RACING AT LINDEN PARK.

DIABLO AT THE TRACK, BUT NOT A STARTER.

FOUR FAVORITES WIN—LISIMONY BEATS TRISTAN—THE DWYERS GIVE UP DECORATION DAY.

The army of racegoers that invaded Linden Park yesterday included a numerous company of irregulars that turned out for the express purpose of seeing Diablo gallop off with the fifth race. Inasmuch as the colt had been taken from Gravesend to Linden to be seasoned for the Brooklyn Handicap, it was the general opinion that he would certainly start in a race at the first opportunity. Reports that are regarded as worthy of belief credit him with galloping a mile on Friday morning in 1:43 1-4, finishing with his head pulled to one side, and yesterday he worked a quarter in 23 1-4 seconds. (The writer does not vouch for the correctness of the time in either trial.) His withdrawal at the last moment caused considerable surprise and much disappointment, for besides being the only really high-class horse named on the programme, he seemed to have the race for which he was entered entirely at his mercy. With him out of the way the public was on the fence between the devil and the deep sea—Lisimony and Tristan. The latter opened favorite in the betting, but soon went into a decline, while the former gained strength. When the bugle called the horses to the post the quotations were: Lisimony 8 to 5, Tristan 2 to 1. That mighty man of valor, Joshua Jones, had the mount on the devil, while the youthful Hayward floundered on the surface of the deep sea. The other starters were Cassius, Martin Russell, George Oyster, Rudolph, and the Dwyers' brown colt Congress, with 84 pounds up, Dale Lambley in the saddle. Think of the great Brooklyn stable, surfeited with honors, starting a three-year-old colt in a race with only eighty-four pounds on his back. It seems too small a business for the Dwyers to engage in. Well, Lisimony and Joshua galloped off with the race in impressive style. Tristan was second. Young Hayward did the amateur act with the effect. No jockey ever sat a horse with greater dignity. The backers of Lisimony admired young Hayward and blessed him; the backers of Tristan—well, they vowed that they didn't like jockeys in the homestretch.

Rose Rock captured the first race, but was obliged to win it twice, as after beating his field at the head of the stretch Dalsyrian slipped up and taking him by surprise, forced him to renew the struggle.

The second race was but an exercise gallop for Dickens, who ran for the first time under that name, a good enough name, by the way, his sire being Mr. Pickwick. In his previous races he was known as the Mazzie Hunt colt.

There was nothing surprising in Major Daly's victory in the third race, even though he was badly beaten in a six-furlong dash at Elizabeth on Monday. It will be remembered that Rancocas defeated him on that occasion in 1:14½, the track being soft and slow. Rancocas would have beaten him yesterday with the same ease, as with a better and faster track the Major won the race in 1:10 3-4. It is exceedingly doubtful if, ridden out to the last ounce, he could have gone the distance in better than 1:10. He won because he had only such cattle as Sam Morse and St. James to beat. Prince Howard lost the purse by not starting.

Prodigal in front at last. It is well. He won away off. Queen of Elizabeth took the last race.

Four favorites won, two went the way of all flesh. The attendance was large and out for the money, making the betting ring hum with business. The officials of the track and the bookmakers escaped molestation. It is believed there will be no local trouble of any kind during the meeting. Many improvements for the comfort of patrons were noticed, the most important being a covered walk from the cars to the grand stand.

It is said that the Brooklyn Jockey Club has at last decided to concede Decoration Day, May 30, to the New-York Jockey Club. The arrangement came about in the simplest and most amicable way. Mr. Morris and Philip Dwyer, so the story goes, met at the St. James Hotel to discuss the matter, and after some argument on both sides, the latter proposed to toss for it. Mr. Morris agreed. A penny was produced, the toss made. "Heads," said Mr. Morris. Heads it was. So Decoration Day goes to Westchester. It was then agreed that it should go to Gravesend next year, and afterward alternate regularly between the two courses.

DETAILS OF THE RACING.

FIRST RACE—PURSE $600. SPECIAL WEIGHTS. FIVE FURLONGS.

