MUSICAL NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Madame Fursch-Madi has been decorated and appointed honorary member and officer of the Academy des Beaux Arts, in Paris. She has been engaged for a number of concerts and oratorio performances in the United States under the management of L. M. Ruben, and will arrive in this country early in October.

Madame Albani, who has been engaged by Abbey & Grau, will sing in their Chicago season, beginning November 13. She has recently sung with great success at the state concerts, Buckingham Pallace, and before the German Emperor in a musicale at Lord Salisbury's house. She will sing next spring in this country in concerts.

Under the management of R. E. Johnston, Ovide Musin will this season make his sixth American tour. M. Musin will be supported by an excellent company of artists, including Juliette Folville, who is well known in Europe, and who will then appear in this country for the first time. Mlle. Folville is only twenty years old, yet she will conduct the full orchestra of seventy pieces. Others in the company are such well-known artists as Inez Parmater, mezzo soprano; Georges Dupuis, tenor, who for several years has been a leading tenor in grand opera in Paris; Emil Sanger, basso, who is well known in this city, having sung at the Metropolitan Opera House for three seasons; Eduard Scharf, pianist and musical director.

Both French and Italian Opera will be seen in the coming season at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Among the private entertainments given in London there is none more sought after than the Ballad Singers' concerts at the Suffolk Galleries, Pall Mall. At the last April concert, two out of three of the performers were Americans.

For the first time in America Carl Streitmann, the popular tenor, will to-night sing the grand aria from "The Rustic Cavalier," which has made a great hit in Europe. Mr. Streitmann begins his engagement in the Madison Square Garden Amphitheatre this evening where Theodore Thomas's orchestra continues to attract large and fashionable audiences. Mr. Thomas will give "Composers' Nights" this week and special programmes of popular classic and operatic music.

THE FALL RIVER CLOTH MARKET.

Fall River, Mass., July 25 (Special).—The artificial prop has been knocked from under the print cloth market and the price has fallen during the week to 2 7-8 cents for regular goods. There are few hopes that a recovery will take place, for some weeks at least, and brokers predict that the price will go down still further to 2 3-4 cents. If the present large stock were out of the way manufacturers could see some hope in the future, but with nearly 1,000,000 pieces to overcome they are inclined to look for no break until the opening of the fall trade at least. The sales during the last week were light, but the stock was reduced somewhat by the large deliveries, and most of the local corporations are well supplied with raw material, there being 85,000 bales of cotton on hand as compared with 40,000 bales last year. Most of the stock was purchased when prices were a cent higher than now. The weekly cloth statement follows:

Production, 200,000 pieces; deliveries, 227,000 pieces; stock, 421,000 pieces, all 64s. Last week's stocks, 448,000 pieces; sales, 97,000 pieces; odds, 41,000 pieces; 60x56s, 1,000 pieces; 60 x64s, 55,000 pieces; spots, 61,000 pieces; futures, 36,000 pieces; sales for weekly deliveries, July, 160,000 pieces; August, 134,000 pieces; September, 58,000 pieces; October, 20,000 pieces; November, 12,000 pieces; December, 9,000 pieces. Prices, 2 9-16 cents for 60x56s; 2 7-8 cents for 64x64s. The market is quiet.

MR. ST. GAUDENS'S STATUE OF LOGAN.

Chicago, July 25 (Special).—A statue of John A. Logan will adorn the entrance of Jackson Park near Sixty-third-st. before long. Soon after the death of General Logan, in 1887, the Illinois Legislature passed an act appropriating $50,000 for a monument, to be erected at such point in Chicago or elsewhere in the State of Illinois, as may be selected by his widow. The Commissioners were authorized to contract for the monument and to receive subscriptions for it. Judge Blodgett, one of the monument commissioners, said that Mr. St. Gaudens is expected to have the statue ready to place by March or April of next year.

TO HOLD ALLIANCE CAMP-MEETINGS.

Topeka, Kan., July 25 (Special)—The lack of interest shown in the People's Party by the rank and file of the Alliance has resulted in arrangements for holding several camp-meetings in Kansas the first week in September, one in each Congress District. Each will last for at least three days. Large grounds have been prepared for the accommodation of those who attend, and tents will be furnished for such of the brethren as desire to camp out. The principal attractions advertised for the Ottawa meeting are L. L. Polk, president of the National Farmers' Alliance, and Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota.

TO BRING A CHARGE AGAINST "THE" ALLEN.

"The" Allen, proprietor of the barroom at Bleecker-st. and South Fifth-ave., who was stabbed by the Italian John Carrero, on July 10, appeared in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday to press his complaint. Colonel James D. McClelland appeared as counsel for Carrero, and said that he desired to make a counter charge against Allen; he had just been called into the case by Carrero's friends, and wanted a short delay. Allen was ready to go on. Justice Kelly adjourned the case until Friday.
