ASKING JUSTICE FOR A COMPANY.

THE PRESIDENT OF A LIFE ASSOCIATION THINKS THAT THE EXAMINERS ERRED.

The St. Lawrence Life Association, of this city, was reported on Tuesday to the Attorney-General for dissolution, in consequence of a report on an examination made on the association's condition by the Insurance Department. The report states that the association was organized in September, 1882, for the transaction of life insurance business on the co-operative or assessment plan. It was fairly prosperous until 1886, when it had 1,688 certificates in force. After that its membership fell away, only forty-seven members paying their assessments on the last call, May 10, 1888. Circulars were issued stating that the directors approved the plan of consolidation, by transfer, with the Citizens' Mutual Life Insurance Company, of this city. This proposed contract was accepted, and between 800 and 900 members of the St. Lawrence were received into the Citizens'. In conclusion the report states: "In the annual statement of December 31, 1887, the liabilities for unpaid death losses was stated to be $15,257 74, while the actual liability on this account was $67,500, estimating the claims at the face of the policies. Measures of some kind should be taken at once to straighten out the affairs of this association."

The company formerly had its offices in Temple Court. It is now at No. 115 Broadway. J. J. Barnsdale, the president, and several of the officers said yesterday that the report put the company in a bad light. President Barnsdale said that he had been working for six months without pay to straighten out its affairs. He criticised the final statement of the report, and said that his company could be dissolved on one of these grounds: Exceeding power, failure to comply with the law, and fraudulent methods of conducting business, not one of which the company had been guilty of. He authorized this statement:

"We reported our liabilities on outstanding claims on a basis of policy contract agreeing to pay the amount realized to the dead member from one assessment. We reported thirteen valid death claims unpaid on December 31, 1887, and based the liabilities of the association on the receipt of the assessments collected, $14,067 09. The thirteen claims on this basis amount to $19,072 17. Deducting twenty per cent belonging to the reserve fund, according to the policy fund, you have the net amount realized to the death fund as per report contract, $15,257 74. The face values are $67,500, and they were so reported on page five of the annual report of the department. Mr. Horan, the examiner, evidently took the figures from the printed report published by the department, not full and complete, however, and which did not show the losses and claims unpaid, as shown on page five of our report to the department. That makes us appear in a bad light, but we did everything in strict compliance with the law."

THE COURTS.

ASKING PAYMENT FOR MORTGAGE BONDS.

Alexander J. Mayer, having made an agreement with Woerishoffer & Co., bankers, for the purchase of first mortgage bonds of the North River Construction Company to the amount of $100,000, and having paid $10,000 down, was afterward informed that the bonds had been declared forfeited by the company, and that the agreement could not be carried out. He sued the company and the firm for a specific performance of the agreement, and obtained judgment in his favor on demurrer five years ago. The judgment was never entered, and yesterday ex-Judge William H. Arnoux, on behalf of the plaintiff, applied to Justice Truax in the Superior Court, Special Term, for permission to serve a supplemental complaint demanding the return of the $10,000 with interest. This was opposed by Edward Winslow Page on behalf of the company, and by Simon Sterne, representing the firm. The decision was reserved.

SOME EPITHETS WORSE THAN OTHERS.

Ramon Verea, proprietor of "El Progreso," wants damages from Jose G. Garcia, proprietor of "Las Novedades," for an alleged libel. The publication complained of, under the heading "Scoundrel or Lunatic?" speaks of the plaintiff as a drunkard, an epithet most offensive to a Spaniard. The answer, besides making a general denial, alleges that the plaintiff has spoken disrespectfully of the Roman Catholic religion and of the Virgin Mary, and that this is something so vile that calling a man a drunkard is nothing in comparison with it. A motion was made before Presiding Justice Van Brunt in the Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday to strike out this part of the answer as scandalous and redundant. The Judge said that the motion must be presented before the trial judge when the case is reached on the calendar.

BITS OF LEGAL NEWS.

Surrogate Ransom yesterday reserved his decision on an application made on behalf of the widow of Joseph Gall for the removal of the special guardian of her youngest child, on the ground that the objections which he presented to the probate of her husband's will are not in accordance with the petition which she presented for his appointment. Gall's adopted son claimed that she was not his widow. A Brooklyn court decided that she was and this was sustained by the General Term of the Supreme Court. The case has gone to the Court of Appeals, and pending the final decision all proceedings in the Surrogate's Court are stayed.