G. Walbaum's b. c. Blue Rock, by Billet—Catonel, 4 yrs., 122 lb. ....(Bergen) 1
Diamond Stable's bk. g. Dalsyrian, 3, 110 ....(Taylor) 2
C. Littlefield's ch. g. My Fellow, 4, 110 ....(Littlefield) 3
W. C. Daly's b. g. Glenmound, 6, 113 ....(Lambley) 0
S. S. McDonald's b. g. Vance, 5, 113 ....(M. Bergen) 0
T. Cavanagh's br. h. Vengeance, 5, 118 (car. 120) ....(Malone) 0

Time—1:04¾.

Betting to win—Blue Rock (favorite) 35 to 100, Dalsyrian 8 to 1, My Fellow 12 to 1, Glenmound 7 to 1, Vance 100 to 1, Vengeance 100 to 1.

Betting for place—Blue Rock none, Dalsyrian 7 to 5, My Fellow 2 to 1, Glenmound 9 to 10, Vance 30 to 1, Vengeance 30 to 1.

Blue Rock made the whole of the running and won by a neck, which might have been several lengths if Bergen had not permitted himself to be surprised by Dalsyrian, who came upon him unexpectedly in the stretch, when he supposed that he had all his opponents beaten. Glenmound was second for a quarter of a mile, My Fellow third, Dalsyrian fourth. At the head of the stretch the favorite was leading by two lengths, with both Glenmound and My Fellow under the whip. Then Taylor brought up Dalsyrian, and challenging Blue Rock, who was galloping leisurely along, forced Bergen to ride very hard to get his mount going again. This effort created a belief in the minds of many childish persons who lost on Dalsyrian that Blue Rock had all he could do to win, that if Taylor had not gone to sleep Dalsyrian would have beaten him a furlong. What rubbish! You see some very queer things when you haven't got a gun. Dalsyrian, second, beat My Fellow twenty lengths. Vengeance stuck in the mud. Gloster, the Issaquena filly, Letton, Duplicity, Bias, Cecilia, Ofaleee, Village Maid and the Olivia colt did not start.

SECOND RACE—PURSE $600. TWO-YEAR-OLDS. SPECIAL WEIGHTS. 4½ FURLONGS.

L. Stuart's b. c. Dickens, by Mr. Pickwick—Maggie Hunt, 103 lb. (car. 104½) ....(Taylor) 1

J. Walden's b. c. Glenlochy, 108 (car. 113) ....(Murray) 0
W. Lovell's br. c. by Strathmo—Alice May, 110 (car. 112) ....(Merrick) 0
Diamond Stable's b. f. by Foreso—Contessa, 105 ....(Slack) 0

Betting for place—Dickens 3 to 5, Claudine 7 to 10, Ely 4 to 5, Contessa filly 5 to 1, Glenlochy 8 to 1, Sequence colt 15 to 1, Alice May colt 15 to 1.

Ely, with two lengths the best of a struggling start, led for a furlong and a half, when Dickens, who moved off rather slowly at first, galloped over him without effort and coming on under a stout pull won in a walk by five lengths; Claudine second, three lengths before Ely, who beat the Sequence colt half a length. Emily Carter and Catalonia did not start.

THIRD RACE—PURSE $500. THREE-YEAR-OLDS. 10 lb. BELOW THE SCALE. SIX FURLONGS.

R. McBride's b. c. Major Daly, by Kyrle Daly—Wanda, 117 lb. ....(Hamilton) 1
J. T. Carmody's b. c. Sam Morse, 112 ....(Huston) 2
Boyle & Littlefield's ch. c. St. James, 112 ....(Littlefield) 3
L. Stuart's ch. f., by Spendthrift—Maggie B., 97 ....(Sandelin) 0
W. C. Daly's ch. c. Sir William, 112 ....(Lambley) 0

Time—1:19¼.

Betting to win—Major Daly 8 to 5, Sam Morse 3 to 1, St. James (favorite) 7 to 5, Maggie B. filly 10 to 1, Sir William 40 to 1.

