THE BANK STATEMENT.

Saturday, May 17—p. m.

By the operations of the New-York Sub-Treasury in the week ended last evening, which included the receipt of $164,000 for exchange on other Sub-Treasuries and the payment of $961,405 for purchased bonds, the New-York banks lost $380,691 cash. To-day's bank statement of the week's averages shows a gain of $514,800 cash. Following our estimate of a week ago, that the banks then held about $1,000,000 less cash than the amount reported as the average of that week, to-day's statement indicates net receipts from the interior of nearly $2,000,000 and actual cash holdings at the close of business yesterday of about $500,000 greater than the sum reported in the statement. The loans were contracted $1,521,800. The decline of $44,400 in deposits is $963,000 smaller decrease than the other changes call for, and therefore the statement results in a gain to the surplus reserve of only $525,900, and leaves it at $2,012,875, against $14,082,325 May 18, 1889; $27,705,350 May 19, 1888, and $1,657,200 May 21, 1887.

The following are the comparative statements of May 10 and May 17:

	May 10.	May 17.	Differences.
