Options developed more firmness to-day, and there was a slight increase in the speculation, attended with some little covering of "shorts." Opening sales indicated gains of about 3 points, after which there was a further rise of 4@5 points, closing steady. Sales, 69,200 bales.

GRAIN—WHEAT—The option market was variable and somewhat feverish to-day, while a slight falling off occurred in the volumes of trading. For nearly three hours the sentiment was rather bulish, and further gains of ¼@⅜c were scored, but shortly before the close the West weakened under heavy selling by a prominent operator, which caused a general decline here. Final figures showed losses of ⅛@⅜c on remote months, while near options were without material change. May opened at 87c, against 86⅞ the official close of yesterday, after which there was a drop of ⅛c to 86¾c, followed by a rise of ⅜@⅝c to 87 3-16c. Then came the selling at the West, and local "bears" began unloading. May quickly declined to 86⅞c and closed weak. Almost all the news of the day favored the bear side, but it was more than one of the influences selling at the West. Cable advices were stronger, and the weather reports announced low temperature throughout the West and Northwest. Receipts everywhere were light, while the seaboard clearances were unusually large, nearly 421,000 bush wheat and flour together being sent out. There was renewed talk of free export buying, but nothing transpired in the way of business. Sales included 40,000 bush. Arrivals at interior points to-day were 107,669 bush spring and 24,825 bush winter. Seaboard receipts, 41,071 bush; clearances, 116,516 bush wheat and 77,009 packages flour, on the cash May sold down to 86 11-16c, but closed at 86 15-16c. CORN—Part of yesterday's advance was lost today, and the general market had a weak tone. Anticipations of heavy deliveries on contract to-morrow, coupled with the reaction in wheat, served as a check, depressing influence. Cash grades declined about ¼c, with receipts falling to about an increased extent. Shippers took nearly 240,000 bush of the receipts, in bulk, at out ports. Options broke ½@¾c, attended with some selling by "longs." closing at the lowest figures of the day.