Betting for place—Major Daly 1 to 2, Sam Morse 4 to 5, St. James 2 to 5, Maggie B. filly 3 to 1, Sir William 10 to 1.

Sam Morse, as usual, made the running to within a furlong of the finish, St. James second, Major Daly third, the others out of it. When Hamilton called on Daly the Major strode over the others and won in a big gallop by three lengths; Sam Morse second, a length before St. James. Prince Howard was withdrawn.

FOURTH RACE—PURSE $600. SELLING. ONE MILE.

W. H. Briggs's br. h. Prodigal, by Spendthrift—Ada Vela, 6 yrs., 112 lb. ($1,600) ....(Anderson) 1
Castle & Son's ch. g. Bonanza, aged, 104 (car. 105) ....(Bergen) 2
J. S. McDonald's br. c. Burnside, 4, 100 ....(Stevenson) 3
Hanover Stable's br. h. Eleve, 5, 111 ....(Rodgers) 0
J. Shields's ch. c. Long Branch, 5, 104 ....(Taylor) 0
B. McArdle's b. c. Warlike, 3, 94 (car. 96) ....(French) 0

Time—1:50¼.

Betting to win—Prodigal (favorite) 7 to 10, Bonanza 5 to 1, Burnside 5 to 1, Long Branch 5 to 1, Warlike 40 to 1, Eleve 50 to 1.

Betting for place—Prodigal 2 to 5, Bonanza evens, Burnside evens, Long Branch 7 to 5, Warlike 12 to 1, Eleve 15 to 1.

Long Branch, half a length before Prodigal, led the procession for half a mile, when the favorite, making a spurt, strode quickly to the front, and in less than a furlong opened a gap of six lengths. This put the race at his mercy, as the others could never get near him, and he won, pulling up, by eight lengths. Old Bonanza, wearing down his opponents in the rear, captured second place, three lengths before Burnside. No bid for the winner. Sparling, St. Paris and Queen of Elizabeth did not start.

FIFTH RACE—PURSE $650. 7 lb. BELOW THE SCALE. PENALTIES AND ALLOWANCES. 1 1-16 MILES.

G. B. Morris's b. c. Lisimony, by Liston—Patrimony, 3 yrs., 99 lb. ....(Jones) 1
L. Stuart's b. h. Tristan, 5, 119 ....(Hayward, Jr.) 2
R. Lewis's ch. c. Martin Russell, 4, 100 (car. 101) ....(French) 3
Castle & Son's b. h. George Oyster, 5, 111 ....(Bergen) 0
Beverwyck Stable's br. c. Cassius, 4, 115 ....(Leary) 0
Dwyer Brothers' br. c. Congress, 3, 84 (Baby Lambley) 0
C. A. Fleming's ch. h. Rudolph, aged, 99 ....(Flynn) 0

Time—1:53¾.

Betting to win—Lisimony (favorite) 8 to 5, Tristan 2 to 1, Martin Russell 9 to 2, Congress 8 to 1, George Oyster 10 to 1, Cassius 15 to 1, Rudolph 30 to 1.

Betting for place—Lisimony 3 to 5, Tristan 7 to 10, Martin Russell 7 to 5, Congress 3 to 1, George Oyster 4 to 1, Cassius 6 to 1, Rudolph 10 to 1.

Congress showed the way for six furlongs and collapsed. If George Oyster had been put in the race for the express purpose of killing both himself and Congress in the interest of some other horse he could not have succeeded more admirably than he did. Lapping Congress to the saddle, he crowded the colt every step of the way, Bergen beginning to flog soon after passing the quarter post, and keeping it up till both Congress and Oyster were obliged to retire, having run themselves to a standstill. Then Lisimony drew out in the stretch and won cleverly by half a length; Tristan second, two lengths before Martin Russell. Young Hayward sat his mount with great composure, and no doubt imagined himself beautiful to look at, but the backers of Tristan would have admired him more if he had shown some energy at the finish. Duplicity, Diablo, Admiral, My Fellow, Burnside and Village Maid were withdrawn.

SIXTH RACE—PURSE $550. SELLING. SIX FURLONGS.

