAN BRUNT MAKES A DECISION.

PROPERTY-OWNERS WHO OPPOSED THE COMPANY DEFEATED—WHAT IS SAID ON BOTH SIDES.

Justice Van Brunt presiding in the Supreme Court, handed down a decision sustaining the Arcade Railway Company in the suit brought against it by John Jacob Astor, O. B. Potter and other property-owners in Broadway, who sought to enjoin it in its plans for the construction of an underground railroad. The company demurred on the ground that it was proceeding constitutionally and lawfully. The justice upholds the constitutionality of the legislative acts under which the company has gone to work and declares that the legislation of last year by which the company obtains additional powers is also constitutional. The property-owners asserted that the company had not fulfilled the conditions prescribed for its continued existence; that its charter had lapsed; that it had fallen foul of the General Railroad Act and was otherwise out of the pale of the law.

The justice holds that there are such inconsistencies between the General Railroad Act and the acts under which the company professes to be acting in the matter of beginning and ending the construction of the road that it is not necessary to cite authorities to show that the special act must prevail. The Legislature, foreseeing difficulties in the execution of the work, due to property-owners, etc., intended undoubtedly to take the charter of this company out of the provisions of the several Railroad Acts which were provisions of precision, while the provisions of the Act of 1874 were not. The conditions regulating the manner of doing the work were not conditions prevalent. As for the Act of 1886 giving rights to lay railroad tracks which never before existed, in violation of the constitution, as alleged, it is to be observed, the justice says, that the act gives no additional authority to the company to lay tracks, but simply enlarges the space to be occupied, and this is not in conflict with the constitutional provisions against private or local bills for railroad tracks.

On the question of injury to vaults under the sidewalks and streets, the justice says:

I fail to find any authority under which occupants of any part of the public streets whether above or below the surface, can acquire any vested rights therein. The Legislature can give none, neither can the Municipality. The fee of the street is in the Municipality in trust, nevertheless that the same be kept open for, or as a part of, the public street, avenue, square or public place. This is the contract made by the State with the parties assessed for benefits, and no part thereof can be devoted to any private use.

The demurrer is therefore sustained. Ex-Chief Justice Daly, A. J. Vanderpoel, Robert Sewell and ex-Senator Thomas represented the road, ex-Judge Dillon and A. P. Man the property-owners.

A director of the Arcade Company said of the decision: "This is what we have hoped for and waited for. It has been this litigation, of course, which has kept us from beginning our work. We have capitalists ready to go on with the work and now we shall be in a position to begin the construction of the road. Should there be an appeal by the property-owners it would seem that they would have a difficult time to get an injunction against us in view of this clear-cut and emphatic decision on all the points in our favor."

O. B. Potter said: "I have not yet read the decision, but it is perfectly safe to say that the matter will be carried to the Court of Appeals. This is the decision of only one judge."

A. P. Man indorsed Mr. Potter's views and enumerated the many legal difficulties which to his mind yet awaited the onward march of the Arcade project to give rapid transit to the city.

RIGHTS OF W. J. HUTCHINSON.

JUSTICE VAN BRUNT CONTINUES AN INJUNCTION AGAINST THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

William J. Hutchinson having been expelled from the Stock Exchange on a charge of "obvious fraud" in his dealings as a broker with John A. Duff, of Boston, appealed to the courts. Justice Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, granted a temporary injunction to restrain the enforcement of the resolution of expulsion. Justice Van Brunt yesterday decided to continue the injunction. In his opinion he says:

The fact remains undisputed that witnesses were examined without plaintiff's knowledge, after he had reason to believe that the trial had been closed, who gave evidence of vital importance to the question being investigated, and that the plaintiff never was acquainted with this fact nor was he afforded an opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses who had been permitted to give their testimony before judgment was pronounced against him. Such a proceeding was not just and fair toward the plaintiff who had the right to know what was being done against him.

