SENTENCE SUSPENDED IN THE CASE OF KNIGHTS OF LABOR INDICTED FOR CONSPIRACY.

John E. Gill, John Foster and James Campbell, three of the five members of the Executive Committee of District Assembly No. 91 of the Knights of Labor, who were arrested over a year ago on a charge of conspiracy, were arraigned at the bar of the General Sessions yesterday, before Recorder Smyth. The two other members of the committee were absent through some misunderstanding and will be arraigned to-day. The arrest of the defendants arose from the labor troubles at the shop of Gardner & Estes, in 1886. Gill and his associates were afterward arrested on two charges of conspiracy. Police Justice Smith held them for trial, and they were afterward indicted. Louis F. Post, counsel for the indicted men, and District-Attorneys Martine and Fellows were alike anxious to have the questions of law in the case settled and when Justice Smith had decided to hold the men for trial a writ of habeas corpus was obtained, and the case was taken before Justice Barrett who decided that the acts of the members of the committee were a violation of the law. The General Term, on appeal, and the Court of Appeals affirmed this opinion.

The defendants yesterday pleaded guilty to the indictments against them. Mr. Post recited the facts in the case, and said that the defendants believed they had been acting within the law. No violence was used and in that respect, Mr. Post said, the case differed from the others which had been tried. He said that the defendants would now be careful to obey the law, and he thought that the case was one in which sentence might be suspended.

District-Attorney Fellows said that he agreed with what Mr. Post had said, and he concurred in the suggestion that sentence be suspended. The main object of pressing this case to the higher courts had been accomplished and this law had been clearly defined.

The Recorder said that, acting on the recommendation of the District-Attorney, he would suspend judgment for the present in these cases on the distinct understanding, however, that these men, if they again violated the law against conspiracy and were brought before him, would be sent to the penitentiary on this charge. The indicted men were not particularly jubilant at having escaped punishment at this time, for they seemed to be aware that extreme caution would be necessary to manage "strikes" in the future, without coming in contact with the law.

THE COURTS.

NEW DEFENDANTS IN AN OLD SUIT.

Permission was granted by Justice Ingraham in the supreme Court yesterday, for the service of a supplemental complaint in the suit of David Wolfe Bruce, David Wolfe Bishop and Louis L. Lorillard, trustees under the will of Dorothea A. L. Wolfe, and executors of Catharine L. Wolfe, to have their accounts passed. In the amended complaint James P. Kernochan, William Augustus Spencer and Charles G. Spencer, executors of Lorillard Spencer, are substituted for the defendants. Mrs. Matilda W. Bruce, the sole executrix of another defendant, George W. Bruce, is substituted for him. He was a trustee under the will of John David Wolfe, the husband of Matilda A. L. Wolfe, and father of Catherine L. Wolfe.

BITS OF LEGAL NEWS.

Receiver Milbank, appointed to take charge of the Navarro Flats, in the foreclosure suit brought by the Mutual Life Insurance Company, rented the apartment of Mr. Boller, one of the sixteen tenants, or owners, of the Cordova Apartment Association, receiving, as is alleged, $500 more than he was authorized to charge by the order of the Supreme Court. Justice Ingraham yesterday reserved his decision on an application for an order requiring the receiver to pay the $500 to Boller.

An attachment was obtained from Justice Ingraham, in the Supreme Court, yesterday, by the Hyatt Company, against Louis Cooper, of No. 35 Canal-st., in a suit to recover $424 57 for carpets sold and delivered. It is charged that Cooper has disposed of his property with intent to defraud his creditors.

What is called "the horse effect," in the drama, "Held by the Enemy," of which William Gillette is the author, is a device invented by him, and he claims the exclusive right to use it. Edwin Atwell, author and manager of "His Lordship," having adopted the appliance in that play, Gillette, through his counsel, Hart & Price, has applied for an injunction to restrain him from using it. The matter will be argued in the Supreme Court, Chambers, next week.

Argument was heard by Judge Van Hoesen, in the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, on the motion to make permanent the injunction recently obtained by Andrew J. Kimball, as a taxpayer, to restrain the Gas Commissioners from awarding contracts for lighting the city. Among the eight bids for the contracts put in by electric light and gas companies was one by the New-York Electric Construction Company. It was stated that this company had no plant or permit to string wires, and that its bid was made in collusion with other companies. Decision was reserved.

In order to throw light on the points raised by Hart & Price, counsel for Hugh Fay in his suit for a dissolution of his partnership with Nelson Waldron and William H. McGibben, in the management of the play "Light on the Point," an order was obtained for the examination of Charles Seymour, manager of H. R. Jacobs's Brooklyn Theatre. A motion to vacate the order was denied by Justice Ingraham, in the Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday.

The twenty days prescribed by the code for answering the complaints of "Boodler" John Keenan, in his suits against O'Brien & Clark, the aqueduct contractors, having expired, and no answers having been served, argument on orders to show cause why the defendants should not now be allowed to serve their answers will be heard to-day.