Cotton & Boyle's ch. m. Queen of Elizabeth, 6 yrs., 105 lb. ($600) ....(Littlefield) 1
H. McCatron, jr.'s b. g. Monte Christo, aged, 101 ....(Marshall) 2
W. C. Daly's b. f. Lemon Blossom, 4, 97 ....(Lambley) 3

Time—1:20¾.

Thad. Rowe, Royal Gurney, Souvenir, John Atwood, Blackthorn, Facial B. Gyde, Halspring, Allen Archer, Sonoma, Watch Me, Frank Wheeler and the Algerita gelding also crawled around the course.

Betting to win—Queen of Elizabeth 8 to 1, Monte Christo 10 to 1, Lemon Blossom 8 to 1, Blackthorn (favorite) 3 to 1, Thad. Rowe 5 to 1, Sonoma 8 to 1, others 10 to 100 to 1.

Betting for place—Queen of Elizabeth 3 to 1, Monte Christo 4 to 1, Lemon Blossom 3 to 1, Blackthorn evens, Thad. Rowe 2 to 1, Sonoma 3 to 1, others 4 to 20 to 1.

Blackthorn led for a quarter and gave way to Lemon Blossom, who remained in front to the last furlong post, where Lambley picked up his whip and stopped her. Queen of Elizabeth, coming with a rush, won easily by a length; Monte Christo second, two lengths before Lemon Blossom. No bid for the winner.

LINDEN ENTRIES FOR TO-DAY.

It is to be regretted that the liberal purses offered by the Linden Park Bloodhorse Association do not attract a better class of horses. The entries for to-day's races are for the most part Clifton and Guttenberg "skates." Owners of small stables are very foolish not to enter their best horses and win what they can. Of course they are waiting for the Brooklyn meeting, and, of course, they ought to know that the waiting policy is a losing one.

TO HOLD A QUINQUENNIAL ASSEMBLY.

THE CONVENTION NEXT MONTH OF THE BIG BREW BENEVOLENT ORDER OF B'NAI B'RITH.

The great Hebrew benevolent fraternity known the world over as the Independent Order B'nai B'rith or "Sons of the Covenant" meets in National, and it may be said international, convention (as its membership now extends to Germany, Austria, Roumania, Palestine and Egypt) every five years and its next assembly will be held at Richmond, Va., according to the resolution of the last quinquennial meeting held in New-York, March, 1885, on June 1 and the days following. Representatives will be present from nearly all the states of the Union besides the foreign countries mentioned. The assembly is known according to the laws of the order as the Constitution Grand Lodge, and when in session has supreme legislative, judicial and executive powers. It is expected that the approaching meeting will be one of the most important ever held by the body, and that radical changes in the laws and ritual will be adopted and new features introduced. The frightful persecutions in Russia, the attempt to introduce religion into the Constitution of the United States, the Anti-Semitic crusades and other barbarous and intolerant measures which disgrace the enlightened spirit of civilization at the close of the nineteenth century will be made the subject of discussion.

The order of the Sons of the Covenant, better known by its Hebrew name, B'nai B'rith, is now nearly fifty years old, its first lodge having been instituted in New-York City in October, 1843. It has steadily grown in numbers and has at present a membership of nearly 30,000. Its benevolent and educational work, however, has extended to every community in the land and reaches with its active influence the far distant Orient. Its great work in America has been to assimilate the refugee and emigrant Hebrew from foreign lands to the laws and conditions of the United states and making intelligent and patriotic citizens. The order has its orphan asylums, homes for aged and infirm; its hospitals and manual schools, its special libraries like the Maimonides of this city. Some of these edifices, like those for example at Cleveland, Yonkers, New-Orleans and Atlanta, are splendid structures with every modern improvement.