News of the decision was received at the Stock Exchange with mingled surprise and indifference. It was said at once that the case would be appealed under any circumstances, and it was agreed that there was little probability that Mr. Hutchinson would return to New-York to avail himself of the privileges of the Exchange under the protection of the court. The temporary injunction was granted before he went to Europe, and it was known at the time that the Exchange would oppose no obstacle to his entrance on the floor, but Mr. Hutchinson did not attempt to enter the building, although he was informed that it was open to him at any moment. It is not considered probable that he will return from Paris to do only what could have been easily done before his departure. An officer of the Exchange said when the decision was announced:

"I think the air of "la belle France" is too balmy for Mr. Hutchinson to brave the risks and discomforts of an ocean voyage at this season of the year. I shall not look for his immediate return on account of the decision. Of course the decision will be appealed and we have no doubt of the final result."

It was stated in Wall Street yesterday that Mr. Hutchinson had settled many claims against him held by members of the Stock Exchange, and that he would not be deterred from coming to New-York on account of anything of that kind. The settlements that have been made, however, are understood to have been made with creditors who held collateral security sufficient to discharge the debts in full or in large part.

BITS OF LEGAL NEWS.

An attachment against the property of Joseph J. Falk was granted yesterday by Justice Donohue, of the Supreme Court, at the suit of Washington Seligman & Co., on a claim for $5,556.74 alleged to be due on stock transactions. They allege that he has left the State in order to defraud his creditors.

The claim of James Kehoe against the City for $38,000 and interest on a contract to regulate and grade one hundred and twenty-fifth street from Third-ave. to Sixth-ave., was dismissed yesterday by Justice Beach, of the Supreme Court. The City defended on the ground that as Mr. Kehoe had not completed the work nothing was due him under the contract.

The order denying the application of the New-York Electric Lines Company for a peremptory mandamus to compel the Commissioner of Public Works to grant the company a permit to open the streets has been affirmed by the General Term of the Court of Common Pleas.

Justice Van Brunt of the Supreme Court has decided in the suit brought by the city against the Twenty-third Street Railroad Company, that it must account for the gross receipts of the Bleecker Street and Fulton Ferry Railroad and must pay one per cent thereof to the city treasury from January 1, 1879. The Bleecker Street Company was organized in 1860, incorporated on December 12, 1861, and in 1876 leased by the Twenty-third Street Railroad Company for ninety-nine years.

The trial of a suit begun by Miss Matilda Friedman, age fifteen, against Dr. Louis Fischer, a prominent German physician of Rivington-st., in which she claims $2,000 for an indecent assault, was begun in the City Court before Judge Ehrlich yesterday. She deposed that on the evening of August 22, at No. 14 Second-st., he committed the crime. She tried vainly at to her nostrils a vial the fumes from which rendered her unconscious.

The Virginia Consolidated Mining Company applied to the Supreme Court last September for an order dissolving it. William A. Pullman, president of the Seaboard Bank, was appointed its receiver. A report was filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday by Herbert F. Andrews, to whom the accounts of the receiver were referred, setting forth that Mr. Pullman has received $10,049 and has not paid out any part of it, and that the stockholders of the company are entitled to a dividend of 1.5 cents on each share owned by them.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

AN APPLICATION IN A POLYGAMY CASE GRANTED—LONGEVITY PAY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A decision was rendered by the Supreme Court to-day in the polygamy case of Lorenzo Snow, petitioner, which comes upon an appeal from a decision of the Third Judicial Court of Utah, denying the prisoner's application for a writ of habeas corpus. Snow, the petitioner, was found guilty of polygamy upon three indictments, which were all alike except that they covered different periods of time. The court sentenced him to a fine of $300 and six months imprisonment upon each indictment, the several terms of imprisonment to follow one another. The prisoner after serving out the first term filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus and discharge from prison on the ground that he could not be legally sentenced to three terms of imprisonment for one continuous offence. The court denied his application and he thereupon appealed. This court is unanimously of opinion that the order and judgment of the lower court must be reversed and the case be remanded to that court with direction to grant the writ of habeas corpus prayed for, and to take such proceedings thereon as may in conformity with law and not inconsistent with the opinion of this court.

A decision was rendered also in the case of the United States against Stephen A. Northway. The defendant in this case was indicted for an alleged embezzlement of the funds of the Second National Bank of Jefferson, Ohio, of which he was president. The case was heard on a demurrer in the Circuit Court, and the judges in that court were divided in opinion with regard to several questions and upon a certificate of such division the case comes to this court, and some of the questions submitted to the court are answered.

