JEALOUSY LED TO THE ATTEMPTED MURDER.

The cause which impelled John McGinnis to shoot Daniel Lyons, at No. 192 John-st., on Wednesday evening, was jealousy. He married Maggie Lovett, a sister of Lyons's wife, in September last. Lyons frequently visited her and aroused the ire of the young husband and he forbade him the house. On Wednesday McGinnis bought a pistol and got his wife and her brother and mother to go to Lyons's house with him, saying he would make Lyons confess. They found Lyons in bed and got him up. McGinnis demanded an apology from him and when it was refused fired two shots in his abdomen. Mrs. McGinnis told the police after her husband surrendered himself that she had made a confession under threat from her husband, but that it was not true. McGinnis was held for examination yesterday.

ELIZABETH.

SUPERINTENDENT DIX IS INDIGNANT.

The Board of Education will hold a special meeting as a committee of the whole on Wednesday night to investigate charges made by Mrs. John V. Banchelle, of No. 116 Orchard-st., against Miss Tucker, a teacher in Public School No. 2. Both sides will be allowed to produce witnesses. The trouble at the Board of Education meeting on Wednesday night, when charges of neglect of duty were made in writing against the superintendent of schools and committee on teachers, has caused a stir in education circles. The charges will be investigated by a special committee. Superintendent Dix declined to say yesterday what he intended doing, and he was indignant at the allegations made and the action taken by the board. He said if he had consulted his own wishes he would not have accepted a re-election last month, and only did so through the pressure brought to bear on him by a large number of prominent citizens. He has been superintendent of schools ten years. A singular feature of the fight is that although Mr. Dix is a Democrat, his warmest champions are a majority of the Republican members of the board, while his bitterest opponents are Democratic members. Superintendent Dix alleges that it is the intention of his opponents after getting rid of him to abolish the manual training system now being successfully taught in the High School.

Mayor Rankin renewed his crusade against encumbered sidewalks on Wednesday night, and his street-cleaning brigade made a raid upon the streets of Elizabethport. Many articles of value were seized, and two big wagonloads of booty were carted to the City Hall yard.

NEW-BRUNSWICK.

THE SCHOOL TEACHER HAD ELOPED.

When the pupils of the Monmouth Junction public school, near New-Brunswick, appeared at the school-house yesterday morning they found themselves without a teacher. The young woman who taught them, Miss Kate Davison, had eloped on Wednesday night with William Crute, a telegraph operator and station agent. Miss Davison is about nineteen years old, and is a daughter of Daniel Davison, a well-known resident of Dayton. Crute was recently made telegraph operator at a station near Dayton, and had charge of the depot offices. He was referred to Frank Stevenson, station agent at Dayton, for instructions as to the duties; Stevenson is Miss Davison's brother-in-law. She came home every evening and during these trips met Crute. When the school teacher's sister Rose got up yesterday morning she found three letters on her desk; one to her from the girl saying that she had run off with Crute, another to the trustees of the Monmouth Junction school, tendering her resignation, and the third to her father, saying that she would be married that night, and asking if she and her lover might come back home. It was found that the pair had, late at night, boarded a Philadelphia bound train at Monmouth Junction.

While workmen were tearing down an old house on Burnet-st. yesterday a set of human bones, exclusive of the skull, was found buried in a recess in the foundation. No explanation of the mystery can be given.

PLAINFIELD.

OBSTACLES CHECKING THE PROJECT.

The Plainfield waterworks project has met several serious obstacles. The contract is unsatisfactory, and the company has been unable to obtain water in sufficient quantities in the northeastern quarter of the city, which was, under the contract, it can be drawn. The recently pronounced decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Galveston case has upset all attempts at present to float waterworks bonds not secured by the pledge of a municipality itself. In this case the city of Plainfield assumes no direct obligation.

Seven teams have entered the Central Bowling League, recently formed. They are the Crescents and Olympics, of Plainfield, the Meadows and Nameless, of Westfield, the Somersets, of Somerville, and the Fanwood and Elizabeth clubs. A tournament of thirty-six games will be played.