Under the endowment laws existing in the seven District Grand Lodge jurisdictions in this country, upward of $500,000 is annually paid to widows and orphans of deceased members. For these and other charitable and educational objects $10,000,000 has been expended by the B'nai B'rith order since its foundation. The president of the fraternity is Julius Bien, of New-York, and the Executive Committee consists of M. Thalmessinger, of New-York, for the Eastern States; Isidor Rush, of St. Louis, for the Middle states; Joseph Hirsh, of Vicksburg, for the southern states; William Lowenstein, of Richmond, for the South Atlantic states; Edward Rubovitz, of Chicago, for the Northwestern states, and Joseph Bien, of San Francisco, for the Pacific states.

Among the most prominent members of the order in this and other states are Benjamin I. Peixotto, Myer S. Isaacs, Adolph L. Sanger, Jacob H. Schiff, Dr. K. Kohler, Joseph Koch, Myer Hellman, Morris Adler, Edward Lauterbach, William A. Gans, Joseph Fox, Leon Blum, Simon Wolf, Myer Salzberger, Josiah Cohen, Henry Greenebaum, Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, Dr. Isaac M. Wise, Dr. S. H. Sonneschein, Dr. B. Felsenthal, Joseph Abraham, Leo N. Levi, Dr. M. Sandfield, J. M. Mordecai, A. Hirsch and S. H. Sellgman.

The official organ of the order is "The Menorah Monthly," a magazine which is published in this city and edited by ex-Consul Peixotto, and which, besides representing the fraternity, is devoted to Hebrew literature, art and science.

The Clangor of an Alarm Bell

Close by, in the stillness of the night, could scarcely startle the ordinary individual more than do trifling noises the nervous invalid. But once the nerves are braced and the system invigorated with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, this abnormal sensitiveness is succeeded by a tranquillity not to be disturbed by trivial causes. Impaired digestion is a fertile cause of nervel weakness and unnatural mental gloom, and a vigorous renewal of the action of the stomach is one of the surest means of invigorating and quieting the nerves. Insomnia, or sleeplessness, a form of nervous disease, is unquestionably benefited by sedatives when it is prolonged or of frequent occurrence, but its permanent removal is more effectually achieved with the Bitters. This medicine is also signally efficacious for malaria, rheumatism, constipation, liver complaint, and torpidity of the kidneys and bladder.

THE TRACT SOCIETY MEETS.

ITS SIXTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS RECEIVED—WORK OF THE LAST YEAR—ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The sixty-fifth annual meeting of the American Tract Society was held in the chapel of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, Madison ave. and Twenty-fourth-st., yesterday morning. General O. O. Howard presided, in the absence of the president and vice-president. After the Rev. Dr. C. L. Thompson had led in prayer, the chairman called for the officers' reports. "Providence," said the secretary, the Rev. Dr. W. M. Pond, "has smiled upon the work of the society during the last year. All branches of its home and foreign operations have gone forward without interruption. Many colporteurs and other laborers have been blessed in their work; a goodly number of new books and tracts that promise to be widely and permanently useful have been issued; the measures taken to lessen the cost of the manufacturing and business departments of the society and to increase its efficacy are bearing good fruit, and the debt for remodelling the Tract House is being reduced."

After paying tribute to the virtues of the Rev. Dr. M. B. Anderson, of Rochester University; George H. Stuart, of Philadelphia; Judge Hooper C. Van Vorst, Bishop A. A. Reinke and Oliver B. Kingsbury, the five officers of the society who died since the last meeting, Dr. Rand spoke of the publishing department of the society. During the year, he said, ninety four new permanent publications had been added to the society's list. Of these, sixty two were in English, eighteen in German, two in Spanish, three in Italian, one in Swedish and eight in Bohemian. Thirty-seven were volumes and fifty-seven booklets and tracts in various styles. In addition to the new publications, many books and tracts were reissued during the year. The periodicals of the society were six in number, two of which were in German and four in English. "Four of these," continued Dr. Rand, "are illustrated; two are weekly and four monthly; three are for adults and families and three for children of various ages. The aggregate circulation of the periodicals is 2,413,600."

