GENERAL MARKET REPORTS.

COFFEE—There was a quiet market for Rio on the spot to-day, but prices ruled steady. Fair cargoes quoted at 19¾c. and No. 7, 17¼@17⅝c. No business reported. Mild grades had a fair demand. Sales, 2,000 bags Maracaibo, 188 bags Laguyra, 250 bags Caro, and 3,673 bags Cordova, private terms. The option market ruled irregular and the speculation was more active. Weaker cables led to free selling at the outset, and all months, except August, declined 5@15 points. Late foreign accounts, however, were stronger, and that, together with increased buying (partly by "shorts") brought about an advance of 10@20 points, closing with the highest figures ruling firm. Havre opened ¼ fr. lower, but closed ¼ fr. better. Hamburg declined ⅛@1 pfg. Rio was firm. Regular first, 6 @ 350; good second, 5 @ 700; exchange (private), 25⅝; receipts, 4,000 bags; Rio clearances for U. S., nil; do for Europe, 1,000 bags; total stock, 268,000 bags; Santos receipts, 7,000 bags; receipts at Rio July 1 to November 26, 1889, 853,000 bags; same time 1888, 1,994,000 bags; same time 1887, 756,000 bags; receipts at Santos July 1 to November 26, 1889, 1,008,000 bags; same time 1888, 890,000 bags; same time 1887, 505,000 bags. Options made a substantial gain to-day, and there was a decided increase in the volume of trading. Liverpool advices were bullish, and the "short" side covered freely, both of which served as stimulating factors. Early sales were at an advance of 1@2 points, and this was quickly followed by a further rise of 4@5 points; but toward the close a slight reaction set in, leaving off, however, steady at about 5 points above yesterday. Sales, 98,300 bales.

Sales, 950 bbls, including 400 bbls Brandywine.

GRAIN—WHEAT—For nearly three hours to-day the option market displayed decided firmness, and the "bulls" found little difficulty in advancing prices, but shortly before the close, the situation was completely reversed, and latest figures represented a decline of about ½c. as compared with the final of yesterday. The early dealings were characterized by good general buying, in which the foreign element took an active part, and this had the stimulating influence. There was, too, considerable covering of "shorts," and the West sent a large number of buying orders through export houses here, both of which added to the buoyancy. Cable advices were again stronger, and there was a slight improvement in export demand, about eight loads being taken, and that, also, had some effect. The West, however, developed heavy selling of May late in the day, and the early "bulls" here started unloading, which led to a break of ½@⅝c. Upward of 5,500,000 bushels changed hands, partly in the switching form, with most interest still centered in December and May deliveries. The arrivals to-day were again large. At interior points there were 759,768 bushels spring and 52,971 bushels winter. At the seaboard there were 115,736 bushels, and clearances, 48,200 bushels, against 5,685 bushels a year ago. December opened at 83⅞c. and May, 89⅝c, against 83⅞ and 89⅛c. respectively, the official close of yesterday. Subsequently there was a further rise of ⅛@⅜c. December touching 84 3-16c. and May, 89⅞c, but toward the close prices declined sharply on the Pacific selling, December dropped to 83⅝c. and May, 89 5-16c, leaving off steady. On the curb December closed at 83⅝@83¾c. and May, 89⅛@89⅜c. Cash grades ruled unsettled and closed weak with options. Included in the export business were 52,000 bushels No. 2 red taken for Lisbon. Millers bought five loads, but trading otherwise was light. Sales, 5,544,000 bushels future, 126,000 bushels spot, including No. 2 Northern spring, at 91¼c afloat; ungraded winter red, 73@90¾c; No. 2 red, 84⅞@85c. f. o. b.; ungraded spring, 85c afloat; do in store and elevator, quoted 88⅞@89⅜c; rye, crude, 65c; natural winter, 76@78c; bleached winter, 81@83c; Whale, crude Northern, 41@42c; natural winter, 46c; bleached winter, 48c; extra bleached, 51c; Sea Elephant, bleached winter, 57@60c; Red Elain, 36@38c; Saponified, 4½@5c; Olive, Italian, 73@74c; Palm, choice Lagos, 5 1-2c; Neatsfoot, prime, 62 1-2@70c; Straits, 26@27c; Bank, 25@26c.

THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEWS FROM THE FIELD AND RANGE OF PRICES.

There were light dealings in crude certificates yesterday at both the Stock Exchange and the Consolidated Board. The selling pressure was suspended, but the marking down of quotations was continued. At the Consolidated Exchange December options opened at $1 07, and went later to $1 04⅝. The Stock Exchange opened at $1 05⅝, rose to $1 06⅛, and subsequently went to $1 04⅞. The news from the field was not significant and the quotations for refined petroleum were held at the late advance. A host of rumors is now helping to perplex operators, and out of the various stories nothing of importance can be gleaned. It is probable that the speculative long interest has been liquidated almost entirely and the bears are receiving new courage for the purpose of attacking values. These considerations, however, are of no moment compared with the wider question of the relations between the refining and the producing industries. The suggestion of a material fall in crude oil must be met by the argument that the producers have it in their power to repeat the shut-in experiment of 1887. The only valid excuse which the bears can present is that the Standard is utilizing Ohio oil to supply the light and the lubricating of the world. But even if it be true that the complaints heard here and there of a falling off in the quality of domestic refined oil are the result of an admixture of inferior goods with the Pennsylvania product, the certain result of the present paucity of production must be an appreciation of the estimate in which Pennsylvania fresh oil is held. This must find expression in the crude market, unless speculation is to be debarred and petroleum drop into the place of the commodities that are dealt in privately off the floors of any exchange. The investment holder of National Transit certificates has no need at present to be disturbed by the manipulation rife on the exchanges. The sentiment against monopolies that constantly finds expression does not attempt to invade the domain of demand and supply. It may oppose fictitious profits, but it is antagonistic to manipulation which is designed to cheapen unnaturally any article whose profitable production is a source of benefit to diversified interests.

The range of prices and the total dealings were as follows:

	Stock Exchange.	Consolidated.
Opening	$1 05⅝	$1 07
Highest	1 06⅛	1 07
Lowest	1 04⅞	1 04⅞
Final	1 04⅞	1 06⅝
Sales, barrels	406,000	604,000

Refined oil was unchanged at 7.50 cents per gallon for barrels and 9.70 cents for cases.

Foreign quotations were stronger at 17½ francs at Antwerp, 7.30 marks in Bremen and 6s6½ pence in London.
