A QUIET DAY IN THE PORK PIT.

BUT THE HIGH PRICE KEEPS UP—INCIDENTS OF MONDAY'S FLURRY.

CHICAGO, March 1 (Special).—From long before 9 o'clock until 10:30 this morning the lower corridors of the Board of Trade were crowded with brokers, with outsiders, with settling clerks and with boys and men of all sorts and with all interests discussing the wild scenes of yesterday in the pork pit. The day being the first of the month and set apart for deliveries the regular session did not begin until an hour later than usual. That hour was given over to the dissemination of the wildest sort of rumors, or to pronostication equally wild. Over in the big bucket shops which fringe the locality, the gossip was equally as animated. It was rumored last night that Murphy, the richest bucket shop man here whose partners are "Dave" Pulsifer and Kiley, the pool-seller, had "laid down." There was no truth in the report but there was a mysterious lot of gossip going about among the bucket shop men themselves. Three of the smaller concerns "went broke" and Murphy is said to have dropped $50,000. His loss here to his local traders were upward of $100,000; half of this was offset by winnings made out of country trade. Pulsifer is said to have had up $25,000 with a countryman on "a freeze-out" on 25,000 barrels of pork. The price went up in less than two days and the bucket shop man got the countryman's money. There were numerous lesser incidents. One darkey gambler named Scott pulled $3,500 out when the price yesterday was $19. Another named Irwin whose profits in sight at that moment were double that sum was wiped up an instant later when that drop from $19 30 to $16 80 came.

There was so big a crowd in the pork pit at the opening that it was impossible for the little telegraph boys to dart in and out. For several minutes after the opening there was no trade at all. Sellers asked $18; buyers bid only $17. In the first five minutes there were few trades made—first at $17 50; then at $17 70 and up to $19. The rule in the pit to-day was apparently to restore confidence; to settle the price at above $18 until the world gets accustomed to it and then when that is done and trading is active to advance it a peg or two further. At 1 o'clock the close was at $18 67½ for May although the price within 5 minutes had been $19. Most of the purchases were supposed to be for bucket shops who had now begun to hedge. Lard and ribs were sparingly traded in.

Wheat sold up to 78½ cents and down under 78 cents. The gossip was that the Cincinnati clique had tried to form a coalition with the other cliques which are long on wheat with a proviso that the whole speculation should put into one man's hands. The attempt, it was said, had not succeeded. There were enormous clearances for the seaboard—over 5,209,000 bushels of wheat—and they caused the early strength. But the very warm weather and the promise of still warmer weather made sellers of everybody except the clique. There was considerable weakness at Duluth where the weather was even more summery than here. Hutchinson was the largest seller at the opening. Corn went off with wheat.

At 2:30 o'clock May pork closed at $18 35; May wheat closed at 77⅞ and May corn at 38⅝.

MORE RAILROAD FACILITIES FOR WATERBURY.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 1.—A number of Waterbury's business-men held a consultation Saturday night on the Waterbury-Meriden railroad project. It is proposed to connect the two cities by sixteen miles of road at an expense of $400,000. Waterbury is asked to take $150,000 of the stock and the outlook for the proposed branch road is favorable. The interest in the enterprise arises from the fact that the road will connect at Meriden with the Meriden and Cromwell road, a short branch line, thereby giving Waterbury direct connection with tidewater and. It is estimated, a decrease of 20 per cent in freight rates. The Meriden people promise Waterbury the same rates to Waterbury on freight that the former city now enjoys.

A BIG OFFER TO A COAL OPERATOR.

PITTSBURG, March 1 (Special).—The Connellsville Coke Syndicate is said to have offered J. W. Moore not less than $1,500,000 for his plant which includes nearly 1,000 coke ovens. Mr. Moore is the largest independent operator and has several times refused to join the syndicate, and now they propose to rid themselves of his opposition by buying him out. Mr. Moore refused to decide for twenty days. Mr. Moore was a poor boy and for many years a country butcher.
