MARCH GOES OUT WITH A FROWN.

SNOW AND RAIN AMUSE THEMSELVES AT THE EXPENSE OF NEW-YORKERS.

There were few indications of a storm when day broke yesterday. The sky was comparatively clear and there was an autumn touch of keenness about the air. Clouds began to drift over the city soon after the sun rose, however, and suddenly the sky became overcast. The light was shut out and the air grew so dark that the day seemed to be set back three or four hours. Rain began to fall, but it soon turned into snow under the influence of the low temperature. This in turn gave place to a lively fall of hail, which continued until a rise of the mercury saw it turn into snow again and go back a second time to rain. Until about 2 o'clock those who were abroad were treated to a light drizzle. After that hour the weather amused itself by changing its clothes from sombre black to the garb of spring. Now and then the sky cleared for a moment and allowed the rays of the sun to struggle out and show themselves just long enough to give evidence that they were up above the clouds. On the whole, however, the day was a "black one," cheerless and melancholy.

When night came on there was a thin fog hanging low on the water, and a mist of steam and vapor in the streets. The day gave little indication of the approach of April, the month that is supposed to usher in good weather, however fickle and mysterious the two preceding months have been. There may have been a grim sarcasm in its actions which was intended to remind people that "April fools' day" was at hand, or since March came in with little bluster and no ferocious lion-like mood, it may have relented at the eleventh hour.

The Signal Service observer, when seen by a reporter last night, was unable to promise anything better in the way of weather for to-day. The wind at the time was blowing from the north, but was "taking things easy," moving along at the rate of eight miles an hour. The indications for to-day, he said, were snow or rain with a further rise in the temperature. This would be followed, according to the indications, by clear, warm weather.

INVESTIGATION BEGUN AT THE NAVY YARD.

Commander Francis M. Green, Navigation Officer at the Navy Yard, was detailed on Saturday as president of a board of officers to investigate charges of malicious destruction of Government property, which occurred last fall, when the Navy Yard was filled with incompetent workmen. The board immediately began the investigation. It is charged that a large number of steel plates and other ironwork intended for the new ships were spoiled by bad work and errors in punching them, and were then thrown into the channel to escape discovery. One of the officers of the Navy Yard said: "The curse of the Navy Yard in the last two or three years, especially last fall, was politics. Men were employed, as a rule, because of their power in the ward to which they belonged, and not because of any ability as carpenters, machinists or blacksmiths. It has been no unusual thing to see a piece of work begun and finished one day, and on the following day torn down and rebuilt, simply because the ignorant and incompetent workmen erred in idea and construction."

PASSING WRECKAGE AT SEA.

Captain Hansen, of the steamer Schweigaard, from Baracoa which reached here yesterday, reported that on March 29, in latitude 36:20, longitude 75:02, his vessel passed a large piece of wreckage, which appeared to be the side of a steamer's deckhouse newly painted white with red streaks or panels. It apparently had not been in the water long.

The brig Mary Bartlett, twenty-nine days from Guantanamo, sustained much damage from a hurricane off Hatteras. The big seas carried away her cutwater and started her stern, causing the vessel to leak badly. She also lost her split sails and received other damage.

PLANS FOR OUTDOOR ATHLETIC MEETINGS.

The Manhattan Athletic Club has decided to give four outdoor athletic meetings between the present date and October 1. One of these meetings will be the N. A. A. A. A. all-round championship, which will be given under the auspices of the M. A. C. The prizes will probably be gold watches for firsts and silver watches for seconds in all contests at all meetings. It has also been partially decided upon that the M. A. C. will give two monster indoor meetings next winter. The M. A. C. will also give an open cross country handicap, open to all amateurs, under the rules of the National Cross Country Association, over the Fort George course, distance about five miles, on April 20, starting from the Atlantic House, Fort George, at 4 p. m. Handsome prizes will go to first, second and third. A prize will also be given to the competitor making the fastest time in the race. Captain T. P. Connell will give a silver medal to the first novice in. Entrance fee will be 50 cents. Entries close with C. C. Hughes, secretary, No. 1024 Fifth-ave., on Saturday, April 13, at 8 p. m. It is expected that M. W. Ford, the present all-round champion, J. McCarthy, Alfred Ing, A. F. Copland, A. F. Rossen, H. S. Young, jr., and other crack athletes will enter for the all-round championship. The M. A. C. has appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. William J. Swan, George A. Avery and G. F. Finley to look up a suitable place, similar to Travers Island, upon which the M. A. C. could have facilities for running, bicycling, baseball, cricket, lacrosse, football, boating, lawn tennis, bowling, yachting, swimming and other branches of outdoor sports. The intention is to build a club-house to be used as a summer resort for members.