The whole number of publications at foreign missionary stations, approved by the society's publishing committee, and published wholly or in part by its funds granted for this purpose, is 4,584, including 788 volumes. Foreign missions of various evangelical denominations, generally cooperating in each field, have received donations from the society during the last year of $5,475 82 in money, and $2,782 in electrotypes. Six hundred and eighty-six thousand, five hundred and eleven dollars and seventy-nine cents have been given to foreign missions since the foundation of the society. In addition to this, the foreign fields have received $1,277 19 in home publications. According to the report of the Rev. Dr. J. M. Stephenson, 105 colporteurs were in the service of the society last year, distributed in thirty-four States and Territories. They circulated 103,013 volumes and addressed 4,413 social or public religious meetings. The benevolent department received from donations and legacies $75,772; from sales by colporteurs, $29,044, which, with $13,614 allowed to it as discount by the business department and $20,500 received from investments, makes a total of $140,910. It expended during the year $134,100. The business department, in charge of the Rev. Dr. J. L. Shearer, received from sales $171,677 48; from rents, $27,500 29; from sundries, $26,743 71; which, with a temporary loan of $25,000 and $6,762 83 in the treasury, makes a total of $257,750 27. It has expended in manufacturing, purchasing, and issuing publications, $175,126 30; for depositories, $27,986 75; for taxes, special repairs, and life interests, $26,731 20, and for sundries, $10,500, which, with the repayment of a temporary loan of $20,000, make a total of $264,414 57, leaving a balance of $3,334 30 in the treasury. The reports of the officers were supplemented by addresses from the Rev. Dr. Samuel Jessup, Beyrout, Syria, and M. Wyckoff, of Japan.

The following officers were elected: President, William I. Strong, of Washington; vice-president, General O. O. Howard; publishing committee, the Rev. Drs. W. M. Taylor and W. H. P. Faunce; distributing committee, Dr. W. N. Blakeman and John Noble Stearns; finance committee, Caleb B. Knevals and William A. Wheelock; other members of the executive committee, the Rev. William H. Rice, Dr. A. Mackay-Smith and John D. Cutler.

After passing a resolution to continue the celebration of the sixty-fifth anniversary of the society, next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, where the Rev. S. H. Kellogg will preach, the society was adjourned to meet next year.

PASTIME ATHLETES IN REBELLION.

James E. Sullivan has resigned the presidency from the Pastime Athletic Club, and that organization is upon the verge of disruption. Mr. Sullivan is secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union and a member of the schedule Committee. When dates were being assigned for the summer games of the various athletic clubs in New-York and its vicinity, Saturday, June 7, was given to the New-York Athletic Club, and a Saturday in August was assigned to the Pastime Athletic Club. This created much dissatisfaction among a certain element in the latter organization, the claim being made that partiality was being shown to the New-York Athletic Club. On Tuesday night there was an open revolt at the regular monthly meeting of the Pastime Club. A resolution was adopted to the effect that the picnic games of the Pastime Club should be held at Jones's Wood on June 7, thus conflicting with the games of the New-Yorks. This is in defiance of the regulations of the Amateur Athletic Union. Before the adoption of this resolution Daniel Bell, vice-president of the club, resigned, and after said Mr. Sullivan offered his resignation as president. The Pastime Club will undoubtedly be expelled by the union unless the action is reconsidered. The club has a membership of over 400 and is in a prosperous financial condition. Mr. Sullivan has been connected with it since its organization twelve years ago, and to his efforts the prosperity of the club is largely due. Of late the club has been making a league of amateur athletic clubs, and this, while giving it greater numerical strength, has tended to cause its degeneration otherwise.

TROUBLES OF BUSINESS MEN.

Colonel Joachim Maillard, importer and manufacturer of dress trimmings, at No. 90 Greene-st., has failed, and the sheriff has taken possession of his place of business under several executions. Colonel Maillard is one of the oldest and best known merchants in his line, having been in business forty-one years with never a failure before, of high social and business standing, and excellent character. He was formerly colonel of the 11th Regiment for several years, and is a war veteran. He was looked upon as being well off, worth at least $75,000, and owning his house, No. 34 East Sixtieth-st., valued at $45,000, mortgaged for $18,000. He formerly claimed a capital of $70,000. He has confessed judgments aggregating $19,070, in favor of the Ninth National Bank $4,016, Jacob Mayer $5,011 for borrowed money, and Kessler & Co. $10,043 on promissory notes. His liabilities are reported to be about $100,000.