SOMERVILLE.

TO ERECT A SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

R., constitute a committee to devise plans and procure funds for the erection of a handsome soldiers' monument. The committee comprises executive G. A. R. workers, and a memorial shaft will be contracted for soon.

DUNELLEN.

John R. Levere, an employee of the Central Railroad of New-Jersey, disappeared from his home on Tuesday of last week, leaving a wife and large family. Mr. Levere left on the library table a note saying that he would return on the following night. Mrs. Levere is a soprano singer in the Methodist Episcopal Church choir. She fears that her husband has met foul play.

The trustees of the Dunellen Presbyterian Church have called the Rev. Mr. Simpson, of Manalapan, N. J., to accept the pastorate left vacant by the recent resignation of the Rev. D. Shellenger.

ST. STEPHEN'S AND HOLY TRINITY TO UNITE.

The negotiations which for some time have been pending between the vestries of St. Stephen's Church in West Forty-eighth-st. and Holy Trinity Church at One-hundred-and-twenty-second-st. and Lenox-ave., are now practically finished, and the union of these two well-known Episcopal churches will soon follow. There was opposition to the consolidation by some of the members of St. Stephen's on the ground that Holy Trinity was too far uptown, but this opposition was finally overcome and an amicable arrangement was consummated.

The Rev. Dr. Stanger, of Holy Trinity, in which church the united congregations will hereafter worship, will be acting rector of the parish, to be known hereafter as St. Stephen's. The Rev. Dr. Hart, of the old St. Stephen's, will, it is understood, retire for the present a rest of which he stands much in need. Holy Trinity is one of the finest churches in Harlem. It cost over $300,000, and was occupied for the first time last Easter Sunday. Since then it has been carrying a heavy debt, a large portion of which will be liquidated by the sale of St. Stephen's, from which it is hoped that at least $100,000 will be realized.

MUCH GOOD DONE BY THE DIET KITCHEN.

The seventeenth annual report of that admirable institution, the New-York Diet Kitchen Association, which provides nourishing food for the sick poor, has just been issued and contains an interesting record of work done last year. The records of the managers of the five kitchens of the organization show that the total number of sick poor who received food during 1889 was 14,818, the largest number at any one kitchen on a single day being 102. The number of requisitions for food received from visiting physicians was 103,126. Many other deserving cases have been made known to the society by the agents of the Charity Organization Society. As usual, a large demand was made on milk and beef tea. Of the former 104,821 pints were dispensed, and of the latter, 30,708 pints. The total amount expended by the society during the year was $8,132.81, and the total receipts from all sources, including a balance from the 1888 account of $4,793.20, were $12,880.81, leaving a balance on January 1, 1890, of $3,771.97. For milk alone the expenditure was $4,146.05. With the exception of $1,000 from the City Treasury, no single large gifts were received in the year. The various bequests to the society, amounting to $3,500, have been invested in bond and mortgage and will form a nucleus of a reserve fund.

In closing, the report gives the society's warmest thanks to W. W. Wall for his gifts of bread, rolls and cakes, to the women of the West Presbyterian Church, to the Benevolent Society of the Church of the Messiah, to the Lenox Hill Sewing Society, the women of the Farmington Society, the Flower and Fruit Mission and other societies for contributions to the association.

Among the guests will be President Seth Low, of Columbia, who will respond to the toast "Our Elder Brother," and President Thomas Hunter, of the Normal College, who will respond to the toast "Our Younger Sister." Among the other speakers, alumni of the college, will be William L. Bull, class of '61, president of the New-York Stock Exchange; Edward M. Shepard, of '60, chairman of the Brooklyn Civil Service Commission; L. B. Gratacap, of '69, of the Museum of Natural History, and General A. P. Ketchum, of the class of '58. The college glee club will furnish music. The arrangements for the dinner are in charge of a committee, of which G. H. Crawford, of No. 229 Broadway, is chairman, and applications for tickets should be addressed to him. About 200 tickets have already been taken, so that the dinner is likely to be the largest yet held by the association.