At the suit of Seth W. Milliken and others, an injunction was granted by Justice Ingraham in the Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, restraining the executors of John R. Meyers from pledging, hypothecating or disposing of $102,872 worth of securities, turned over to them in July, 1884, by Lewis May, as assignee of Halstead, Haines & Co.

The hearing on the application of Professor Alphanse Loisette, for a permanent injunction to restrain George S. Fellows from publishing the secrets of the Professor's art of strengthening the memory, was adjourned yesterday in the Supreme Court, Chambers, until Monday.

Justice Ingraham, in the Supreme Court, yesterday confirmed the report of Referee George Putnam Smith, awarding $3,478 42 to James M. Hill, in his suit against Edward J. Woolsey, for a balance of rent due for the Madison Square Theatre.

Schedules in the assignment of Moses A. Shaw, surviving partner of the firm of Shaw & Co., dealers in lumber, show liabilities, $158,875 31; contingent liabilities, $528,002 73; nominal assests, $138,487 81, and actual assets, $6,961 05. The firm having confessed judgment for $75,000, the Sheriff levied on the stock and realized $30,000.

Surrogate Ransom has ordered a reference in regard to the allegations of Sarah Louisa Plumb, concerning the management of her mother's estate by her father, James Nell Plumb.

Thomas R. Knox and David S. Knox (Thomas R. Knox & Co.), publishers and bookbinders, No. 817 Broadway, have made an assignment to Charles L. Chase, giving preferences for $4,600.

Eggers & Heinlein have obtained an attachment in the Supreme Court against the property in the State of Caraza & Co., of Vera Cruz, on a claim of $4,005 on four bills of exchange.

Preferences for $1,300 were given by Francisco Lopez and Eduardo Barbarrosa, in their assignment, filed yesterday, to George Fink.

Judgments for $14,630 were entered in the County Clerk's office yesterday against Seligman, May & Co., who recently made an assignment.

TOO MANY PEOPLE FOR THE SPACE.

The Health Board yesterday received reports from Sanitary Superintendent Day, showing that the tenement houses Nos. 83 and 115 Mulberry-st., 13 Pell-st., 33 and 37 Crosby-st., 20 Prince-st., 215 Hester-st., 227 and 239 East One-hundred-and-eighth-st., 340 and 346 East One-hundred-and-tenth-st., 431 and 433 East One-hundred-and-eleventh-st., and 426 East One-hundred-and-twelfth-st. were over-crowded by Italians. An order will be sent to the owner or lessee of each house to drive out and keep out about one-third of the present occupants. Dr. Day also reported that the houses Nos. 68 East Eleventh-st and 240 East Seventy-fifth-st. had become unfit for human habitation on account of defects in the plumbing, and he was directed to have the houses vacated until the owners made the necessary repairs.

The physicians of the "summer corps," who began to visit the tenement houses on July 5, inspected 1,888 houses during their first week of duty. The houses held 14,083 families. Few nuisances were discovered, but the physicians prescribed for 462 sick persons, mostly children, whose parents were too poor to pay for medical attendance.

PRIZES AWARDED TO ARCHITECTS.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners yesterday awarded the prizes offered for plans of the new Municipal Building, originally intended to consist of two separate buildings connecting with the City Hall and the Court House. Five prizes were offered, ranging from $5,000 to $1,000, and twenty-two plans were submitted. The first and second prizes, of $5,000 and $4,000, were withheld. The other prizes were awarded as follows: Third prize, $3,000, to R. N. Crawford, Brooklyn; fourth prize, $2,000, to Appeton P. Clark, jr., Washington, D. C.; fifth prize, $1,000, to Joseph A. Stark, New-York. A special prize of $1,000 was awarded to Weston & Tuckerman, New-York; and an additional special prize of $2,000, to Charles B. Atwood, New-York. The last prize was awarded with the condition that Mr. Atwood should make his plan conform to the requirements of the building for the accommodation of the Register, Surrogate and Court Clerks, to be erected outside the City Hall Park.

A THEORY TO ACCOUNT FOR PHINNEY'S ACT.

The investigation by the Brooklyn police yesterday regarding the mysterious shooting of Guilford S. Phinney at No. 11 Radde place, on Thursday, strengthened the theory of suicide. It was found that the valise which he carried from the house on Tuesday night, and which he told Miss Carrie Carpenter contained articles for the laundry, had been taken to Ludgate's express office, No. 1,179 Atlantic-ave., where Phinney had ordered it sent to his brother, S. W. Phinney, at Waltham, Mass.

Phinney's career had been a curious one. He appeared to have a mania for joining secret societies. The amount of insurance on his life in these was upward of $50,000, and he received sick benefits of $78 per week when unable to work. The most tenable theory of his shooting himself was that he desired to simply wound himself, making it appear that he had been attacked by burglars, and then enjoy the income from his lodges while he was disabled, and also work upon the sympathies of the parents of Miss Carpenter, who opposed his marrying her. Coroner Lindsay will hold the inquest on Monday evening.