Judge Lawrence, of the supreme Court, has given a decision in the suits brought by Abegg, Dacuiker & Co., Iselin, Neeser & Co., and other creditors of Samuel Lowenstein, manufacturer of neckwear and suspenders, formerly at 55 Broadway, wherein he adjudges the judgments confessed by Lowenstein, the general assignment made by him, and the transfer of accounts made to various parties, all fraudulent and to be set aside as void.

The schedules of Augustus P. Rockwell, furrier, at No. 731 Broadway, show nominal liabilities, $60,000, nominal assets, $22,067; actual assets, $11,012.

Charles C. Schultz, who lived with his wife Emelia at No. 4 Eldridge-st., was tried yesterday before Judge Fitzgerald on a charge of beating her to death, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the second degree. TO TEST THE IVES POOL BILL.

An attempt was made yesterday to obtain a ruling as to the constitutionality of the Ives Pool bill. W. F. Howe, before Judge Fitzgerald, argued yesterday on behalf of a demurrer to the indictment found against John J. Sullivan and others, accused of pool-selling. Assistant District-Attorney Goff argued against the demurrer. Judge Fitzgerald reserved his decision.

APPEALING TO THE BOARD.

PRIMARY TEACHERS WANT INSTRUCTION IN NEW METHODS OF STUDY.

The Board of Education yesterday appointed William J. Lamb trustee of the Thirteenth Ward, and Augustine Healy for the Twentieth Ward. A communication was received from the Primary Teachers' Association, asking for more adequate provision for training teachers in new methods of study. It says in part:

The new course of study which went into effect in February is substantially a "manual-training" course, involving many changes in the methods of the teacher in the presentation of old subjects, as well as new subjects, requiring careful study on the part of the teacher of both the detail of the subject itself and of its correct presentation to children. We desire to do all that can be done by us, with suitable opportunity, to keep the schools of the city of New-York in the van of progress; and we feel satisfied that any suggestions, coming from the teachers themselves, of what we deem necessary toward accomplishing this result will be carefully and sympathetically considered by your Board.

The scope of the work laid down in the new course is very extensive, when examined in its detail by the skilled teacher; and to meet its demands in the shortest possible time, we deem the establishment of a school of instruction for the class-teachers the best solution of our present difficulties. We believe that in this direction will be found the truest economy in the interests of the children, no matter what may be the cost of the establishment of such a school. Within recent years many valuable developments in the science and art of teaching have taken place; and such a school as we advocate would place within the reach of every teacher the opportunity to study the latest and best methods, as well as their underlying principles. We therefore respectfully petition your Board to consider the advisability of establishing a school of methods for teachers, the classes of which shall be so arranged as to meet on Saturdays, or on other days, as may be deemed most practicable, during appropriate hours not interfering with the present school day. The plan of such a school should be so framed as to give a full corps of experts in each of the several departments of the curriculum, sufficient in number to handle classes of teachers of not more than fifty in number.

We have already, at our own expense, made some effort, more or less successful, to partially accomplish what we now ask your Board to place under satisfactory and adequate conditions of success. Under the direction of City Superintendent Jasper, the assistant superintendents have nobly aided every effort thus made by us; and we feel that it would be unworthy of us if we did not, in this petition, place upon record our fullest recognition of the disinterestedness and devotion of these overworked public servants, and our appreciation of the infinite value of the professional help given by each and all of them in their visits and lectures.

The report is signed by Miss M. A. Macovern, president, and Mrs. J. E. Archer, secretary, of the Primary Teachers' Association. It was referred to the Committee on the Course of Studies.

A resolution, presented by Commissioner Gerard, in relation to non-resident teachers, was referred to the Committee on By-Laws.

EX-ALDERMAN SAYLES REAPPEARS.

AN EFFORT TO BE MADE TO RECOVER THE FORFEITED $25,000.

