EXPORTS FOR OCTOBER.

Friday, October 15—p. m.

The official preliminary report of the country's exports for the last month of October shows that the value of the principal articles exported—breadstuffs, cotton, petroleum, provisions, etc.—was $17,000,000 greater than in October, 1888, and $14,700,000 greater than in October, 1887. The breadstuff movement was $150,000 smaller than in the month of 1888, but nearly $3,000,000 greater than in 1887. Cotton shows a gain of $13,700,000 over 1888, and of nearly $8,000,000 over 1887. Petroleum was about the same as in 1888, but nearly $800,000 in excess of 1887, and provisions give a gain of $3,500,000 on 1888 and of $3,100,000 on 1887.

For the four months—July 1 to October 31—the values of the articles named exceed those of the same period of 1888 by nearly $36,000,000 and of 1887 by $15,300,000. The following table compares the values for the month of October and for three months of three years:

UNION PACIFIC.

Below are printed the net returns of the Union Pacific Railroad for the month of September and for the nine months of the current year. After having run behind in the early months of the year as compared with the preceding year, the whole system pulled up so that for the nine months it returns an increase of net earnings of $250,000 and the best three months of the year are yet to be heard from.

Toward this increase the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern—the only auxiliary line in which the public have a separate interest—contributes a gain of $447,718 in its net earnings. The Short Line reports for October net earnings of $293,185—a gain of $92,572 on October, 1888. For the nine months to October 31 its net earnings amounted to $2,109,318. We are not given to making up railroad accounts ahead of time. But it should be a safe calculation that the net earnings of the final three months of the year will average fully $300,000 per month. If this so happens, there will be net earnings for the year of over $3,000,000; the fixed charges are less than $1,800,000. The calculation leaves $1,200,000