A decision was rendered in the longevity pay case of the United States against Susan E. Dunn, administratrix. Appeal from the Court of Claims. The question involved in this case is whether or not under the act of 1883 service in the marine corps should be counted in an officer's time in the computation of longevity pay. This court, in an opinion by Justice Miller, says that the position occupied by the marine corps has long been in some respects an anomalous one, but that taking all the statutes and the practice of the Government together there can be no doubt that that corps is a military body belonging primarily to the navy and under the control of the head of the Navy Department with liability to be ordered to serve in connection with the army, and in that case under command of army officers. The court is of the opinion that the claimant is entitled to longevity pay for services rendered in the Marine Corps.

The other decisions handed down are as follows:

No. 102.—Chas. A. W. Sherman, administrator, etc., et al., appellants, agt. David H. Jerome et al, executors, etc. Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Michigan. Decree reversed with costs and cause remanded with a direction to take such further proceedings therein as shall not be inconsistent with the opinion of this court.

No. 6.—Jesse P. Farley, appellant, agt. Norman W. Kittson et al. Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the district of Minnesota. Decree reversed with costs and cause remanded with directions to overrule the plea of the defendants and to order them to answer the bill.

No. 145—Thomas McNally, appellant, agt. the steam tug L. P. Dayton, her tackle, etc. Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New-York. Decree affirmed with costs.

No. 1,204—Jeremiah R. Harmon, plaintiff in error, agt. Charles V. McAdams and others, executors, etc. In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois. Judgments affirmed with costs and interest.

No. 128—Samuel B. Burdett and others, plaintiffs in error, agt. Samuel B. Martin. In error to the Supreme Court of State of California. Judgment affirmed with costs.

No. 167—Samuel B. Martin, plaintiff in error, agt. Anthony Thompson. In error to the Supreme Court of the State of California. Dismissed for the want of jurisdiction.

No. 114—The Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Railway Company, plaintiff in error, agt. Meyer Hev & Co. In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Kentucky. Judgment affirmed with costs and interest by a divided court.

No. 100—The Pensacola Ice Company, plaintiff in error, agt. David Perry. In error to the Circuit Court for the Northern District of Florida. Judgment reversed with costs and cause remanded with directions to award a new trial.

No. 14—The Home Insurance Company of New-York, plaintiff in error, agt. the people of the State of New-York. Petition for rehearing granted and case assigned for argument before a full bench.

No. —. Original, ex parte; in the matter of George M. Bain, jr., petitioner. Leave to file petition for writ of habeas corpus and rule to show cause granted.

No. 1,341.—H. A. Carper, jailor of Pulaski County, appellant, agt. Richard I. Fitzgerald. Advanced and assigned for argument on the 7th of March.

No. 325.—The Crescent City Live Stock Landing and Cleaning House Company, plaintiff in error, agt. the Butchers' Union Slaughter House and Live Stock Landing Company. In error to the Supreme Court of the State of Louisiana. Stricken from the docket.

Nos. 498 and 499.—Thurber, Whyland & Co., appellants, against A. W. Woolward and others. Appeals from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Iowa. Dismissed with costs.

TO BE TRIED FOR SELLING OLEOMARGARINE.

Assistant District-Attorney Delancey Nicoll appeared before Recorder Smyth yesterday with a large bundle of papers in his hand. He said that they were a part of the cases in which indictments had been found at the instigation of the State dairy commissioner for viol ations of the laws against oleomargarine. He said that there were 128 such cases in the District-Attorney's office. The only objection to trial was that the question of the constitutionality of some of the laws was before the Court of Appeals. He was informed, however, that the cases which were moved for trial were those in which false representations had been made, and the questions before the Court of Appeals were of a different kind.

The counsel for the indicted persons asked for an adjournment of the cases because the Court of Appeals would soon act on the question, but the Recorder set the first of the cases down for to-morrow.

PROSPERITY OF A CRICKET CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Staten Island Cricket and Baseball Club was held in one of the rooms of the Produce Exchange yesterday. William Krebs presiding. Fifty-four members were present. Edward J. Shriver, treasurer, submitted his report showing: Receipts, $2,677; disbursements, $20,108; balance, $568; add balance from 1885, $1,455; balance on hand, $2,024. Secretary E. H. Outerbridge's report showed the flourishing condition of the club and placed the number of members at 641. The club voted to raise the annual dues and the admission fee from $10 to $15 each.