Ex-Alderman Henry L. Sayles yesterday finished his other more important business and found time to go to the District Attorney's office and surrender himself and give a bond for $25,000 to await trial for bribery. He and his brother "Sol" were at the General Sessions building at the hour of the opening of court. The bond had been prepared on Monday, when Sayles paid his first visit to the office. "Sol" Sayles was the bondsman, and the bond was of the same amount as that which he gave in 1886, which was forfeited in October of that year. He was apparently not afraid that the ex-Alderman would run away from a trial this time.

Henry L. Sayles was well dressed and cheerful. He would not tell where he had passed the two days since he appeared and disappeared. He said that a business engagement caused his absence, and it was said that he had been in New-Jersey. He would not discuss his experiences in Canada, but gave his address in this city as No. 33 West Thirty-fifth-st.

The bond was approved and the affidavits were sworn to before Judge Fitzgerald, who discharged Sayles. An application will probably be made to set aside the judgment under which the $25,000 paid under the old bond was forfeited to the city. The application must be made on a certificate by the District Attorney that the prosecution had lost no rights by the delay, and Mr. Fellows has not yet consented to sign such a certificate.

THE ROPE CARRIED HIM TO HIS DEATH.

Andrew J. Murray, jr., and Patrick Fitzgerald were putting up an elevator at No. 33 Jay-st. at noon yesterday. Both were on the top of the elevator car, which rested on the first floor. They were fastening the rope that ran to the top of the building, five stories above. To the other end of this was attached the heavy balance weight. In some way the king bolt that held the rope to the elevator car became detached. Immediately the weight began to descend and the rope to rise with fearful rapidity, carrying the men with it. At the second story Fitzgerald let go and fell upon the sill. Murray was carried to the top of the shaft, where his hold was wrench loose and he fell five stories, being instantly killed. He was twenty-one years old and lived at No. 30 Vandam-st. Fitzgerald was taken to Chambers Street Hospital. He received only a few minor injuries.

AN ATTACHMENT AGAINST QUINLAN.

Judge Lawrence in the supreme Court yesterday granted an attachment against the property in this state of Washington Quinlan, the broker who disappeared so mysteriously a few days ago. The attachment was issued in a suit brought by Ellen Quinlan, to recover the sum of $15,000, which she alleges she intrusted to Quinlan on September 22, 1889, for investment. She declares that Quinlan has converted the money to his own use.

No news of Mr. Quinlan was received by his friends yesterday. The amount of his liabilities is not known, but all his outstanding contracts at the Stock Exchange appear to have been settled. The differences are not expected to exceed $75,000. Whether they will be arranged in a short time is considered a question which can only be determined by his reappearance.

MASTER STEAM FITTERS IN CONVENTION.

The sessions of the second annual convention of the Master Steam and Hot Water Fitters' Association of the United States were continued yesterday at the Park Avenue Hotel. As the standing committees were not ready to report, the morning session was devoted to hearing addresses from members upon the conditions of trade throughout the country. In the afternoon the Committee on Prices reported in favor of charging outside consumers 20 per cent higher prices than those engaged in the trade. The question was laid over, other reports were received, and then the convention listened to an address by J. H. Tuttle, of Boston, on "Methods of Steam Heating." The convention will continue its sessions to-day, and on Friday the association will make a trip down the Bay and up the Hudson as the guests of Fairbanks & Co.

TO INSPECT THE NEW DRYDOCK.

Captain Lester A. Beardslee, commander of the receiving ship Vermont; Chief Engineer Albert W. Morley, Civil Engineer M. E. Endicott and Naval Constructor John F. Hanscom, the special board appointed to make a superficial examination of the new timber drydock, which is to be opened and turned over to the Government on Friday with official ceremonies, began their work yesterday. They are to determine whether or not the contractors have fully complied with the specifications in the matter of material, dimensions of dock, style of pumping engines, fit of caisson, etc. To make sure that the proper kind of material should be used and that it should be properly put together, Civil Engineer P. C. Asserson, of the Yards and Docks Department, was assigned to supervise the work during the entire time of its building.