Among others whom Surrogate Ransom yesterday ordered to appear before him and render an accounting was Mrs. Laura Hackett, the widow and executrix of Recorder John K. Hackett. The Recorder died about nine years ago, leaving all his property to his widow, who was made sole executrix. Her counsel, John Reynolds, presented an affidavit by her saying that as she was the only person that had any claim on the estate, she did not think it necessary to file any accounts. On this point she was corrected and she will file her accounts later.

Alexander Cameron, who was appointed over a year ago to examine the accounts of William H. Wickham as receiver of the Security Life Insurance and Annuity Company, has filed his report. Wickham has declared two dividends, one of 5 per cent in July, 1881, and one of 2 per cent in November, 1883. He made an accounting in December, 1881, at which time he had in his possession $77,139 50. Between March, 1883, and January, 1885, he paid out $35,493 43 and since January 1, 1885, he has paid out $36,073 70. The referee finds that he is accountable for $5,306 86, including Hamilton Cole's fee for legal services, amounting to $3,250.

Mary T. Keep, who claims to be the widow of Charles D. Keep, Wall Street operator and proprietor of "The Wall Street Daily News," seeks to have the probate of his will revoked and a former mutual will by which she says he left everything to her admitted instead. This is opposed on the allegation that she is not his widow. The case was argued yesterday before Surrogate Ransom, who reserved his decision.

The fees and disbursements of J. Alfred Davenport, as referee in the proceeding taken on behalf of the Geschecht heirs, having been paid, he has filed his report, in which he finds that Colonel John R. Fellows is indebted to the estate in the sum of $7,125.

Presiding Justice Van Brunt yesterday granted an order permanently restraining George S. Fellows from publishing and circulating a book revealing the secrets of Professor Alphonse Loisette's process for strengthening the memory.

ANOTHER CHARGE AGAINST DANIEL LAIRD.

Daniel Laird, formerly employed in the Navy Yard, who was arrested last week upon a charge of conspiring to defraud the Government in the matter of supplying tea, and who was released upon $2,500 bail, was again arrested yesterday. The charge against him was that on September 7, 1887, he conspired to defraud the Government out of forty bags of green coffee, worth $1,000, which were taken away from the Navy Yard. His bail was fixed at $2,500. It is thought that the repeated arrests are with the design of securing statements against other persons implicated in the frauds. Thomas Shea waived examination yesterday on the charge of appropriating a barrel of bacon belonging to the Government stores in the Navy Yard, and his bail was increased to $1,000.

INSURANCES ON RECENT FIRES.

The insurance on the stock of cloaks and suits of M. Cohn, No. 73 Division-st., burned on Wednesday, is as follows:

Enterprise, Cincinnati, $1,000; German, Penn., $1,000; Globe, N. Y., $2,000; Home, N. Y., $2,500; National, N. J., $1,000; New-York Bowery, $2,500; Oshkosh Mutual, Wis., $1,500; Orient Conn., $1,250; People's, Conn., $1,000; total, $14,250.

AN ALL-DAY JUBILEE IN JOHN STREET.

Extensive preparations have been made in the old John Street Methodist Episcopal Church for the "Pentecostal Jubilee" that will be held there to-day celebrating the conversion of 2,500 persons in the present series of revivals that have been conducted in this city by Mr. Harrison. The services will begin at 5:30 a. m., when a consecration service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Bowdish, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Mr. Harrison and the Rev. Stephen Merritt. At 9:30 a. m. an old-fashioned Methodist love feast will begin, and at 10:30 the Jubilee sermon will be preached by the Rev. W. L. Phillips, of Brooklyn. At noon Mr. Harrison will preach to business men upon "Some Problems of Life." The body of the church will be reserved for men, and the meeting will begin promptly at 12. At 3:30 p. m. the Rev. Dr. Taylor, of Brooklyn, will preach the sermon for the "2,500 seekers," and at 7:15 o'clock the young people will hold a praise service. At 8 o'clock will be the great "Jubilee Revival Service," which will last until late at night. This will be a consecration and revival meeting, and Mr. Harrison says that they will not stop the meeting until every one in the building that they can reach and who is not a Christian is converted.

The Rev. M. Clark, of England, preached yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Harrison in the evening. The number of conversions is now estimated at nearly 2,000 than 2,500.
